British-French Action 'Error'

President Has No Plan To Call Special Congress Session

By JOHN SCALI

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said Wednesday night the United States will steer clear of "involvement" in the Middle East fighting, will strive to localize it and end "this tormentng problem."

In a television-radio address to the nation, the President said it was an "error" for British, Frances and Israel to launch their attacks on Egypt, though he asserted they had "grave and repeated provocations."

He announced that the United States, having been vetoed by the British and French in the United Nations Security Council, would now turn to the U. N. General Assembly, "where the opinion of the world can be brought to bear" in an effort to stop the hostilities.

Even as the President spoke, the Security Council voted to call the General Assembly into session within hours. The vote was 7-2, with Britain and France dissenting but unable under the parliamentary circumstances to wield a velo again.

Shortly before the President broadcast his pledge of no American "involvement" in the hostilities, Adlai Stevenson, Democratic presidential nominee, announced he had telegraphed Eisenhower expressing the hope "that you will not commit us to any precipitate military action."

Not Dictated

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen the President's "no involvement" remarks were not dictated in any way by Stevenson's wire because the President "never heard" of the telegram before beginning his speech at 6 p.m., CST.

Eisenhower ruled out any special session of Congress to deal with the Middle East emergency but promised to keep in close contact with congressional leaders on swift-breaking developments.

The President, seemingly grave and tense, laid down this government's policy in a 15-minute address from his study which was beamed simultaneously around the world by the Voice of America.

The President had been reported angry and shocked at the British-French decision to attack Egypt, but his speech Wednesday night avoided any harsh denunciation of them or Israel. He did make clear he opposes this resort to force.

'Error'

"We believe these actions to have been taken in error," he said, "for we do not accept the use of force as a wise or proper instrument for the settlement of international disputes."

Eisenhower indicated that France made up its mind before Britain did that an attack on Egypt was necessary to protect "vital interests." The President said:

"The direct relations of Egypt with both Israel and France kept worsening to a point at which first Israel — then France — and Great Britain also — determined that, in their judgment there could be no protection of their vital interests without resort to force."

The mild language Eisenhower used in criticizing the British and French governments clearly demonstrated his anxiety to preserve the Western alliances which are the foundation of American policy.

As if to emphasize this, Winthrop Aldrich, American ambassador to London, said in a speech there that "the hope of the present age and the future rests on the continuance of a strong and constructive Anglo-American friendship."

No Criticism

Eisenhower also avoided any strong criticism of Israel, whose forces touched off the Middle East war scare by sweeping into Egypt's Sinai Desert on Monday.

Israel has felt "increasing anxiety for its safety" in the region, he said, partly because of Egypt's "misguided policy" of buying huge quantities of arms from Russia.

"We have considered it a basic matter of United States policy," he said, "to support the new state of Israel and — at the same time —to strengthen our bonds both with Israel and with the Arab countries."

During the day official sources reported that economic measures were being drafted for use against Israel in an effort to get her to pull her troops out of Egypt. It was indicated these might include stoppage of foreign aid. But Eisenhower's speech gave no hint of any such steps.

In expressing his readiness to turn to the U.N. for action, Eisenhower at the same time said he is "ever more deeply convinced" of the need to further develop and strengthen the international peace*making role of the organization.*

British-French Troops May Be Landed Today

Seizure Of Suez Canal Is Attackers' Prime Goal

EGYPTIANS LOSE TWO FRIGATES

LONDON (Thursday) (AP)—British and French air and sea forces have punched home attacks on Egypt in the opening round of their offensive to seize the Suez Canal.

These apparently were the softening-up preliminaries for troop landings that may come Thursday along the 103-mile desert ditch.

The assault on Egypt opened late Wednesday in aerial bombardments.

In this round, Egypt has lost two naval vessels and damage to airfields under British-French bombing.

The entry of the British and French imposed war from the West upon the four-day-old war of the Middle East between the invading Israelis and the Egyptians.

Multi-Front War

And Egypt thus was in the midst of a multi-front war, vowing to fight off both the Israelis and the combined British and French.

Israel reported new gains Thursday on its westward strike across the Sinai Desert to seal off the Egyptian-held Gaza strip on the Mediterranean. Its forces reported meeting two full Egyptian divisions on that tack.

Jet bombers from the British-French joint command on Cyprus bombed Egyptian airfields and a British cruiser sank an Egyptian frigate in the Gulf of Suez at the Red Sea end of the canal.

The Israelis disabled and captured another frigate in a battle in the eastern Mediterranean.

Nine Jets Downed

Israeli sources said Israeli troops had partially encircled the refugee-crowded Gaza strip and had shot down nine Egyptian jets during their two-day slash into the Sinai Peninsula, including an advanced type Soviet-built MIG17. There were reports one thrust carried the Israelis to within 10 miles of the canal.

The Israelis' announced aim was to cut off the 28 by 8-mile Gaza strip from Egypt and take it over. There was no clear official account of the land fighting. One Israeli source said Israeli troops met about 20,000 Egyptians on their spurt across the Sinai Peninsula but no details were given of what happened.

By Egyptian account from Cairo Radio, British jet bombers used high explosive and incendiary bombs on Cairo twice and on the great seaport of Alexandria and three cities in the Suez Canal Zone. The British denied Cairo was blasted.

Tel Aviv Has Alerts

Cairo had six air raid alarms Wednesday. Tel Aviv had three air raid alerts, but no planes appeared.

One British pilot who returned to his Cyprus base said there was no Egyptian fighter plane opposition.

In the political field, meantime, denunciation of the British-French use of force mounted throughout the world.

The British and French were plainly shaken by the outburst of indignant world opinion, some of it coming from powerful newspapers close to home.

Besides the announced purposes of keeping the Suez Canal open, the British and French said another objective of their assault on Egypt was to keep the Israelis and Egyptians apart and prevent further war. Some thought the effect might topple Egypt's President Nasser.

The British Air Ministry announced late Wednesday night that RAF aircraft attacked Egyptian Air Force fields in Egypt, using four-jet Vickers Valiants and two-jet Canberras in the raids.

Deny Cairo Attacked

Cairo Radio said five Egyptian cities, including Cairo, were bombed. The British denied Cairo was blasted.

Sinking of the Egyptian frigate by the 8,800-ton British cruiser was the first naval engagement announced by the British.

The whole British-French operation began Wednesday at 6:40 p.m. Cairo time (11:40 a.m. EST).

The Air Ministry statement mentioned neither opposition nor losses. Compared with World War II bomber attacks, it was not a large operation, a spokesman said.

No Incendiary Bombs

His statement disputed the Cairo Radio broadcast that incendiary bombs were used.

Britain's Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd disputed Egyptian claims that Cairo was bombed. "It is quite untrue that Cairo has been bombed," he told the House of Commons.

Cairo broadcasts said that at 7 p.m., 20 minutes after the beginning of the assault, Cairo was bombed by British Jets without loss of life.

At 8:50 p.m., the broadcasts said, bombs hit Cairo, the capital city of three million; the great port of Alexandria; and the Canal Zone cities of Port Said, Ismailia and Suez. They said seven persons were killed in Cairo.

Lloyd's denials of the Cairo Radio communiques came in winding up a bitter, tense debate in the House of Commons.

The government of Prime Minister Eden was openly accused of breaking the world peace.

Prime Minister Eden staked the life of his government on the action.

He asked for a vote of confidence in the House of Commons Thursday.

Crew Surrenders

The 1,000-ton Egyptian frigate Ibraham Awal appeared off Haifa early Wednesday and began shelling the port. It was engaged in battle by Israeli warships and planes, and the Israelis said its 250-man crew surrendered. The frigate was towed into port by tugs, an AP correspondent at the scene reported.

The Egyptian command denied the ship was captured and said it was scuttled by the captain when engine trouble developed.

Virtually the entire Arab world was reported mobilizing, presumably to help Egypt. Mobilization measures were reported in effect in Jordan, Syria and Saudi Arabia. Iraq declared its readiness to come to Egypt's aid. Lebanon declared a state of emergency.

Full U.N. Session Is Voted

. . . On Egypt Crisis

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The Security Council overrode British and French objections Wednesday night and called the U. N. General Assembly into extraordinary session to halt the fighting in Egypt.

U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold quickly issued a call for a meeting of the 76-nation Assembly at 4 p.m. CST Thursday.

The council vote was 7 to 2.

Joining the United States and the Soviet Union in calling for the special session under the "uniting for peace" plan were Yugoslavia, Cuba, Peru, Nationalist China and Iran.

France and Britain voted against it. Belgium and Australia abstained.

The permanent delegates of the 76 U. N. members under this action will be called into session within hours to take up the Middle East crisis.

Objections

Britain and France fought the move to the end with a series of objections and declarations that its adoption would have the "gravest consequences."

As they spoke British and French planes were carrying out raids against military targets in Egypt.

The United States, which split from its Western partners Tuesday in disagreement over their policy of using force in Egypt, approved the plan, put before the council by Joza Brilej of Yugoslavia. U. S. delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. said the United States believed every resource should be exhausted for peace.

The 11th regular assembly is set to meet Nov. 12 but some delegates here felt the situation was too serious to permit delay.

'Sidetrack'

Sir Pierson Dixon, Britain, attempted to sidetrack the resolution calling for the assembly. He objected it was out of order but was voted down. Only four delegations, Australia, Belgium, France and Britain, supported this procedural move. Cuba, Iran, Peru, the Soviet Union, Yugoslavia and the United States voted against Dixon's objection and Nationalist China abstained.

Brilej's resolution was not subject to a veto in the council, where Britain and France twice Tuesday blocked resolutions calling for a cease-fire in Egypt and withdrawal of Israeli forces to their home boundaries.

Britain told the council that the western armed intervention in Egypt will end "as soon as the threat to peace no longer exists" and rejected charges by Egypt and other council members of "aggression."

British delegate Sir Pierson Dixon called on the 11-nation council to support the western occupation of the Suez Canal zone as a "temporary" move to restore order in the area and effect the withdrawal of Israeli troops.

Adlai Charges U.S. Is Again On 'Brink'

Stevenson Blames Ike Foreign Policies For Mideast Crisis

By ART EDSON

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Adlai Stevenson said Wednesday night that "the world is on the brink of war again" because President Eisenhower's "foreign policies in the Middle East have been disastrous."

Stevenson said:

"I am glad that in his (President Eisenhower's) broadcast he assured us that he has no present intention of calling Congress into special session or involving the U.S. in these hostilities."

But Stevenson repeated the complaint he had made earlier in New York that in his opinion the Eisenhower administration was responsible for the troubled Middle East situation.

Stevenson was cheered many times during his address at Hunt Armory. As he arrived on the platform, the audience gave him a five-minute ovation.

The Democratic presidential candidate came here, trying to win Pennsylvania's 32 electorial votes, after what had been one of the most hectic days of his hectic campaign.

Shortly before he left New York City after a rain-soaked day he issued the text of a telegram he had sent President Eisenhower. In this he said he hoped that the President would not be led into any hasty actions involving the use of American armed forces in the Middle East.

"Even though the President could not have known of my telegram at the time he went on the air," Stevenson said, "I am glad that in his broadcast he assured us that he has no present intentions of calling Congress into special session or involving the U.S in these hostilities."

'Good Will'

But, Stevenson continued, "there was no evidence whatever in the President's speech that he knew what was wrong or would have the courage to do what is right—if it is anything more than words of good will."

Stevenson said he has asked his campaign staff to arrange for television time Thursday night so that he can more fully explain his stand on the Middle East.

Later, Stevenson's press secretary Clayton Fritchey said that he considered the President's speech Wednesday night a political talk and he would request free time on all networks for Stevenson.

Chief Stephen Adley of the Pittsburgh Fire Department said 12,500 persons were at the Stevenson rally despite the late hour.

At one point in his speech, Stevenson said:

"Now the concern of Americans must not be politics but peace.

'Support'

"As the leader of the Democratic party I ask your support in efforts to end the war between Egypt and Israel.

"But I cannot and will not support the policies that have plunged the U.S. into a shattering diplomatic disaster."

Everything fouled up for Stevenson Wednesday. Rain washed out plans for a mammoth outdoor rally in New York City, and so delayed his departure that he missed completely a scheduled speech over a statewide television network here.

Joseph S. Clark, Democratic candidate for U. S. Senate from Pennsylvania, delivered the speech that was telecast.

Stevenson raced in behind a motorcycle escort — in downtown Pittsburgh he was doing 40 miles per hour — to address a crowd in Hunt armory that was still there waiting for him at 10:30 p.m., an hour after he was scheduled to talk.

Gratified

After saying he was gratified that the President was not calling Congress into session, Stevenson said:

"I am not gratified, though, by the fact that the President failed in his broadcast to acknowledge that his foreign policies in the Middle East have been disastrous;

"That we have not won by this erratic, vaccilating policy the confidence of Egypt which is dealing with Russia and the Arab states;

"That we have lost the confidence of beleaguered Israel surrounded by hostile neighbors and now evidently desperate;

"That thanks to our bewildered appeasements and provocations the Russian Communists have obtained a foothold in the Middle East the czars could not get in centuries;

"That we have alienated our allies, our oldest and strongest allies, Britain and France;

"And finally, that the world is on the brink of war again, and we find ourselves on the side of Col. Nasser, the Egyptian dictator, and the Soviet Union, when Communist policy has for years been trying to divide the great western allies."

Snow, Rains Wind, Colder On Thursday

Some precipitation, frozen and otherwise, will be more or less general in the state by Thursday night, the forecaster said.

Welcome as the moisture will be, conditions with it won't be too pleasant. Colder temperatures and strong winds will be part of the weather package.

Snow is forecast for the west, with rain or snow in the central and northeast through Thursday night. Scattered thunderstorms were to hit the southeast late Thursday.

Strong southerly winds were predicted to shift to northerly and spread over state by Thursday night.

Highs Thursday will range from 50 in the west to 60s in the east, the weather bureau said.

Highest temperature in the state Wednesday was 68 at Chadron, contrasted to a top of 51 in Omaha. Scottsbluff had 25 for the coldest low. Lincoln had a high of 60 and a low of 35 Wednesday.

'Aggressors'

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government branded England and France as aggressors and demanded the immediate withdrawal of their forces from Egypt.

The Kremlin condemned Israel's invasion of Egyptian territory as a "calculated pretext" for Britain and France to take over the Suez Canal.

Small NWU Sorority Blaze Highlights Quiet Halloween

A small blaze which started in the rear of a Nebraska Wesleyan sorority house, breaking up an impromptu costume party, provided the only challenge to a comparatively calm Halloween Wednesday night.

The fire started in the back room of the Delta Zeta sorority at 4942 Madison when pipes leading from the incinerator became hot and set the porch roof afire.

According to the Delta Zeta group, the smoke from the fire drifted into the living room where the girls were beginning a costume party. Amid a scramble among the girls to retrieve their valuables, the fire department was called.

Fire department authorities said the damage was not extensive.

Earlier in the evening another small fire—the first call in the annual Halloween run for police and fire officials—was prompted by a flaring jack-o-lantern in the front window of the Robert E. Peterson home at 1748 Euclid.

Neighbors immediately extinguished the flames, and no damage was done.

Typical complaints of youths tossing eggs at cars, setting off fire works, opening water hydrants and soaping windows filtered through the police department switchboard.

However, according to Police Joe Carroll, damage to property this year was small, and the number of calls totaled less than 35 this year compared with nearly 75 last year.

Water hydrants were tapped at 42nd and X, 52nd and Vine and 1st and A, Carroll reported, and five boys were apprehended in connection with the pranks. All admitted they had opened the hydrants, he said, and were turned over to the custody of their parents.

A dummy, shabbily-dressed in old clothes and a battered hat, was flopped across the Havelock underpass, causing a number of motorists to detour carefully around the life-like object.

Two boys from northeast Lincoln, police authorities said, were apprehended after pulling a knife on some small children, demanding the fruits of their "trick or treat" campaign.

INFORMATION OPERATOR HAS A QUESTION

The long arm of coincidence and Halloween combined to startle a Lincoln telephone operator and a reporter Wednesday night.

The reporter, asking the operator for information about a Lincoln address mentioned that there was a small jack-o-lantern blaze at 1748 Euclid.

"Why," the operator exclaimed when the reporter mentioned the address, "that's my house. What happened?"

Explaining that the fire was very small, immediately extinguished by neighbors, the reporter heard the operator sigh with relief.

"What happened to my dog,?" she asked.

The newsman assured her the dog had not stirred from his comfortable position on the living room rug.

The permanent delegates of the 76 U. N. members under this action will be called into session within hours to take up the Middle East crisis.

Objections

Britain and France fought the move to the end with a series of objections and declarations that its adoption would have the "gravest consequences."

As they spoke British and French planes were carrying out raids against military targets in Egypt.

The United States, which split from its Western partners Tuesday in disagreement over their policy of using force in Egypt, approved the plan, put before the council by Joza Brilej of Yugoslavia. U. S. delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. said the United States believed every resource should be exhausted for peace.

The 11th regular assembly is set to meet Nov. 12 but some delegates here felt the situation was too serious to permit delay.

'Sidetrack'

Sir Pierson Dixon, Britain, attempted to sidetrack the resolution calling for the assembly. He objected it was out of order but was voted down. Only four delegations, Australia, Belgium, France and Britain, supported this procedural move. Cuba, Iran, Peru, the Soviet Union, Yugoslavia and the United States voted against Dixon's objection and Nationalist China abstained.

Brilej's resolution was not subject to a veto in the council, where Britain and France twice Tuesday blocked resolutions calling for a cease-fire in Egypt and withdrawal of Israeli forces to their home boundaries.

Britain told the council that the western armed intervention in Egypt will end "as soon as the threat to peace no longer exists" and rejected charges by Egypt and other council members of "aggression."

British delegate Sir Pierson Dixon called on the 11-nation council to support the western occupation of the Suez Canal zone as a "temporary" move to restore order in the area and effect the withdrawal of Israeli troops.

Adlai Charges U.S. Is Again On 'Brink'

Stevenson Blames Ike Foreign Policies For Mideast Crisis

By ART EDSON

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Adlai Stevenson said Wednesday night that "the world is on the brink of war again" because President Eisenhower's "foreign policies in the Middle East have been disastrous."

Stevenson said:

"I am glad that in his (President Eisenhower's) broadcast he assured us that he has no present intention of calling Congress into special session or involving the U.S. in these hostilities."

But Stevenson repeated the complaint he had made earlier in New York that in his opinion the Eisenhower administration was responsible for the troubled Middle East situation.

Stevenson was cheered many times during his address at Hunt Armory. As he arrived on the platform, the audience gave him a five-minute ovation.

The Democratic presidential candidate came here, trying to win Pennsylvania's 32 electorial votes, after what had been one of the most hectic days of his hectic campaign.

Shortly before he left New York City after a rain-soaked day he issued the text of a telegram he had sent President Eisenhower. In this he said he hoped that the President would not be led into any hasty actions involving the use of American armed forces in the Middle East.

"Even though the President could not have known of my telegram at the time he went on the air," Stevenson said, "I am glad that in his broadcast he assured us that he has no present intentions of calling Congress into special session or involving the U.S. in these hostilities."

'Good Will'

But, Stevenson continued, "there was no evidence whatever in the President's speech that he knew what was wrong or would have the courage to do what is right—if it is anything more than words of good will."

Stevenson said he has asked his campaign staff to arrange for television time Thursday night so that he can more fully explain his stand on the Middle East.

Later, Stevenson's press secretary Clayton Fritchey said that he considered the President's speech Wednesday night a political talk and he would request free time on all networks for Stevenson.

Chief Stephen Adley of the Pittsburgh Fire Department said 12,500 persons were at the Stevenson rally despite the late hour.

At one point in his speech, Stevenson said:

"Now the concern of Americans must not be politics but peace.

'Support'

"As the leader of the Democratic party I ask your support in efforts to end the war between Egypt and Israel.

"But I cannot and will not support the policies that have plunged the U.S. into a shattering diplomatic disaster."

Everything fouled up for Stevenson Wednesday. Rain washed out plans for a mammoth outdoor rally in New York City, and so delayed his departure that he missed completely a scheduled speech over a statewide television network here.

Joseph S. Clark, Democratic candidate for U. S. Senate from Pennsylvania, delivered the speech that was telecast.

Stevenson raced in behind a motorcycle escort — in downtown Pittsburgh he was doing 40 miles per hour — to address a crowd in Hunt armory that was still there waiting for him at 10:30 p.m., an hour after he was scheduled to talk.

Gratified

After saying he was gratified that the President was not calling Congress into session, Stevenson said:

"I am not gratified, though, by the fact that the President failed in his broadcast to acknowledge that his foreign policies in the Middle East have been disastrous;

"That we have not won by this erratic, vaccilating policy the confidence of Egypt which is dealing with Russia and the Arab states;

"That we have lost the confidence of beleaguered Israel surrounded by hostile neighbors and now evidently desperate;

"That thanks to our bewildered appeasements and provocations the Russian Communists have obtained a foothold in the Middle East the czars could not get in centuries;

"That we have alienated our allies, our oldest and strongest allies, Britain and France;

"And finally, that the world is on the brink of war again, and we find ourselves on the side of Col. Nasser, the Egyptian dictator, and the Soviet Union, when Communist policy has for years been trying to divide the great western allies."

Snow, Rains Wind, Colder On Thursday

Some precipitation, frozen and otherwise, will be more or less general in the state by Thursday night, the forecaster said.

Welcome as the moisture will be, conditions with it won't be too pleasant. Colder temperatures and strong winds will be part of the weather package.

Snow is forecast for the west, with rain or snow in the central and northeast through Thursday night. Scattered thunderstorms were to hit the southeast late Thursday.

Strong southerly winds were predicted to shift to northerly and spread over state by Thursday night.

Highs Thursday will range from 50 in the west to 60s in the east, the weather bureau said.

Highest temperature in the state Wednesday was 68 at Chadron, contrasted to a top of 51 in Omaha. Scottsbluff had 25 for the coldest low. Lincoln had a high of 60 and a low of 35 Wednesday.

'Aggressors'

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government branded England and France as aggressors and demanded the immediate withdrawal of their forces from Egypt.

The Kremlin condemned Israel's invasion of Egyptian territory as a "calculated pretext" for Britain and France to take over the Suez Canal.

Small NWU Sorority Blaze Highlights Quiet Halloween

A small blaze which started in the rear of a Nebraska Wesleyan sorority house, breaking up an impromptu costume party, provided the only challenge to a comparatively calm Halloween Wednesday night.

The fire started in the back room of the Delta Zeta sorority at 4942 Madison when pipes leading from the incinerator became hot and set the porch roof afire.

According to the Delta Zeta group, the smoke from the fire drifted into the living room where the girls were beginning a costume party. Amid a scramble among the girls to retrieve their valuables, the fire department was called.

Fire department authorities said the damage was not extensive.

Earlier in the evening another small fire—the first call in the annual Halloween run for police and fire officials—was prompted by a flaring jack-o-lantern in the front window of the Robert E. Peterson home at 1748 Euclid.

Neighbors immediately extinguished the flames, and no damage was done.

Typical complaints of youths tossing eggs at cars, setting off fire works, opening water hydrants and soaping windows filtered through the police department switchboard.

However, according to Police Joe Carroll, damage to property this year was small, and the number of calls totaled less than 35 this year compared with nearly 75 last year.

Water hydrants were tapped at 42nd and X, 52nd and Vine and 1st and A, Carroll reported, and five boys were apprehended in connection with the pranks. All admitted they had opened the hydrants, he said, and were turned over to the custody of their parents.

A dummy, shabbily-dressed in old clothes and a battered hat, was flopped across the Havelock underpass, causing a number of motorists to detour carefully around the life-like object.

Two boys from northeast Lincoln, police authorities said, were apprehended after pulling a knife on some small children, demanding the fruits of their "trick or treat" campaign.

INFORMATION OPERATOR HAS A QUESTION

The long arm of coincidence and Halloween combined to startle a Lincoln telephone operator and a reporter Wednesday night.

The reporter, asking the operator for information about a Lincoln address mentioned that there was a small jack-o-lantern blaze at 1748 Euclid.

"Why," the operator exclaimed when the reporter mentioned the address, "that's my house. What happened?"

Explaining that the fire was very small, immediately extinguished by neighbors, the reporter heard the operator sigh with relief.

"What happened to my dog,?" she asked.

The Weather

NEBRASKA: Occasional rain or snow west Thursday, snow northwest and rain or snow central with scattered thunderstorms east Thursday night. Colder west Thursday and Thursday night and east Friday. Strong shifting winds northwest spreading over the state Thursday and Thursday night. High Thursday 50 west to lower 60s east.

N.Y. Stocks Decline Sharply

Securities' Skid One Of Year's Worst

By JOSEPH OPPENHEIMER

NEW YORK (INS) — The Stock Market suffered one of its biggest drops of the year Wednesday on news of British-French military action in the Middle East.

The decline was widespread and accompanied by increased trading.

Oil, steel, chemical and rail shares came under selling pressure which at one time forced the high-speed tape reporting floor transactions to lag three minutes.

$6.62 Average Dips

The Dow Jones Industrial average closed with a loss of $6.62 with each of the 30 issues dropping.

Rails were $2.85 lower and utilities slipped 24 cents after four days of advance.

Volume expanded to 2,280,000, an increase of 450,0000 shares from Tuesday.

Prices were mixed at the opening, but quickly slumped and losses mounted most of the day until the last hour when many issues recovered fractionally.

Oils and Steels Lead

Oil and steel issues paced the downslide with Lukens and Gulf dipping about $3. Similar deficits were recorded during the session for duPont and International Paper, but all finished somewhat higher.

Royal Dutch closed off 2½, Gulf 2⅜, International Paper and Minnesota Mining about 2.

DuPont and U.S. Steel slipped 1½. Bethlehem 1⅝. Standard of Jersey a full point, Texas Co. and International Nickel 1⅛ each.

Chrysler after an early loss of 1¾, finished down only a fraction, but GM lost 1⅛.

Elsewhere in the pivotals, American Telephone was sold down ¾, GE ⅝, Eastman Kodak a point, and American Tobacco 1⅛.

6th Fleet Aids In Evacuation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Units of the U.S. 6th Fleet moved to Mediterranean ports of Egypt and Israel Wednesday to help in an evacuation which has already seen more than 1,000 Americans leave the Middle East tinder box.

The Navy announced that transport units of the 6th Fleet, backed by combat vessels, were standing by near the Israeli port of Haifa and the Egyptian port of Alexandria.

Dispatches from Israel and Egypt said, however, that some units of the fleet already had entered the two harbors on evacuation missions.

Ike Pledges Visit Soon To Drought Area

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—President Eisenhower Wednesday promised to visit drought-stricken states "within a few weeks" to resurvey emergency federal help to farmers and ranchers.

"One thing is certain, the federal government is going to stay sympathetic, understanding and helpful. I guarantee you that," the President said in a transcribed radio broadcast over a large number of Texas stations.

His recorded remarks were part of a 15-minute radio program presented by Gov. Allen Shivers here. Shivers is backing Eisenhower for President.

Texas Democrats for Eisenhower arranged the program after the President was forced to cancel a plannned appearance in Dallas Wednesday because of the Middle East situation.

The President reviewed federal efforts to ease drought effects through the emergency feed grain program, the hay program, emergency credit and livestock loans, and recent railroad rate reductions.

"Such efforts, plus a loan to Mexico to buy some 40,000 head of our breeding stock, add up to this fact: Since 1953 federal help has been at an annual rate three times greater than the help given in the previous 20 years," he said.

Condemned

HONG KONG (Thursday) (INS) —Red China condemned the Anglo-French air raids on Egyptian military targets as "armed aggression."

The government's reaction was announced in a statement distributed by the Chinese Communist news agency.

Most Russian Troops Clear Out Of Budapest

. . . Premier Now Under Fire

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—Most of the Russian troops cleared out of Budapest Wednesday and exuberant nationalists concentrated their fire again on Communist Premier Imre Nagy's government.

"Out with the government of murderers!" chanted a crowd of 2,000 demonstrators in Kossuth Square outside Parliament, which only Tuesday was packed with Soviet armor.

Nagy, who has promised free elections and other reforms, talked with them in vain. His regime clearly does not command national confidence.

Bombardment threats by the Hungarian air force spurred the Soviet retreat. By dusk most of the Russian military units had vanished.

Lost Cause

Through littered streets that also saw the triumphant return of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty, Russian tank columns clanked from the battlefields of a Red cause that was lost.

They left their dead and wounded behind.

Disowned now by the Communist chieftains they had sought to sustain in eight days of civil war, the Russians gunned laboring engines under a shower of leaflets from Hungarian-manned, Soviet-built jets proclaiming they would be attacked if they tarried.

Armored forces guarding the Danube River bridges led the exodus. They pulled out at dawn, presumably heading to their old bases elsewhere within Hungary. Others fell into the lines of retreat throughout the morning.

Welcome

Even as the Red tide ebbed, Budapest's church bells pealed a welcome for Cardinal Mindszenty, a world symbol of resistance to communism since a Red court in 1949 condemned him to prison for life as a traitor.

The Roman Catholic prelate, freed by a Hungarian army task force Tuesday night from a castle at Felsopeteny, raised his hands in blessing to throngs who hailed his arrival. Women knelt in the streets. Men bared their heads. Many crossed themselves and wept.

The cardinal looked robust, and spoke in the same firm, low voice with which he parried charges of Red prosecutors in his historic trial.

Nebraska Farmer Killed In Accident

BLAIR, Neb. (AP) — John Rand, 55, who owned considerable land in Harrison county, Iowa, was killed Wednesday when a tree fell on a bulldozer he was operating. He was found by members of the family when he failed to return home for supper.

Demos Claim Ike's Aides Asked H-Ban

WASHINGTON (INS) — Four Democratic senators said Wednesday night that President Eisenhower's top aides "definitely recommended" within the "past few weeks or months" a policy looking toward a ban on huge H-bomb tests.

And, they added in a telegram to Mr. Eisenhower, the President himself "personally agreed that convincing evidence indicated the wisdom of adopting this policy line."

They said the President also asked experts to determine safe limits designed to insure detection if other nations accepted and later violated a ban.

The telegram was signed by Sens. Clinton P. Anderson, N.M., chairman of the Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee, A. S. Mike Monroney, Okla., J. William Fulbright, Ark. and Mike Mansfield, Mont.

It was reported that Senate Democratic leader Lyndon Johnson, Tex., and Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn) had concurred and would send separate telegrams later.

The four senators quoted "responsible sources" as saying top advisers "definitely recommended a policy of unilateral moratorium on seeking international agreements" to outlaw tests of large H-bombs.

'Government Shouldn't Enter' Family, Individual Problems

Joseph Beirne, president of the Communications Workers of America and head of the AFL-CIO Community Services Organization told a Lincoln audience that "we must not permit government to assume the responsibility of family and individual problems."

Beirne

Speaking Wednesday evening before 250 union members and their wives, Beirne stressed that social services for the individual and the family are best resolved through voluntary agencies.

"We want no government youth agencies, no state-imposed movements," he said. "The results of such movements can be seen in the history of Germany, Italy and Russia.

Beirne praised the organized labor movement throughout the country for their support "through contribution and service" of the Community Chest and United Campaign.

He reviewed the problems of social agencies due to insufficient funds and praised "the miracle that they can accomplish on limited budgets."

The national labor leader spoke at the second annual Labor Banquet, attended by Lincoln union members and their wives.

Elsworth DuTeau served as master of ceremonies, and Governor Victor Anderson gave a brief nonpolitical talk on the importance of the Community Chest drive. The Rev. Bruce E. Gideon of Havelock Methodist church gave the invocation.

Injured Tecumseh Man Still Critical

Hospital authorities reported Wednesday night that Wayne Lillich, 28, of Tecumseh, injured Sunday in an auto accident near Clatonia, remained in critical condition at St. Elizabeth's Hospital.

Erwin Meyer, 29, of Lincoln, was killed in the accident.

The men were returning from a hunting trip in the western part of the state when their car went out of control, striking a concrete bridge abutment and overturning.

Two other men escaped serious injury.

Aid On Way

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Air Force announced that a C-124 "Globemaster" transport was to leave Washington Wednesday night with a load of medical supplies and baby food for strife-torn Hungary.

The plane, loaned to the Red Cross, was expected to land in Vienna, Austria, where the needed supplies will be transhipped to Hungary.

The mercy flight was originally scheduled for Wednesday morning, but was delayed.

NINE EGYPTIAN PLANES DOWNED; ONE A MIG17

TEL AVIV, Israel (Thursday) (AP)—A military source said early Thursday Israeli planes have shot down nine Egyptian planes, including a Soviet-type MIG17.

It was the first mention of Egypt having the advanced MIG17.

The figure of nine planes downed since the fighting began was an increase from seven in the official reports.

Israeli government sources emphasized they were sure of the plane's type because they had access to the wreckage.

It was believed also that the Egyptians may have the even more advanced MIG19. It is a Soviet jet fighter.

They said the President also asked experts to determine safe limits designed to insure detection if other nations accepted and later violated a ban.

The telegram was signed by Sens. Clinton P. Anderson, N.M., chairman of the Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee, A. S. Mike Monroney, Okla., J. William Fulbright, Ark. and Mike Mansfield, Mont.

It was reported that Senate Democratic leader Lyndon Johnson, Tex., and Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn) had concurred and would send separate telegrams later.

The four senators quoted "responsible sources" as saying top advisers "definitely recommended a policy of unilateral moratorium on seeking international agreements" to outlaw tests of large H-bombs.

'Government Shouldn't Enter' Family, Individual Problems

Joseph Beirne, president of the Communications Workers of America and head of the AFL-CIO Community Services Organization told a Lincoln audience that "we must not permit government to assume the responsibility of family and individual problems."

Beirne

Speaking Wednesday evening before 250 union members and their wives, Beirne stressed that social services for the individual and the family are best resolved through voluntary agencies.

"We want no government youth agencies, no state-imposed movements," he said. "The results of such movements can be seen in the history of Germany, Italy and Russia.

Beirne praised the organized labor movement throughout the country for their support "through contribution and service" of the Community Chest and United Campaign.

He reviewed the problems of social agencies due to insufficient funds and praised "the miracle that they can accomplish on limited budgets."

The national labor leader spoke at the second annual Labor Banquet, attended by Lincoln union members and their wives.

Elsworth DuTeau served as master of ceremonies, and Governor Victor Anderson gave a brief nonpolitical talk on the importance of the Community Chest drive. The Rev. Bruce E. Gideon of Havelock Methodist church gave the invocation.

Injured Tecumseh Man Still Critical

Hospital authorities reported Wednesday night that Wayne Lillich, 28, of Tecumseh, injured Sunday in an auto accident near Clatonia, remained in critical condition at St. Elizabeth's Hospital.

Erwin Meyer, 29, of Lincoln, was killed in the accident.

The men were returning from a hunting trip in the western part of the state when their car went out of control, striking a concrete bridge abutment and overturning.

Two other men escaped serious injury.

Aid On Way

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Air Force announced that a C-124 "Globemaster" transport was to leave Washington Wednesday night with a load of medical supplies and baby food for strife-torn Hungary.

The plane, loaned to the Red Cross, was expected to land in Vienna, Austria, where the needed supplies will be transhipped to Hungary.

The mercy flight was originally scheduled for Wednesday morning, but was delayed.

NINE EGYPTIAN PLANES DOWNED; ONE A MIG17

TEL AVIV, Israel (Thursday) (AP)—A military source said early Thursday Israeli planes have shot down nine Egyptian planes, including a Soviet-type MIG17.

It was the first mention of Egypt having the advanced MIG17.

The figure of nine planes downed since the fighting began was an increase from seven in the official reports.

Israeli government sources emphasized they were sure of the plane's type because they had access to the wreckage.

It was believed also that the Egyptians may have the even more advanced MIG19. It is a Soviet jet fighter.

Adlai Urges Ike Not To Pledge Force

Demo Takes Time Out To Telegraph Mideast Views

NEW YORK (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson Wednesday night telegraphed President Eisenhower that he hopes the President is not "going to commit the United States to the hasty use of armed forces" in the Middle East.

He issued the text of the wire before President Eisenhower went on the air to explain the United States policy. Eisenhower pledged "no United States involvement" in Middle East fighting.

In his telegram to the President, Stevenson said:

"Of course the United States must stand behind its commitments but I hope the statement (issued by press secretary James C. Hagerty in Washington Wednesday) does not mean that you are going to commit the United States to the hasty use of armed forces, especially in view of the confused history of this area, where both parties have enegaged in shooting at one time or another."

1950 Pledge

Hagerty said in Washington earlier in the day that the United States still was standing by its 1950 pledge to assist any victim of aggression in the Middle East.

A traffic jam over La Guardia Field caused by weather delayed Stevenson's takeoff for Pittsburgh two hours and five minutes. He finally got away at 8:05 p.m. The candidate spent part of this delay listening to President Eisenhower's broadcast.

Press secretary Clayton Fritchey said that Stevenson wound up a busy round of New York speeches and went directly to work on the telegram to Eisenhower.

Grave Doubts

"In view of the import of the White House statement, I hope you will see fit to reassure the nation that you will not commit us to any precipate military action. I believe most Americans have grave doubts over any policy that links us with Communist Russia and President Nasser, and pits us against our Democratic allies. This would be a tragic situation and would aid the long-held plans to Communist Russia to split the free world.

"I, therefore, urge you to exhaust all possible statesmanship before taking any abrupt action which might lead to involving our armed forces in the present crisis or which might lead to a further breakdown of our relations with our western allies."

The wire was signed "Respectfully, Adlai E. Stevenson."

Earlier, Stevenson said in a New York speech that President Eisenhower's foreign policy has "misled us and our friends alike" and must "bear a heavy responsibility for the crisis in the Middle East."

Criticism Of London, Paris Widespread

By The Associated Press

Sharp attacks against the British-French moves in the Suez Canal zone were leveled Wednesday by the government of India and President Tito of Yugoslavia.

Indian Prime Minister Nehru's government—which claims to hold "neutral" position in the East-West crisis—said it considered the French-British ultimatum a "flagrant violation of the United Nations charter."

Tito called the Middle East moves by Israel, France and Britain "in fact one single aggression."

Such diversitified nations as Red China, Norway and Denmark also criticized the British and French action.

Aggression Label

Tito, in his denunciation, joined forces with the Soviet Union, which also pinned an "aggression" label on the Israeli, British and French moves.

The formal statement from India followed individual meetings between Nehru and the envoys of Britain, France, the United States, Russia and Egypt.

Tito accused Britain and France of threatening "to capture the Suez Canal under a pretext of protecting the zone from the invasion of the Israeli troops on Egyptian territory." The British-French action, he said, "does not represent any measure against the Israeli aggressor, nor any kind of protection against it."

British Jet Pilot Has 'Jolly Smooth' Raid Over Egypt

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — The pilot of a British jet bomber just back from a raid on Egypt said his plane had a "jolly smooth run" over an unnamed airfield.

Lt. John Slater, 34-year-old veteran of World War II bombing raids said the operation surprised Egyptian ground defenses and there was no fighter plane opposition.

The anti-aircraft fire, Slater said, was "wildly directed."

The Canberra bombers of the royal air force used high level tactics in their raid on the Egyptian fields, an air force spokesman said.

The spokesman did not state how many aircraft were employed. He did not disclose whether there were any casualties.

The two per cent tax was imposed on 586 oil producing leases and 134 producing gas leases, the report stated.

Of Men And Things

(Part Three of a Series)
By J. E. LAWRENCE

Logan A. Rogers, whose letter appears on this page, is a magnificent representative of that wonderful pioneer group which contributed so greatly to Nebraska settlement and development.

From Iowa where he has been living since midsummer he writes, noting that President Eisenhower addressing a Minnesota audience (in a major farm speech in mid-October) had said that we (the farmers) are over the hump. "But there are several humps," Mr. Rogers adds. That is where those admirable pioneer qualities of candor and a love of truth appear. Thousands of Nebraskans must have known that Ike either was sadly misinformed or less than honest when he spoke about Nebraska and other sections of the vast plains area being over the hump.

So Mr. Rogers concludes his letter in this highly expressive language:

"We agree that we are over the hump, but we are sliding down the wrong side of the hump, with disastrous results to Nebraska and the wheat growers of the United States. In short, we are sliding backward while trying to get to the top of the hump."

If that is true of rural Iowa, it is even more true in Nebraska.

★

While this was being dictated, the telegraph wires carried a "flash" that British planes had reportedly bombed Cairo. Fortunately there had been no casualties reported, although the brief dispatch mentioned property damage We may be in the thick of it up to our ears. We may be thankful for the surpluses of grains against which Secretary of Agriculture Benson has been waging war. We may discover now even as we discovered back in the 40's that the surpluses which have always been a target for Republican criticism will be a cushion to us and to other sections of the world. The President is mistaken. Rural Nebraska is not over the hump. Rural Nebraska has been experiencing tough going and anyone familiar with it knows that there is tough going for months ahead. We are experimenting with the soil bank, to which Republican leadership stakes exclusive claim but which had the support of both parties and originally was proposed by Minnesota's Democratic Sen. Humphrey. The Wall Street Journal late last week took note that Iowans received checks in excess of $54 million for corn land placed in the soil bank. Iowa seemed to be teetering dangerously toward the Democrats. For land earmarked for the soil bank, Nebraskans had received at the same time an approximate fifth of the amount Iowans got. Although there was a shortage of 12 inches of rainfall, south of Des Moines, Mr. Rogers writes, there was a good crop of corn, and for the state it was only 22 million bushels less in 1956 than was produced in Iowa in 1955. Yet Iowans got payments of $54,000,000 under the soil bank.

Them's True Words

Story Of Drought

Ike cannot be blamed for the drought. But the fact remains that in 1956 Nebraska harvested less than half the normal crop of corn and could thank irrigation for the bulk of the crop produced. Now, in 1956 adequate acres of Nebraska land (corn and wheat, 1,523,560.7 acres) should when final settlement is complete provide Nebraska farmers with an income of $32,991,400.39.

The outlook for 1957 so far as the operation of the soil bank is concerned calls for retirement of 684,424.1 acres for which Nebraskans would be paid $16,355,062.67. That would mean eliminating about a fifth of 1956's planted wheat acreage. Any way Nebraskans can figure it in 1957, they will produce considerably less, and get less.

★

The farmers themselves are sharply divided in expressing opinion on the effectiveness of the soil bank program to reduce surpluses. Some see merit in it. Apparently more of them do not. Among the latter are those farmers who anticipate that in actual working, the soil bank will be utilized largely to retire submarginal lands, the least fertile, the least productive, and lands which at this time contribute very little to the surpluses upon which Benson has declared war. Here in Nebraska the farmer has lost ground. Two years of reduced crops—those crops affected by drought—have taken their toll. Business in the small towns knows it. The effects are beginning to be felt in Omaha and Lincoln. But drought has not been alone in placing a heavy hand upon the farmer in Nebraska. Equally punishing have been unprofitable farm commodity prices under Secretary Benson.

Echoes In Rural America

A Model Of Patience

We are reminded constantly by Republican leadership expressed by Mr. Benson himself of the disappointment which he says Democrats feel because of the absence of any real farm revolt. If that really represents the thinking of the secretary of agriculture, there is this to be said. He could put in his time to much better advantage endeavoring to find out where he has fallen down in looking after the interests of the patient people he is supposed to represent.

★

Agriculture in Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, Oklahoma, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, the two Dakotas, and a number of other states finds itself in a real mess at this time. Farm debts are mounting. Farmers are finding it necessary to leave the farm and to find jobs in the towns and the cities. Drought has hurt badly but long before the effects of drought were felt, farmers were experiencing difficulty because the prices of commodities they had to sell had fallen to nonprofitable levels while the prices of commodities they had to buy were pushing to all-time highs. It was the old familiar price squeeze all over again—a replica of rural America in the late 20's when events were moving rapidly towards economic collapse and bankruptcy out on the farm. The most disturbing development was that in this new agricultural headache, those most seriously affected were the young people who had gone in debt for their land and their equipment, and either were hanging on precariously or were selling out and pulling up stakes for other localities.

One Genuine Mess

What have we a right to expect of our years? There is this to be said. This is a decisive referendum on the Benson program of flexible price supports. If rural America for one reason or another or for several reasons expresses approval of the flexible price support program, it will be years and possibly a new generation before a Congress re-establishes a price support program based upon 90 per cent of parity. What have we a right to expect of our years—the years from January 20 of 1957 to January 20 of 1961? If the Benson philosophy continues, we have reason to expect little progress towards a richer life for rural America.

Flourishing Program

The national Rural Electrification Administration this week took care of its own record of service to Nebraska and in doing so there emerged as a byproduct a glowing progress report on the rural electrification districts of the state themselves.

The National REA noted that it had extended credit to the amount of $55,987,500 to Nebraska the past three years, 84 per cent of all the money it loaned. It included in the total its $17 million loan sponsored by the state REA's to the Central Nebraska Public Power and Irrigation district for a stream generating plant.

If that left some $39 million for the rurals themselves we have a picture of substantial and continued expansion of the program that has taken electricity to the farms, brought greater business activity in general and increased materially the state's annual gross income. It would be a matter of great note if a new industry announced a $39 million outlay. It is no less important that the rurals which already have set in motion millions in credit and service activity means to do just that.

And equally significant in the Rural Electric Administration's report is its statement that none of Nebraska's REA districts are delinquent in meeting their capital obligation. Indeed their net worth in three years has risen from $2,862,524 to $7,054,487.

Still The Same

The United States is looking forward to the reenactment of a historic event. A replica of the Mayflower which landed in 1620 at Plymouth Rock carrying Pilgrim colonists from Plymouth England will soon make the trip after the fashion of its illustrious predecessor.

Canada will experience a similar event. Word comes from Quebec that it is looking forward to a visit from the replica of the vessel sailed from France to Canada by Samuel de Champlain 350 years ago.

Weeks of hardship at sea by sailors of today returning to the frail boats of long ago cannot be classed as a present day necessity, but the connotations of the event make it timely and valuable. The trips will serve their purpose if they teach no more than the fact that the yearning for freedom is an unquenchable one and despite the great progress we have made since 1620 it still has to be pursued, defended and struggled for. It is one of the things that hasn't changed among all the things that have since 1620.

On Littered Desks

If the current campaign has produced any by-products of benefit outside the field of politics it lies in its defense and service of that generally misjudged fellow whose desk is always a disorderly litter of things. It has become almost axiomatic that the man of the clean desk is a model of all that is best in this modern business world. He takes on virtues far above and beyond the harried man whose desk is a mess. The fact is most desks are kept bare and neat by secretaries, not the tycoons themselves. Ask any secretary.

Rep. Rogers of Texas, a man of no mean ability at desk disorder is not afraid to speak out in behalf of himself and the thousands like him. He waved away criticism by saying." I am convinced that a cluttered desk top indicates activity—past, present and future; that those who have clean desk tops get them that way by stuffing everything into drawers out of sight—an act of form, not substance. That's something I won't do. I can't. My desk drawers are already full."

This Crazy World

News dispatches tells of a Navy jet pilot who fired a few bursts of his 20 millimeter cannon and then went into a 880 miles per hour dive, caught up with his own projectiles and got his plane riddled so severely he had to make a crash landing. All of which seems to indicate that modern warfare is verging on the ridiculous. If armies are going to get hit by their own shells it could follow that the biggest and best prepared will be the most certain of early and rapid defeat.

Still There

We have rather lost track of Viet Nam which some months ago was very much in the news when the French were waging an unsuccessful action to hold all of Indochina from Communist challengers. In the subsequent partition of Indochina the Republic of Viet Nam emerged as the non-Communist remnant. Well last Friday the republic celebrated its first birthday and took the occasion to promulgate a new constitution. In short it is still in there pitching.

Israel Anticipated Attack By Egypt

WASHINGTON — The reason for the Israeli attack on Egypt was quite simple. It was based on the assumption that Colonel Nasser, once he had the Suez Canal dispute settled and the French and British armies off his neck, was certain to attack Israel.

As long as the United Nations had him on the spot and as long as British and French troops hovered near him, Israel knew it was in no danger.

But with around $260,000,000 worth of Russian arms stacked away in his arsenals, and with the Arab world looking to him for leadership against the West, Nasser was almost certain to attack.

Israel had the alternative of sitting still, expecting an overnight raid from modern Russian MIG's which could reach Tel Aviv from the Egyptian border in about 30 minutes, or of taking the initiative.

So when Iraqui troops entered Jordan to cement a military alliance, and when Jordan, Syria and Egypt also tightened their military hook-ups, Israeli army chiefs decided it was time to strike.

AS BIG AS MASSACHUSETTS

To get the picture of what's going on, you have to envisage a little country about the size of Massachusetts, only much narrower in spots. In one place Israel extends only seven miles from Nathanya on the Mediterranean, named for Nathan Strauss, the first U.S. housing administrator, to the border of Jordan. The airport near Tel Aviv is only two and a half miles from the border, while Jordan comes within ten yards of the sea of Galilee.

Thus, in every direction Israel faces, except toward the Mediterranean, she is surrounded by Arab neighbors.

This came about because in 1948, when the British gave up their Palestine mandate under the League of Nations, the Arab countries decided to move in and carve up Palestine. They were so confident that some wealthier Arabs left their homes with all their clothes behind figuring they would be back in a few days after the Jews had been pushed out.

Instead the Jews pushed the Egyptian army, strongest of all the Arab forces, right down to the edge of the Suez Canal. They would have pushed them back to Cairo if the British hadn't intervened.

Other Arab neighbors were pushed back well beyond the original boundaries proposed by the United Nations in 1947. Jewish leaders had accepted this boundary. The Arabs had not. Ever since, the Arabs have been trying to go back to the 1947 UN proposals which they rejected.

But Premier Ben-Gurion's reply is "We accept of the Arabs will return the 5,000 dead Israelis lost in that war."

PACKAGE PLANS FOR PEACE

The only thing that could have stopped a Near Eastern war was a package peace plan for both Suez and the entire area. Such a package plan was advocated by Ambassador Eric Johnston, Republican, and by Harry Truman, Democrat. Truman had worked out the plans before he left the White House. Johnston has been to the Near East several times in the past three years to try to put them across.

Johnston argued that the Suez Canal would be out of date in ten years, would have to require another canal or two more pipelines in order to carry enough oil for Western Europe. But you can't lay pipelines across hostile Arab nations. They cut them in two.

Truman's ideas were more expansive. He wanted to reconstruct the irrigation system of the Tigris and the Euphrates which once made what is now Iraq one of the most prosperous countries in the world.

DORIS FLEESON

Peace Line Shaken By Egyptian Crisis

NEW YORK — An experienced Washington correspondent addressed a non-political luncheon club on the blazing foreign situation. As a result of a volley of questions fired later from the audience, he reached these conclusions about the presidential balloting next Tuesday:

Those who have already decided to vote for President Eisenhower are more certain than ever now that his special talents are needed at the White House.

Those who want Adlai Stevenson regard the situation as proof-positive of all that he has been saying about the part-time Eisenhower presidency and Eisenhower's inability to create a policy in contrast to executing one.

The undecided voters — probably by now a small minority—are shaken by the sudden turn of events. They had neither wholly believed in the Eisenhower peace, nor the Stevenson pessimism. Which way they will go may have an effect in key states.

☆ ☆ ☆

To win their votes in big states—New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio and California — will be the constant pre-occupation of Democrats in the closing days of the campaign. Democrats are still hopeful of adding these to the South, the border states and the Far West to achieve a surprise victory and again confound the polls.

Led by Stevenson, they will renew their attacks on the President as "asleep at the switch." They will argue that Republicans are happy with him only because they look to Vice-President Richard M. Nixon as the real leader of the administration.

The President, of course, had no choice but to live by promises already made by this government to condemn aggression from whatever source. It is unfortunate for him politically from the standpoint of timing that he right now has had to lead the effort to get the United Nations to condemn the movement of Israeli forces into Egypt.

His difficulty is that he has been too optimistic and has oversold the stability of the situation abroad. Detached observers have been commenting all through recent weeks that rarely has a bigger gap existed between political realities abroad and the way the administration was making them appear in all the channels of publicity available to it.

It is not hard for politicians to figure out why Israel acted now, having made up her mind that she was about to be nibbled away.

The United States is immobilized for at least a week until after the presidential ballots are counted. It can be expected to move only in routine and inescapable channels already known to and apparently discounted by Israel.

Morse Given Edge In Oregon Race

NEW YORK — PEOPLE . . . PLACES . . . THINGS . . .

Douglas McKay quit the Eisenhower cabinet to try to pry Wayne Morse out of the U.S. Senate. Their race to represent Oregon in the upper house has overshadowed all else in Oregon. Morse, bitterly articulate foe of the President, has taken the lead as the big day nears, according to most pollsters. One McKay supporter grumbles that his man can blame nobody but himself if he loses.

"We got Dick Nixon out to help him at a rally at the university," he recalled. "Dick gave a lofty speech that pleased the audience very much. But our man, when called on, just said, "It isn't issues that count, it's votes."

J. Edgar Hoover has joined the growing list of thoughtful persons who consider the delinquent parent as much at fault as the delinquent juvenile. In the October Rotarian Magazine the director of the FBI writes these forbidding words:

"The abdication of parental responsibility is resulting in the tragic anarchy of juvenile delinquency . . . criminals are not born with the stamp of criminality affixed to them. They are created by the forces and influences surrounding them.

"Certainly parental influence is a vital element determining the direction in which a child will go—whether toward stable, responsible adulthood or through the series of delinquencies which lead to a life of crime."

Hoover presents some numbing statistics: Last year 2,262,450 major offenses were committed by the nation's crime army. A little more than 42 per cent of these crimes were committed by children under 18, and nearly half of these were under 15! Kids under 18 accounted for 21.4 per cent of the robbery arrests, 46.9 per cent of the larceny arrests, 52.7 per cent of the burglary arrests, and 62.2 per cent of the arrests for stolen cars.

"I am convinced that the vast majority of causes of juvenile delinquency are to be found within the realm of parental control and that indifference is at the root of the failure to exercise that control," Hoover concludes. "I believe that if parents could in some manner be shocked into a realization of their full responsibility for making decent citizens of their children, we should see an abatement in the tide of delinquency. Those parents who willfully neglect or otherwise contribute to the delinquency of their children, in effect, abdicate their parental responsibilities. They certainly should be held accountable for the criminal acts of their children."

Policeman's Lot

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I see by the paper that an easterner went to work in private industry just 24 hours before he was to join a police force. He said that a cop's salary is too low. That's all right. If a man is smart enough to work for industry, then he should. There are plenty of others to fill the nation's police departments.

BEULAH

Wrong Side Of Hump

Chariton, Ia.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The farmers here in southern Iowa have not seen such variations in climate and crops since the 30s. April, May and June were the driest months in years and pastures were so short in June that farmers began selling some of their cattle. There is a good corn crop south of Des Moines, although there was a shortage of 12 inches of rainfall, and such a crop is regarded as a miracle. The corn crop here is estimated to be 22 million bushels less than the 1955 crop

The President told a Minnesota audience that we were over the hump and had inflation on the run. But there are several humps. There is the corn hump in Iowa, a wheat hump in Nebraska, Kansas, North Dakota, South Dakota and Oklahoma, with grain elevators from Omaha to Galveston loaded with wheat and corn belonging to the government.

A recent report stated that on February 1, 1955, American wheat was selling for $2.05 a bushel and American corn for $1.78 at Liverpool, and that wheat from Argentina was selling two or three cents less a bushel than U.S. wheat. The wheat grower of Nebraska should study that for several days and see if he can arrive at a conclusion that will bolster his hopes for the President's plan, and decide whether he will agree with the President that we are over the hump.

We agree that we are over the hump, but we are sliding down the wrong side of the hump, with disastrous results to Nebraska and the wheat growers of the United States. In short, we are sliding backward while trying to get to the top of the hump.

Vote For Best Interests

Broken Bow, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The Democrats could have the last word in a successful campaign if they will only use it in the defense of the laboring men and women, the farmers, the small business men and women, and the old-age pensioners of this state. All men and women in all things must lay aside prejudice and vote the ballot that is for their best interests. The National Institute of Social Welfare believes in correcting the past mistakes for the good of all peoples. We are staking our faith in the Democratic party to make our road easier for our people in all walks of life.

Academic Freedom

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: As a University of Nebraska faculty wife and a former instructor at the university, I feel that I must take issue with Rev. Raible's statement that faculty members "almost unanimously . . . are discouraged . . . sick at heart . . . fearful." Mr. Raible has generalized this attitude as applying to the faculty as a whole, apparently from having heard this attitude expressed by a few. I believe this is an error.

Unfortunately there are always a few malcontents in any organization, but judging from our many faculty friends and acquaintances, I don't believe that the majority feel that their academic freedom is endangered. I do not want to make the same error or generalization which I believe Mr. Raible has made; hence I will not say that this feeling does not exist among some. But I do not think it is a general attitude, as Rev. Raible's statement implies.

It is true that the university has lost some fine teachers and that others are considering leaving, but those whom I know have gone to other universities because the salaries were much better and they felt they could not afford to stay here, definitely not because of any feeling that the proper atmosphere was not provided by this university.

I cannot speak for all professors but those of my acquaintance feel that Dr. Hardin has been doing a good job of trying to maintain a fine faculty and their allegiance is already with him.

Big Business

Big Springs, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: In a few days we will decide whether or not we shall continue an administration that conforms to the theory that when the benefits of government are made to fall on men of wealth and big business, the benefits will trickle down to the people to the extent that governmental concern for the general welfare is unnecessary and superfluous.

In the application of this theory, the government tends to become a mere adjunct of corporate big business The President becomes a mere chairman of a board of directors and exercises few powers outside those required to conduct meetings. The powers of the President are exercised by this board of big business. The President relinquishes the constitutional powers of his office and becomes the mere ceremonial head of the nation, not unlike that of the queen of England, and becomes a part-time President.

Corruption is inevitable because the immorality of big business is transferred to government set up for profit instead of social service.

Concern For Safety

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star As a grandmother I am very concerned about the safety of my grandsons and our country. I have been following this campaign and see only fear and indecision brought before the people with this H-bomb issue being injected into the campaign Shouldn't this be taken up in the United Nations?

It is time all of us women use our votes for the man we trust as our President, Mr. Eisenhower. Monday night from Boston, Stevenson accused the Republicans of a smear campaign, which makes me think of the talk Kefauver gave in New York on October 16. No Republican has given any talk to equal that.

Why all these accusations toward Mr. Nixon and all this talk about him as a possible President? What assurance does Mr. Stevenson have that he would live through the entire term of office if he were to be elected? What kind of a president would Kefauver make under such circumstances?

Mothers, let us all do some serious thinking.

WORRIED GRANDMOTHER

Day Of Reckoning

Blair, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: There are quite definite indications of a "farm revolt" brewing over the Midlands. This will be evident November 7.

The so-called "farm squeeze" which is openly admitted by leaders of this administration in Washington is not entirely the result of over-production and drought. There is more, much, much more.

This administration is spending up to $41 billion per year in so-called peace times for defense and foreign aid. This keeps the factories going, big labor groups happy and big business profits high. There is some question just how much of spending for defense and foreign aid is necessary and just how much is "feeding the fat cats of business and labor."

Whichever, it is this indirect subsidization of big business and special interest groups which is causing the high prices for what farmers have to buy to work with. This unjustified "high profit taking" by big corporations both from what they sell the public and the government, this unbridled greed in high places, is adding to the farmer's woes.

One day Mr. Laborer and Mr. Middle-Class Citizen, working in the towns and cities of the middle plains states, will come to realize that their livelihood is directly tied in with the farmer. If the farmer breaks, they will break. The day of reckoning is not far off in Nebraska.

DEWEY NEMETZ

Food For Thought

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I have enjoyed Cecil Matthews, Fay L. Danker, Dewey Nemetz, and many others who write to "The People Speak," for it proves we have people who think and don't just swallow any political campaign speech they hear. The facts are a long way from what we hear from the supposed "truth squad." Everyone should know this if he has kept up with the fundamental acts of the past four years.

For example, a Republican-sponsored TV program depicted a group of poor school children going to an old run-down school house, and it was said that the Republicans felt bad about this true sad condition. Yet the truth is that the very first thing President Eisenhower did when he took office in 1952 was to revoke the Supreme Court ruling to give Tidelands oil millions to these school children. How short do they think our memories are?

Above all the name-calling, we have big problems such as schooling, farm and small business employment decline, preservation of our soil and forests, the need for big dams, high cost of living, medical care for the needy, foreign aid, the ton-mile tax, property tax, tax cuts for average incomes, etc.

And foremost is the increase of radio-activity fall-out and its results. The above mentioned would mean nothing if life were to be slowly and painfully ended. There is real food for thought, not only for us, but for all countries testing bombs.

Mamie On Stage

Papillion, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Can anyone imagine the late Mrs. William Jennings Bryan prancing around the stage at Madison Square Garden with an armful of American beauties, gesticulating and ballyhooing the crowd, while her illustrious husband as a presidential candidate was delivering a political address? This Mamie Eisenhower did recently while Ike was endeavoring to get off a series of smirking wisecracks, evidently prepared for him, the meanwhile finding it difficult to keep his spectacles either on or off, and trying to talk about anything other than the depreciation of the American dollar and the consequent inflation, or the domination of organized labor.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

Logan A. Rogers, whose letter appears on this page, is a magnificent representative of that wonderful pioneer group which contributed so greatly to Nebraska settlement and development.

From Iowa where he has been living since midsummer he writes, noting that President Eisenhower addressing a Minnesota audience (in a major farm speech in mid-October) had said that we (the farmers) are over the hump. Thousands of Nebraskans must have known that Ike either was sadly misinformed or less than honest when he spoke about Nebraska and other sections of the vast plains area being over the hump.

So Mr. Rogers concludes his letter in this highly expressive language:

"We agree that we are over the hump, but we are sliding down the wrong side of the hump, with disastrous results to Nebraska and the wheat growers of the United States. In short, we are sliding backward while trying to get to the top of the hump."

If that is true of rural Iowa, it is even more true in Nebraska.

While this was being dictated, the telegraph wires carried a "flash" that British planes had reportedly bombed Cairo. Fortunately there had been no casualties reported, although the brief dispatch mentioned property damage. We may be in the thick of it up to our ears. We may be thankful for the surpluses of grains against which Secretary of Agriculture Benson has been waging war. We may discover now even as we discovered back in the 40's that the surpluses which have always been a target for Republican criticism will be a cushion to us and to other sections of the world. The President is mistaken. Rural Nebraska is not over the hump. Rural Nebraska has been experiencing tough going and anyone familiar with it knows that there is tough going for months ahead. We are experimenting with the soil bank, to which Republican leadership stakes exclusive claim but which had the support of both parties and originally was proposed by Minnesota's Democratic Sen. Humphrey. The Wall Street Journal late last week took note that Iowans received checks in excess of $54 million for corn land placed in the soil bank. Iowa seemed to be teetering dangerously toward the Democrats. For land earmarked for the soil bank, Nebraskans had received at the same time an approximate fifth of the amount Iowans got. Yet Iowans got payments of $54,000,000 under the soil bank.

Them's True Words

Story Of Drought

Ike cannot be blamed for the drought. But the fact remains that in 1956 Nebraska harvested less than half the normal crop of corn and could thank irrigation for the bulk of the crop produced. Now, in 1956 adequate acres of Nebraska land (corn and wheat, 1,523,560.7 acres) should when final settlement is complete provide Nebraska farmers with an income of $32,991,400.39.

The outlook for 1957 so far as the operation of the soil bank is concerned calls for retirement of 684,424.1 acres for which Nebraskans would be paid $16,355,062.67. That would mean eliminating about a fifth of 1956's planted wheat acreage. Any way Nebraskans can figure it in 1957, they will produce considerably less, and get less.

★

The farmers themselves are sharply divided in expressing opinion on the effectiveness of the soil bank program to reduce surpluses. Some see merit in it. Apparently more of them do not. Among the latter are those farmers who anticipate that in actual working, the soil bank will be utilized largely to retire submarginal lands, the least fertile, the least productive, and lands which at this time contribute very little to the surpluses upon which Benson has declared war. Here in Nebraska the farmer has lost ground. Two years of reduced crops—those crops affected by drought—have taken their toll. Business in the small towns knows it. The effects are beginning to be felt in Omaha and Lincoln. But drought has not been alone in placing a heavy hand upon the farmer in Nebraska. Equally punishing have been unprofitable farm commodity prices under Secretary Benson.

Echoes In Rural America

A Model Of Patience

We are reminded constantly by Republican leadership expressed by Mr. Benson himself of the disappointment which he says Democrats feel because of the absence of any real farm revolt. If that really represents the thinking of the secretary of agriculture, there is this to be said. He could put in his time to much better advantage endeavoring to find out where he has fallen down in looking after the interests of the patient people he is supposed to represent.

★

Agriculture in Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, Oklahoma, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, the two Dakotas, and a number of other states finds itself in a real mess at this time. Farm debts are mounting. Farmers are finding it necessary to leave the farm and to find jobs in the towns and the cities. Drought has hurt badly but long before the effects of drought were felt, farmers were experiencing difficulty because the prices of commodities they had to sell had fallen to nonprofitable levels while the prices of commodities they had to buy were pushing to all-time highs. It was the old familiar price squeeze all over again—a replica of rural America in the late 20's when events were moving rapidly towards economic collapse and bankruptcy out on the farm. The most disturbing development was that in this new agricultural headache, those most seriously affected were the young people who had gone in debt for their land and their equipment, and either were hanging on precariously or were selling out and pulling up stakes for other localities.

What have we a right to expect of our years? There is this to be said. This is a decisive referendum on the Benson program of flexible price supports. If rural America for one reason or another or for several reasons expresses approval of the flexible price support program, it will be years and possibly a new generation before a Congress re-establishes a price support program based upon 90 per cent of parity. What have we a right to expect of our years—the years from January 20 of 1957 to January 20 of 1961? If the Benson philosophy continues, we have reason to expect little progress towards a richer life for rural America.

Flourishing Program

The national Rural Electrification Administration this week took care of its own record of service to Nebraska and in doing so there emerged as a byproduct a glowing progress report on the rural electrification districts of the state themselves.

The National REA noted that it had extended credit to the amount of $55,987,500 to Nebraska the past three years, 8.4 per cent of all the money it loaned. It included in the total its $17 million loan sponsored by the state REA's to the Central Nebraska Public Power and Irrigation district for a stream generating plant.

If that left some $39 million for the rurals themselves we have a picture of substantial and continued expansion of the program that has taken electricity to the farms, brought greater business activity in general and increased materially the state's annual gross income. It would be a matter of great note if a new industry announced a $39 million outlay. It is no less important that the rurals which already have set in motion millions in credit and service activity means to do just that.

And equally significant in the Rural Electric Administration's report is its statement that none of Nebraska's REA districts are delinquent in meeting their capital obligation. Indeed their net worth in three years has risen from $2,862,524 to $7,054,487.

Still The Same

The United States is looking forward to the reenactment of a historic event. A replica of the Mayflower which landed in 1620 at Plymouth Rock carrying Pilgrim colonists from Plymouth England will soon make the trip after the fashion of its illustrious predecessor.

Canada will experience a similar event. Word comes from Quebec that it is looking forward to a visit from the replica of the vessel sailed from France to Canada by Samuel de Champlain 350 years ago.

Weeks of hardship at sea by sailors of today returning to the frail boats of long ago cannot be classed as a present day necessity, but the connotations of the event make it timely and valuable. The trips will serve their purpose if they teach no more than the fact that the yearning for freedom is an unquenchable one and despite the great progress we have made since 1620 it still has to be pursued, defended and struggled for. It is one of the things that hasn't changed among all the things that have since 1620.

On Littered Desks

If the current campaign has produced any byproducts of benefit outside the field of politics it lies in its defense and service of that generally misjudged fellow whose desk is always a disorderly litter of things. It has become almost axiomatic that the man of the clean desk is a model of all that is best in this modern business world. He takes on virtues far above and beyond the harried man whose desk is a mess. The fact is most desks are kept bare and neat by secretaries, not the tycoons themselves. Ask any secretary.

Rep. Rogers of Texas, a man of no mean ability at desk disorder is not afraid to speak out in behalf of himself and the thousands like him. He waved away criticism by saying," I am convinced that a cluttered desk top indicates activity—past, present and future; that those who have clean desk tops get them that way by stuffing everything into drawers out of sight—an act of form, not substance. That's something I won't do. I can't. My desk drawers are already full."

This Crazy World

News dispatches tells of a Navy jet pilot who fired a few bursts of his 20 millimeter cannon and then went into a 880 miles per hour dive, caught up with his own projectiles and got his plane riddled so severely he had to make a crash landing. All of which seems to indicate that modern warfare is verging on the ridiculous. If armies are going to get hit by their own shells it could follow that the biggest and best prepared will be the most certain of early and rapid defeat.

Still There

We have rather lost track of Viet Nam which some months ago was very much in the news when the French were waging an unsuccessful action to hold all of Indochina from Communist challengers. In the subsequent partition of Indochina the Republic of Viet Nam emerged as the non-Communist remnant. Well last Friday the republic celebrated its first birthday and took the occasion to promulgate a new constitution. In short it is still in there pitching.

Israel Anticipated Attack By Egypt

WASHINGTON — The reason for the Israeli attack on Egypt was quite simple. It was based on the assumption that Colonel Nasser, once he had the Suez Canal dispute settled and the French and British armies off his neck, was certain to attack Israel.

As long as the United Nations had him on the spot and as long as British and French troops hovered near him, Israel knew it was in no danger.

But with around $260,000,000 worth of Russian arms stached away in his arsenals, and with the Arab world looking to him for leadership against the West, Nasser was almost certain to attack.

Israel had the alternative of sitting still, expecting an overnight raid from modern Russian MIG's which could reach Tel Aviv from the Egyptian border in about 30 minutes, or of taking the initiative.

So when Iraqui troops entered Jordan to cement a military alliance, and when Jordan, Syria and Egypt also tightened their military hook-ups, Israeli army chiefs decided it was time to strike.

AS BIG AS MASSACHUSETTS

To get the picture of what's going on, you have to envisage a little country about the size of Massachusetts, only much narrower in spots. In one place Israel extends only seven miles from Nathanya on the Mediterranean, named for Nathan Strauss, the first U.S. housing administrator, to the border of Jordan. The airport near Tel Aviv is only two and a half miles from the border, while Jordan comes within ten yards of the sea of Galilee.

Thus, in every direction Israel faces, except toward the Mediterranean, she is surrounded by Arab neighbors.

This came about because in 1948, when the British gave up their Palestine mandate under the League of Nations, the Arab countries decided to move in and carve up Palestine. They were so confident that some wealthier Arabs left their homes with all their clothes behind figuring they would be back in a few days after the Jews had been pushed out.

Instead the Jews pushed the Egyptian army, strongest of all the Arab forces, right down to the edge of the Suez Canal. They would have pushed them back to Cairo if the British hadn't intervened.

Other Arab neighbors were pushed back well beyond the original boundaries proposed by the United Nations in 1947. Jewish leaders had accepted this boundary. The Arabs had not. Ever since, the Arabs have been trying to go back to the 1947 UN proposals which they rejected.

But Premier Ben - Gurion's reply is: "We accept if the Arabs will return the 5,000 dead Israelis lost in that war."

PACKAGE PLANS FOR PEACE

The only thing that could have stopped a Near Eastern war was a package peace plan for both Suez and the entire area. Such a package plan was advocated by Ambassador Eric Johnston, Republican, and by Harry Truman, Democrat. Truman had worked out the plans before he left the White House. Johnston has been to the Near East several times in the past three years to try to put them across.

Johnston argued that the Suez Canal would be out of date in ten years, would have to require another canal or two more pipelines in order to carry enough oil for Western Europe. But you can't lay pipelines across hostile Arab nations. They cut them in two.

Truman's ideas were more expansive. He wanted to reconstruct the irrigation system of the Tigris and the Euphrates which once made what is now Iraq one of the most prosperous countries in the world.

DORIS FLEESON

Peace Line Shaken By Egyptian Crisis

NEW YORK — An experienced Washington correspondent addressed a non-political luncheon club on the blazing foreign situation. As a result of a volley of questions fired later from the audience, he reached these conclusions about the presidential balloting next Tuesday:

Those who have already decided to vote for President Eisenhower are more certain than ever now that his special talents are needed at the White House.

Those who want Adlai Stevenson regard the situation as proof-positive of all that he has been saying about the part-time Eisenhower presidency and Eisenhower's inability to create a policy in contrast to executing one.

The undecided voters — probably by now a small minority—are shaken by the sudden turn of events. They had neither wholly believed in the Eisenhower peace nor the Stevenson pessimism. Which way they will go may have an effect in key states.

☆ ☆ ☆

To win their votes in big states—New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio and California — will be the constant pre-occupation of Democrats in the closing days of the campaign. Democrats are still hopeful of adding these to the South, the border states and the Far West to achieve a surprise victory and again confound the polls.

Led by Stevenson, they will renew their attacks on the President as "asleep at the switch." They will argue that Republicans are happy with him only because they look to Vice-President Richard M. Nixon as the real leader of the administration.

The President, of course, had no choice but to live by promises already made by this government to condemn aggression from whatever source. It is unfortunate for him politically from the standpoint of timing that he right now has had to lead the effort to get the United Nations to condemn the movement of Israeli forces into Egypt.

His difficulty is that he has been too optimistic and has oversold the stability of the situation abroad. Detached observers have been commenting all through recent weeks that rarely has a bigger gap existed between political realities abroad and the way the administration was making them appear in all the channels of publicity available to it.

It is not hard for politicians to figure out why Israel acted now, having made up her mind that she was about to be nibbled away.

The United States is immobilized for at least a week until after the presidential ballots are counted. It can be expected to move only in routine and inescapable channels already known to and apparently discounted by Israel.

Morse Given Edge In Oregon Race

NEW YORK — PEOPLE . . . PLACES . . . THINGS . . .

Douglas McKay quit the Eisenhower cabinet to try to pry Wayne Morse out of the U.S. Senate. Their race to represent Oregon in the upper house has overshadowed all else in Oregon. Morse, bitterly articulate foe of the President, has taken the lead as the big day nears, according to most pollsters. One McKay supporter grumbles that his man can blame nobody but himself if he loses.

"We got Dick Nixon out to help him at a rally at the university," he recalled. "Dick gave a lofty speech that pleased the audience very much. But our man, when called on, just said, "It isn't issues that count, it's votes." "

J. Edgar Hoover has joined the growing list of thoughtful persons who consider the delinquent parent as much at fault as the delinquent juvenile. In the October Rotarian Magazine the director of the FBI writes these forbidding words:

"The abdication of parental responsibility is resulting in the tragic anarchy of juvenile delinquency . . . criminals are not born with the stamp of criminality affixed to them. They are created by the forces and influences surrounding them.

"Certainly parental influence is a vital element determining the direction in which a child will go—whether toward stable, responsible adulthood or through the series of delinquencies which lead to a life of crime."

Hoover presents some numbing statistics: Last year 2,262,450 major offenses were committed by the nation's crime army. A little more than 42 per cent of these crimes were committed by children under 18, and nearly half of these were under 15! Kids under 18 accounted for 21.4 per cent of the robbery arrests, 46.9 per cent of the larceny arrests, 52.7 per cent of the burglary arrests, and 62.2 per cent of the arrests for stolen cars.

"I am convinced that the vast majority of causes of juvenile delinquency are to be found within the realm of parental control and that indifference is at the root of the failure to exercise that control," Hoover concludes. "I believe that if parents could in some manner be shocked into a realization of their full responsibility for making decent citizens of their children, we should see an abatement in the tide of delinquency. Those parents who willfully neglect or otherwise contribute to the delinquency of their children, in effect, abdicate their parental responsibilities. They certainly should be held accountable for the criminal acts of their children."

Policeman's Lot

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I see by the paper that an easterner went to work in private industry just 24 hours before he was to join a police force. He said that a cop's salary is too low. That's all right. If a man is smart enough to work for industry, then he should. There are plenty of others to fill the nation's police departments.

Wrong Side Of Hump

Chariton, Ia.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The farmers here in southern Iowa have not seen such variations in climate and crops since the 30's. April, May and June were the driest months in years and pastures were so short in June that farmers began selling some of their cattle. There is a good corn crop south of Des Moines, although there was a shortage of 12 inches of rainfall, and such a crop is regarded as a miracle. The corn crop here is estimated to be 22 million bushels less than the 1955 crop.

The President told a Minnesota audience that we were over the hump and had inflation on the run. But there are several humps. There is the corn hump in Iowa, a wheat hump in Nebraska, Kansas, North Dakota, South Dakota and Oklahoma, with grain elevators from Omaha to Galveston loaded with wheat and corn belonging to the government.

A recent report stated that on February 1, 1955, American wheat was selling for $2.05 a bushel and American corn for $1.78 at Liverpool, and that wheat from Argentina was selling two or three cents less a bushel than U.S. wheat. The wheat grower of Nebraska should study that for several days and see if he can arrive at a conclusion that will bolster his hopes for the President's plan, and decide whether he will agree with the President that we are over the hump.

We agree that we are over the hump, but we are sliding down the wrong side of the hump, with disastrous results to Nebraska and the wheat growers of the United States. In short, we are sliding backward while trying to get to the top of the hump.

Propaganda

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: An article was handed to me a few days ago and I was shocked to find the untruths and innuendoes that this article contained. It was propaganda in the lowest form. Surely the American people cannot be fooled by such trickery. And surely such trash ought to be exposed.

Vote For Best Interests

Broken Bow, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The Democrats could have the last word in a successful campaign if they will only use it in the defense of the laboring men and women, the farmers, the small business men and women, and the old-age pensioners of this state. All men and women in all things must lay aside prejudice and vote the ballot that is for their best interests. The National Institute of Social Welfare believes in correcting the past mistakes for the good of all peoples. We are staking our faith in the Democratic party to make our road easier for our people in all walks of life.

Academic Freedom

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: As a University of Nebraska faculty wife and a former instructor at the university, I feel that I must take issue with Rev. Raible's statement that faculty members "almost unanimously . . . are discouraged . . . sick at heart . . . fearful." Mr. Raible has generalized this attitude as applying to the faculty as a whole, apparently from having heard this attitude expressed by a few. I believe this is an error.

Unfortunately there are always a few malcontents in any organization, but judging from our many faculty friends and acquaintances, I don't believe that the majority feel that their academic freedom is endangered. I do not want to make the same error or generalization which I believe Mr. Raible has made; hence I will not say that this feeling does not exist among some. But I do not think it is a general attitude, as Rev. Raible's statement implies.

It is true that the university has lost some fine teachers and that others are considering leaving, but those whom I know have gone to other universities because the salaries were much better and they felt they could not afford to stay here, definitely not because of any feeling that the proper atmosphere was not provided by this university.

I cannot speak for all professors but those of my acquaintance feel that Dr. Hardin has been doing a good job of trying to maintain a fine faculty and their allegiance is already with him.

Big Business

Big Springs, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: In a few days we will decide whether or not we shall continue an administration that conforms to the theory that when the benefits of government are made to fall on men of wealth and big business, the benefits will trickle down to the people to the extent that governmental concern for the general welfare is unnecessary and superfluous.

In the application of this theory, the government tends to become a mere adjunct of corporate big business. The President becomes a mere chairman of a board of directors and exercises few powers outside those required to conduct meetings. The powers of the President are exercised by this board of big business. The President relinquishes the constitutional powers of his office and becomes the mere ceremonial head of the nation, not unlike that of the queen of England, and becomes a part-time President.

Corruption is inevitable because the immorality of big business is transferred to government set up for profit instead of social service.

Concern For Safety

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: As a grandmother I am very concerned about the safety of my grandsons and our country. I have been following this campaign and see only fear and indecision brought before the people with this H-bomb issue being injected into the campaign. Shouldn't this be taken up in the United Nations?

It is time all of us women use our votes for the man we trust as our President, Mr. Eisenhower. Monday night from Boston, Stevenson accused the Republicans of a smear campaign, which makes me think of the talk Kefauver gave in New York on October 16. No Republican has given any talk to equal that.

Why all these accusations toward Mr. Nixon and all this talk about him as a possible President? What assurance does Mr. Stevenson have that he would live through the entire term of office if he were to be elected? What kind of a president would Kefauver make under such circumstances?

Mothers, let us all do some serious thinking.

Day Of Reckoning

Blair, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: There are quite definite indications of a "farm revolt" brewing over the Midlands. This will be evident November 7.

The so-called "farm squeeze" which is openly admitted by leaders of this administration in Washington is not entirely the result of over-production and drought. There is more, much, much more.

This administration is spending up to $41 billion per year in so-called peace times for defense and foreign aid. This keeps the factories going, big labor groups happy and big business profits high. There is some question just how much of spending for defense and foreign aid is necessary and just how much is "feeding the fat cats of business and labor."

Whichever, it is this indirect subsidization of big business and special interest groups which is causing the high prices for what farmers have to buy to work with. This unjustified "high profit taking" by big corporations both from what they sell the public and the government, this unbridled greed in high places, is adding to the farmer's woes.

One day Mr. Laborer and Mr. Middle-Class Citizen, working in the towns and cities of the middle plains states, will come to realize that their livelihood is directly tied in with the farmer. If the farmer breaks, they will break. The day of reckoning is not far off in Nebraska.

Food For Thought

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I have enjoyed Cecil Matthews, Fay L. Danker, Dewey Nemetz, and many others who write to "The People Speak," for it proves we have people who think and don't just swallow any political campaign speech they hear. The facts are a long way from what we hear from the supposed "truth squad." Everyone should know this if he has kept up with the fundamental acts of the past four years.

For example, a Republican-sponsored TV program depicted a group of poor school children going to an old run-down school house, and it was said that the Republicans felt bad about this true sad condition. Yet the truth is that the very first thing President Eisenhower did when he took office in 1952 was to revoke the Supreme Court ruling to give Tidelands oil millions to these school children. How short do they think our memories are?

Above all the name-calling, we have big problems such as schooling, farm and small business employment decline, preservation of our soil and forests, the need for big dams, high cost of living, medical care for the needy, foreign aid, the ton-mile tax, property tax, tax cuts for average incomes, etc.

And foremost is the increase of radio-activity fall-out and its results. The above mentioned would mean nothing if life were to be slowly and painfully ended. There is real food for thought, not only for us, but for all countries testing bombs.

Mamie On Stage

Papillion, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Can anyone imagine the late Mrs. William Jennings Bryan prancing around the stage at Madison Square Garden with an armful of American beauties, gesticulating and ballyhooing the crowd, while her illustrious husband as a presidential candidate was delivering a political address? This Mamie Eisenhower did recently while Ike was endeavoring to get off a series of smirking wisecracks, evidently prepared for him, the meanwhile finding it difficult to keep his spectacles either on or off, and trying to talk about anything other than the depreciation of the American dollar and the consequent inflation, or the domination of organized labor.

'Mideast Crisis Shows U.S. No Longer Leads,' Truman Claims

By BERNARD J. McDONALD

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (INS)—Former President Harry S. Truman said Wednesday that the Middle East crisis demonstrates "that the United States is no longer in fact the leader of the alliance of the free nations."

In an attack on what he called the "Eisenhower-Dulles foreign policies," Truman in a statement read to newsmen at his Kansas City office said:

"One of the principal foundation stones of our national security in the postwar world has been not so much the formal engagements among the United States, Great Britain and France as the existence among us of a spirit of mutual cooperation and trust . . .

Spirit Shattered

"Today that comradely spirit of trust and friendship in the great common enterprise of freedom seems to have been shattered.

"The events leading up to the present outbreak have been aggravated by an American foreign policy conducted not with regard to the vital and conflicting needs and interests of our allies and the Middle Eastrrn nations, but with eye to domestic politics.

Truman charged that President Eisenhower and his administration has been "misleading us by its reports of peaceful conditions in the world outside our borders."

The former president said:

"It is . . . clear that the United States is no longer in fact the leader of the alliance of the free nations. Seldom, if ever, has an American chief executive been treated with more humiliating indifference by friendly nations than President Eisenhower in the diplomatic events of the last few days.

"His notes have gone unanswered, his urgent appeals have been ignored, his advice has been brushed aside . . .

"However, the reason for this is equally clear. When a leader of a great alliance or coalition fails to have a responsible regard for the interests of the other members, they will take action on their own to safeguard those interests."

Referring to the Anglo-French action in the Israeli-Egyptian situation, Truman asserted:

"The mess into which we are now plunged is further dramatized by the fact that in the Security Council of the United Nations, our allies have used the veto against us and we have found ourselves voting in the company of our foe, the Sovict Union, against a nation we helped to create, Israel, which has long looked to us as its greatest friend.

"This incomprehensible situation is the result of a long series of partisan blunders in foreign affairs, failures of understanding, timidity and complacency."

No Decision Reached By Basin Group

AINSWORTH, Neb. (AP)—The general study committee of the Niobrara River Basin Compact Commisson, representing the federal government, Wyoming, South Dakota, and Nebraska, held a discussion of apportionment methods of establishing an equitable division of basin water at the state lines. No conclusions were reached.

The committee plans another meeting in January or February at a site to be named later. Committee members are Walter Blomgren, Denver, consulting engineer; Dan Jones, Nebraska Irrigation Department chief; L. C. Bishop, Wyoming State Engineer, and J. W. Truckers Avoid Tax Share Issue, Claims Anderson

AURORA, Neb. (AP)—A backer of the proposed ten-mile tax in Nebraska said Wednesday opponents "have decided to completely avoid the question: 'Do the big trucks pay their share of highway construction and maintenance costs?' "

"I have just examined an eight page pamphlet with which the opposition is blanketing the state of Nebraska," State Sen. Lester H. Anderson of Aurora related before a Rotary Club meeting here. "Not once do the big truckers claim that they are paying their fair share of highway use taxes. They do not even mention the subject."

This, he said, is one of two points in "the campaign strategy of the outstate trucking syndicates."

The other point, Sen. Anderson said, involves "the technique of absolute misrepresentation and confusion."

He said opposition arguments that the additional money is not needed for federal matching, and that the proposed law contains no provision for administration and enforcemet costs, fall in this category.

Travel Is Banned For Americans In Mideast Nations

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department Wednesday banned travel by American citizens into Egypt, Israel, Jordan and Syria except where a trip is judged to be "in the best interests of the United States."

The action was announced by Lincoln White, department press officer. He said that hereafter U.S. passports will carry the endorsement "this passport is not valid for travel to or in Egypt, Israel, Jordan and Syria."

In addition White said that all American Embassies and legations are being notified that Americans are no longer to go into those countries unless exceptions are made in individual cases.

The embassies and legations will notify authorities and transport offices, including airlines and shipping lines, of the American government policy.

'Mideast Crisis Shows U.S. No Longer Leads,' Truman Claims

By BERNARD J. McDONALD

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (INS)—Former President Harry S. Truman said Wednesday that the Middle East crisis demonstrates "that the United States is no longer in fact the leader of the alliance of the free nations."

In an attack on what he called the "Eisenhower-Dulles foreign policies," Truman in a statement read to newsmen at his Kansas City office said:

"One of the principal foundation stones of our national security in the postwar world has been not so much the formal engagements among the United States, Great Britain and France as the existence among us of a spirit of mutual cooperation and trust . . .

Spirit Shattered

"Today that comradely spirit of trust and friendship in the great common enterprise of freedom seems to have been shattered.

"The events leading up to the present outbreak have been aggravated by an American foreign policy conducted not with regard to the vital and conflicting needs and interests of our allies and the Middle Eastrrn nations, but with eye to domestic politics.

Truman charged that President Eisenhower and his administration has been "misleading us by its reports of peaceful conditions in the world outside our borders."

The former president said:

"It is . . . clear that the United States is no longer in fact the leader of the alliance of the free nations. Seldom, if ever, has an American chief executive been treated with more humiliating indifference by friendly nations than President Eisenhower in the diplomatic events of the last few days.

"His notes have gone unanswered, his urgent appeals have been ignored, his advice has been brushed aside . . .

"However, the reason for this is equally clear. When a leader of a great alliance or coalition fails to have a responsible regard for the interests of the other members, they will take action on their own to safeguard those interests."

Referring to the Anglo-French action in the Israeli-Egyptian situation, Truman asserted:

"The mess into which we are now plunged is further dramatized by the fact that in the Security Council of the United Nations, our allies have used the veto against us and we have found ourselves voting in the company of our foe, the Soviet Union, against a nation we helped to create, Israel, which has long looked to us as its greatest friend.

"This incomprehensible situation is the result of a long series of partisan blunders in foreign affairs, failures of understanding, timidity and complacency."

NU Team Places Second In Meet

A University of Nebraska judging team placed second in the butter division of the International Collegiate Dairy Products Judging contest at Atlantic City, N.J.

Teams from 33 states entered the contest held in connection with the Dairy Industry Exposition.

No Decision Reached By Basin Group

AINSWORTH, Neb. (AP)—The general study committee of the Niobrara River Basin Compact Commisson, representing the federal government, Wyoming, South Dakota, and Nebraska, held a discussion of apportionment methods of establishing an equitable division of basin water at the state lines. No conclusions were reached.

The committee plans another meeting in January or February at a site to be named later. Committee members are Walter Blomgren, Denver, consulting engineer; Dan Jones, Nebraska Irrigation Department chief; L. C. Bishop, Wyoming State Engineer, and J. W. Grimes, South Dakota Water Resources Division chief.

Truckers Avoid Tax Share Issue, Claims Anderson

AURORA, Neb. (AP)—A backer of the proposed ton-mile tax in Nebraska said Wednesday opponents "have decided to completely avoid the question: 'Do the big trucks pay their share of highway construction and maintenance costs?'"

"I have just examined an eight page pamphlet with which the opposition is blanketing the state of Nebraska," State Sen. Lester H. Anderson of Aurora related before a Rotary Club meeting here. "Not once do the big truckers claim that they are paying their fair share of highway use taxes. They do not even mention the subject."

This, he said, is one of two points in "the campaign strategy of the outstate trucking syndicates."

The other point, Sen. Anderson said, involves "the technique of absolute misrepresentation and confusion."

He said opposition arguments that the additional money is not needed for federal matching, and that the proposed law contains no provision for administration and enforcemet costs, fall in this category.

Travel Is Banned For Americans In Mideast Nations

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department Wednesday banned travel by American citizens into Egypt, Israel, Jordan and Syria except where a trip is judged to be "in the best interests of the United States."

The action was announced by Lincoln White, department press officer. He said that hereafter U.S. passports will carry the endorsement "this passport is not valid for travel to or in Egypt, Israel, Jordan and Syria."

In addition White said that all American Embassies and legations are being notified that Americans are no longer to go into those countries unless exceptions are made in individual cases.

The embassies and legations will notify authorities and transport offices, including airlines and shipping lines, of the American government policy.

Ex-Omaha Lawyer Leaves Treasury

WASHINGTON (AP)—Laurens Williams, assistant to the secretary of the treasury and head of the treasury's legal advisory staff, has resigned to resume private law practice.

Williams, a native of Pottsville, Pa., had been practicing law for many years in Omah before joining the treasury staff. He plans next month to become a partner in a Washington law firm.

STAN DELAPLANE'S

POSTCARD

"Bob lost three-fifths of his money and had $3 left. How much had he at first.

"This seems to me a matter between you and the teacher. And possibly Bob." I answered. "I would say offhand he did not lose much, being already on the shorts."

These questions came to me from a school book called "Progress in Arithmetic." The title is misleading. We are making mighty little progress.

"In my salad days," I said, "I did most of my work on some comical characters called 'A', 'B' and 'C.'

"I recall that 'A' and 'B' were constantly rowing upstream. While 'C' rowed downstream at a greater rate of speed which I have fortunately forgotten.

"As I grew older, the outboard motor was invented. And the thought of all these calculations going for nothing put me in such a fury that I regard arithmetic with a good deal of gloom to this day."

It truly seems like double jeopardy. That a man should clamber with so much agony up the educational ladder. And then have it brought home again in his restful years by his children.

I cannot begin to answer the questions in the book. And if the teacher can, I regard her as a blooming genius.

"A triangular bandage having a base of 18 inches and an altitude of 24 inches has what area?"

This seems to me a query that would not even interest the victim of an automobile accident. It would cover a lot of area is what I think. Next question.

* * *

"A gas stove marked $64 was reduced 12 per cent. Find the net price."

I am slow on progress. But I have progressed enough to know that it is pretty hard to find a gas stove that sells for $64. The way household things are priced these days is a caution. I would not answer this question. I would keep the old stove or barbecue outdoors. It is very chic to barbecue these days. I would drop this question in the name of progress.

Well, these problems seem more difficult each year. Though I suppose I, too, did such homework once.

"You must do your homework yourself," I said firmly, "for it would be cheating if I helped you. However, the stores do a lot of it for you. You look at the stove and on it is a price tag with the price. Through this they have drawn a big red line. And below, it says, 'Reduced to'. Below that is the net price."

* * *

Believe me, progress comes hard enough without unbelievable problems. I didn't think this could happen to me. Not again. Upstream, downstream. And three times up for air.

Eden Snubs Protests On Egypt Action

LONDON (INS) — Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden, rejecting a vigorous protest from President Eisenhower and the angry opposition of the Labor Party, defended Anglo-French military intervention in Egypt as the "discharge of our national duty."

Amid shouts of "resign" from the Laborite benches, Eden told an uproarious session of the House of Commons Wednesday:

"We stand by what we said and we shall carry it out."

When Eden had finished his brief speech, Labor party leader Hugh Gaitskell jumped to his feet to label the government's action as "aggression . . . and a breach of the U.N. Charter." He added:

"We must tell the government and the country we cannot support the action they have taken and shall feel bound by every constitutional means at our disposal to oppose it."

Thus, at possibly the most critical time in Britain since 1939, the government was left standing alone with the representatives of half the British people ranged against it.

Eden Slammed

LONDON (INS) — Several British newspapers editorially slammed Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden for what they referred to as a policy of Anglo-French "aggression" against Egypt.

The Thursday morning edition of the London Daily Mirror said in commenting on the Anglo-French bombing offensive against Egyptian targets:

"There is no treaty, no international authority, no moral sanction for this desperate action."

The Manchester Guardian said:

"The world must be told clearly that millions of British people are deeply shocked by the aggressive policy of her majesty's government.

"Its action in attacking Egypt is a disaster of the first magnitude."

The Laborite Daily Herald said:

"The voice of the people must din into the government's ears a demand to call off this lunatic aggression . . . World opinion regards us as aggressors and hypocrites."

The News Chronicle commented:

"Only a miracle can save the Prime Minister now. There can be no further confidence in a man who has brought his country to such a dangerous state of ignominy and confusion."

Condemned

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (INS) — The powerful Afro-Asian U.N. bloc officially condemned the "naked aggression" by Britain, France and Israel in attacking Egypt.

The group met immediately after the Security Council convoked an emergency session of the 76-nation General Assembly for Thursday to demand an end to the armed intervention in Egypt.

The group also affirmed their confidence in Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold who earlier symbol his entire position as United Nations chief on the principle that the invading forces must withdraw from Egyptian territory.

The bloc endorsed the summoning of the Special Assembly session and began work on a resolution calling for an immediate stop to the armed attack on Egypt.

Members of the bloc issued a statement which said that "no member of the United Nations — not even a permanent member of the Security Council — may take the law into its own hands."

Hunter Gets Fine Of $60

BEATRICE, Neb.—Virgil Tiedeman of Firth was fined $60 and costs for carrying a loaded shotgun in his car on a public road and unlawfully shooting and possessing two hen pheasants.

Arrested by Conservation Officer Harlan Huppert, he was one of the first persons charged in Justice of the Peace Roscoe B. Davidson's court since the pheasant hunting season opened.

Others, each charged Wednesday with having loaded shotguns in their cars and fined $10 and costs, were Larry Ragan of Lincoln and George Fox Jr. and Freeman W. Fox, both of Council Bluffs, Ia.

Engineers Honor Ex-Lincoln Man

Richard L. Buttery, son of Mrs. H. R. Buttery of Lincoln, has been honored for "outstanding" work at the Corps of Engineers' Research and Development Laboratories, Ft. Belvoir, Va.

Buttery, a 1940 University of Nebraska mechanical engineering graduate, received a $300 check and performance award certificate for his "sustained superior performance of duties" as chief of the review and analysis branch of the laboratory's comptroller's office.

A lieutenant colonel in the Army Reserve, Buttery has worked at Ft. Belvoir since 1950. He is married to the former Maxene Richards of Lincoln.

Nebraska Gas Tax Revenue Takes Dip

Gas tax revenue in Nebraska for October was lower than both the preceeding month's revenue and that of a year ago October, according to a report released Wednesday by the State Division of Motor Fuels.

October receipts totalled $2,631,109.82, compared with $2,962,218.81 for September and $2,692,415.01 for October, 1955, the report stated.

Total receipts for October from taxes on motor fuels, special fuels and Aircraft fuels were $2,763,652.88, compared with $3,109,076.24 for September and $2,811,703.60 for October, 1955.

Scouts, Kiwanis Club To Encourage Voting

Boy Scouts, Cubs and Explorers in the Cornhusker Council will join Kiwanis Club members in southeast Nebraska for a get-out-the-vote campaign Saturday.

They will go from house to house distributing "Liberty Bell" door knob hangers furnished by the Freedoms Foundation, which like Scouts and Kiwanis is a non-profit, non-partisan organization.

Science Develops New Tablet:

Relieves Painful Monthly Cramps For 3 out of 4 Women Tested! Gives Greater Relief Than Aspirin!

Boston, Mass. (Special)—New promise of relief for women who suffer tortures of monthly cramps and nervous tension is found in an amazing new tablet . . . developed especially to relieve this female discomfort. It offers greater relief than aspirin during that distressing period each month!

Doctors report remarkable results. For 3 out of 4 women tested, pain and cramps were stopped or strikingly relieved. Even on the first day, many had no nagging headaches, no backaches or other functionally-caused distress . . . were also less jittery the trying week before their period!

The new tablet contains not just one or two ingredients but a unique combination of special medicines. That's why this new discovery offers more relief than plain aspirin! Unlike such "general-purpose" remedies, it acts on the cause of distress. Has amazing power to calm uterine contractions, also works through a woman's sympathetic nervous system.

Called "Lydia Pinkham's Tablets," the formula was developed by the world's largest manufacturer devoted exclusively to relief of women's ailments! Easy-to-take new Pinkham's Tablets are now available at all drug stores without a prescription.

So don't suffer needlessly. Take Pinkham's Tablets yourself. See if you don't feel worlds better this very month. See if you don't escape much of the irritability and discomfort—both before and during those "difficult days." (For liquid form . . . ask for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.)

The group also affirmed their confidence in Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold who earlier staked his entire position as United Nations chief on the principle that the invading forces must withdraw from Egyptian territory.

The bloc endorsed the summoning of the Special Assembly session and began work on a resolution calling for an immediate stop to the armed attack on Egypt.

Members of the bloc issued a statement which said that "no member of the United Nations — not even a permanent member of the Security Council — may take the law into its own hands."

Science Develops New Tablet:

Relieves Painful Monthly Cramps For 3 out of 4 Women Tested! Gives Greater Relief Than Aspirin!

Boston, Mass. (Special)—New promise of relief for women who suffer tortures of monthly cramps and nervous tension is found in an amazing new tablet . . . developed especially to relieve this female discomfort. It offers greater relief than aspirin during that distressing period each month!

Doctors report remarkable results. For 3 out of 4 women tested, pain and cramps were stopped or strikingly relieved. Even on the first day, many had no nagging headaches, no backaches or other functionally-caused distress . . . were also less jittery the trying week before their period!

The new tablet contains not just one or two ingredients but a unique combination of special medicines. That's why this new discovery offers more relief than plain aspirin! Unlike such "general-purpose" remedies, it acts on the cause of distress. Has amazing power to calm uterine contractions, also works through a woman's sympathetic nervous system.

Called "Lydia Pinkham's Tablets," the formula was developed by the world's largest manufacturer devoted exclusively to relief of women's ailments! Easy-to-take new Pinkham's Tablets are now available at all drug stores without a prescription.

So don't suffer needlessly. Take Pinkham's Tablets yourself. See if you don't feel worlds better this very month. See if you don't escape much of the irritability and discomfort—both before and during those "difficult days." (For liquid form . . . ask for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.)

United Campaign Total Reaches 94% Goal

The United Campaign of the Lincoln Community Chest and Red Cross reached 94 per cent of its goal as its report Wednesday brought total donations to $544,552.

The day's report totaled $13,350.

Elwood N. (Jack) Thompson, drive chairman, urged all workers to complete their reports by Friday.

Division reports, with Wednesday's amounts listed first:

Advance gifts, $7,726; $311,323 total; 93 per cent of goal.

Industrial and automotive, $2,038; $63,541 total; 89 per cent of goal.

Business and professional, $262; $62,300 total; 92 per cent of goal.

Foods and services, $236; $28,240 total; 106 per cent of goal.

Public departments, $2,938; $64,158 total; 93 per cent of goal.

Women's division, $130; $14,589 total; 99 per cent of goal.

Five more colonels received Oscars: Joseph Schleckman and G. W. Billmyer for railroads-City Lines; Clarence Carlson for manufacturers; Eugene Edwards for hospitals; Mrs. Gilbert Deitemeyer for her unit in the women's division.

Weather Ahead

Extended forecast for Nebraska:

Temperatures will average near normal in the west to 5 to 10 degrees above in the east; normal maximum temperatures range from near 50 northwest to 60 southeast; minimum temperatures range from the middle 20s northwest to middle 30s southeast; cooler Friday; warmer about Sunday and cooler again about Tuesday; precipitation is expected to range from about .10 of an inch in the west to about ½ inch in the east occurring as showers about Friday and again about Monday.

State Medical Group Urges Diabetes Tests

Nebraska State Medical Association members, taking part in the annual National Diabetes Detection Week beginning Nov. 11, will try to help find Nebraska's share of the more than a million unknown diabetics in the United States.

The physicians are urging everyone to be tested for diabetes because the symptoms, which include excessive urination, loss of weight, easy tiring, change in vision and slow healing of cuts, do not occur as warning signals in mild cases.

Taxpayers League Official Supports Legal Ad Change

More support has been added to the proposed city charter amendment to be voted on Nov. 6 which deals with the publication of Lincoln's legal notices.

Support this time came in a letter to the City Council from Ed H. Schroeder, member of the Citizens Defense Taxpayers League. This group was opposed to the three bond issue proposals on last summer's ballot.

Schroeder said he viewed the proposed change as "the solution to a very serious and perplexing problem confronting us today."

The amendment would remove the present limit of 25 cents a square that the city can pay for legal notice advertising. Itwould also materially reduce the required number of such publications.

Schroeder pointed out that the limit was fixed in 1887 and is now "entirely too small."

Chemist Stresses Medical Benefits

Industrial research has contributed enormously to the growth and economic welfare of the country, to the decrease of pain, disease and suffering, and to reducing the price of medicinal products to the public, a nationally-known chemist said Wednesday evening.

Dr. Randolph T. Major, University of Nebraska alumnus and recently retired vice president of Merck & Co., Inc., delivered the seventh annual Avery Lecture at the University on "Industry's Contribution to Medical Progress."

The former Nebraskan emphasized that industrial research, "entirely by itself, accomplishes little in the field of medical research."

Medical Research

He added: "The great medical research problems of our days are being attacked and solved by teams of investigators from universities, government, research institutes, and hospitals as well as from industrial research laboratories."

He pointed out that research may be the most important single factor in at least two-thirds of the economic growth of the country.

Discussing the importance of research in the medical field, Dr. Major said that today 46 per cent of all prescriptions in this country call for antibiotics.

Cortisone

He added that cortisone, another result of research, is being used in the treatment of rheumatoid arthritis all over the world, as well as for the treatment of some 50 othed diseases, including asthma, hay fever and hives.

Dr. Major explained, "It is commonly calculated that 70 per cent of drug sales today are of products that did not exist ten years ago, and that 90 per cent of the preseriptions written by doctors today could not have been filled 15 years ago."

Turning to the question of the price of drugs, the chemist said: "In spite of the great many new drugs now available, the cost of drugs to the American public represents a smaller proportion of its total expenses for keeping healthy than was the case before World War II, when many of the drugs used today, including the antibiotics, were unknown.

"It has been shown recently that 18.3 per cent of our expenses for keeping healthy in 1939 was spent for drugs and only 14.5 per cent in 1953."

Incentives

In conclusion, he said, "The incentives offered to industry by our competitive, free enterprise system have encouraged industry, through prospects of patents and profits, to support active, energetic, research programs which have rebounded to the benefit of all of us.

"Let us hope that this activity so vital to the public welfare will continue to carry on its beneficient role in our country and in the world."

The annual Avery lecture is supported by a fund established through the University Foundation by the Palladian Alumni Association in honor of Chancellor Samuel Avery.

'Foot Doctors Not Able To Prescribe Narcotics'—Beck

Attorney General C. S. Beck ruled Wednesday in a legal opinion requested by State Health Director Sinco a chiropodist, or foot doctors cannot legally prescribe and administer narcotic drugs.

Beck said that, according to the statutes, only physicians, dentists or veterinarians may "prescribe, administer and dispense" narcotic drugs. Since a chiropodist, or foot doctor, is none of these, according to the legal opinion, he must limit his use of drugs to local anaesthetics.

Hagerty Says British, French Gave U.S. No Advance Notice Of Bombardment On Egypt

WASHINGTON (AP) — James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said Wednesday that so far as he knows the British and French governments gave the United States no advance notice they were commencing bombardment against Egypt.

At a news conference shortly after Britian officially announced launching of the combined air and sea attack, Hagerty said President Eisenhower received his first word of the action from the U.S. Intelligence services.

In reply to questions, Hagerty said Eisenhower got the information "a little before" it reached the White House in news dispatches.

'Aggressors'

A reporter asked Hagerty whether, under what the newsmen termed previous U.S. policy, there was any chance the United States will ask that Britain and France will "be branded as aggressors."

Hagerty replied:

"I refer you to the State Department on that."

After Eden Action

LONDON (AP) — Britain's Foreign Office Wednesday night issued a special statement saying the United States was not informed of the British-French cease-fire ultimatum to Egypt and Israel until after Prime Minister Eden rose to announce it in Parliament.

The statement corrected a Foreign Office spokesman who told newsmen that information of the ultimatum went to the U.S. government before Eden spoke Tuesday.

It also contradicted the Prime Minister himself. He had told the House of Commons the U. S. government had been advised before he spoke.

The Foreign Office special statement said U. S. Ambassador Winthrop Aldrich was not given the news officially until after Eden was in the House and about to speak.

Bitter

The question of when the United States was informed of the British-French action provoked bitter recriminations in the House of Commons.

Labor party leader Hugh Gaitskell kept up much of the attack on Eden.

He accused Eden of endangering the British - American alliance, which he termed a cornerstone of British foreign policy.

Eden tried to placate shouting Laborites by saying the Eisenhower administration had been told immediately of the impending ultimatum.

It was learned that the U.S. Embassy complained to the Foreign Office this was not true, and the Foreign Office statement followed.

There were cries of "shame" and "resign" for Eden as Gaitskell quoted reports that U.S. officials believed Britain and France approved the Israeli invasion of Egypt "as an excuse to reoccupy the canal zone."

Neither Eden nor other government spokesmen answered that.

Disappointed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dullles were reported bitterly disappointed and angry that America's two main European allies had sweepingly rebuffed their efforts to halt the attack on Egypt.

The British-French action, in the view of officials here, rocks the very foundations of the postwar network of Western alliances.

Hagerty disclosed that in a futile effort to block the British-French attack Eisenhower during the past few days had sent "several personal messages" to British Prime Minister Eden.

These messages apparently were part of the almost frantic backstage maneuvering by the White House after getting wind of the imminent outbreak of hostilities in the tension-riddled Middle East.

French Premier Guy Mollet and Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion of Israel, whose troops touched off the fighting by invading Egypt's Sinai Peninsula Monday, have sent secret messages of their own to Eisenhower, Hagerty said. He declined to disclose their contents.

She cancelled a talk in Buffalo on "Life in Israel" in her cross-country tour on behalf of the Israel Bond Campaign to return home "by the speediest way possible" at her father's request.

Hagerty Says British, French Gave U.S. No Advance Notice Of Bombardment On Egypt

WASHINGTON (AP) — James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said Wednesday that so far as he knows the British and French governments gave the United States no advance notice they were commencing bombardment against Egypt.

At a news conference shortly after Britian officially announced launching of the combined air and sea attack, Hagerty said President Eisenhower received his first word of the action from the U.S. Intelligence services.

In reply to questions, Hagerty said Eisenhower got the information "a little before" it reached the White House in news dispatches.

'Aggressors'

A reporter asked Hagerty whether, under what the newsmen termed previous U.S. policy, there was any chance the United States will ask that Britain and France will "be branded as aggressors."

Hagerty replied:

"I refer you to the State Department on that."

After Eden Action

LONDON (AP) — Britain's Foreign Office Wednesday night issued a special statement saying the United States was not informed of the British-French cease-fire ultimatum to Egypt and Israel until after Prime Minister Eden rose to announce it in Parliament.

The statement corrected a Foreign Office spokesman who told newsmen that information of the ultimatum went to the U.S. government before Eden spoke Tuesday.

It also contradicted the Prime Minister himself. He had told the House of Commons the U.S. government had been advised before he spoke.

The Foreign Office special statement said U.S. Ambassador Winthrop Aldrich was not given the news officially until after Eden was in the House and about to speak.

Bitter

The question of when the United States was informed of the British-French action provoked bitter recriminations in the House of Commons.

Labor party leader Hugh Gaitskell kept up much of the attack on Eden.

He accused Eden of endangering the British - American alliance, which he termed a cornerstone of British foreign policy.

Eden tried to placate shouting Laborites by saying the Eisenhower administration had been told immediately of the impending ultimatum.

It was learned that the U.S. Embassy complained to the Foreign Office this was not true, and the Foreign Office statement followed.

There were cries of "shame" and "resign" for Eden as Gaitskell quoted reports that U.S. officials believed Britain and France approved the Israeli invasion of Egypt "as an excuse to reoccupy the canal zone."

Neither Eden nor other government spokesmen answered that.

Disappointed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles were reported bitterly disappointed and angry that America's two main European allies had sweepingly rebuffed their efforts to halt the attack on Egypt.

The British-French action, in the view of officials here, rocks the very foundations of the postwar network of Western alliances.

Hagerty disclosed that in a futile effort to block the British-French attack Eisenhower during the past few days had sent "several personal messages" to British Prime Minister Eden.

These messages apparently were part of the almost frantic backstage maneuvering by the White House after getting wind of the imminent outbreak of hostilities in the tension-riddled Middle East.

French Premier Guy Mollet and Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion of Israel, whose troops touched off the fighting by invading Egypt's Sinai Peninsula Monday, have sent secret messages of their own to Eisenhower, Hagerty said. He declined to disclose their contents.

BADOGLIO DIES AT 85

GRAZZANO BADOGLIO, Italy (Thursday) (AP)—Marshall Pietro Badoglio, who conquered Ethiopia for Mussolini and eventually signed Italy's unconditional surrender in World War II, died here Wednesday in obscure retirement. He was 85.

In failing health for months, he left his home in Rome last August to return to his native village—Grazzano Badoglio. It had been named Grazzano d'Asti, but was renamed in his honor.

She cancelled a talk in Buffalo on "Life in Israel" in her cross-country tour on behalf of the Israel Bond Campaign to return home "by the speediest way possible" at her father's request.

Pair Of Teenagers Jailed After Flight In Stolen Cars

BURWELL, Neb. (AP) — Two boys, 14 and 13, were in jail here Wednesday after a flight in stolen cars had touched off a large-scale manhunt in the Thedford area.

State Safety Patrolman John Nelson of Broken Bow said both boys were from Aurora.

Thomas County Sheriff Cecil Avey and Patrolman Nelson found the boys lying in a roadside ditch, cold and hungry, Tuesday night.

Nelson said the youths had skipped school in Aurora and had stolen a car which later slipped in a ditch. The officer said the boys stole another car and drove through Grand Island and up State Highway 2 to near Thedford where the second car was abandoned because of mechanical trouble.

The pair hitchhiked to Seneca and took a third car, the officer said, but this time were seen, touching off a search. The car was ditched five miles west of Thedford.

Meanwhile, almost the entire male population of Thedford turned out to take part in the hunt.

The pair were still at large at nightfall. Avey and Nelson spotted their foot prints on the road where the car was abandoned. The prints led toward the highway.

The two boys were found about three miles west of Thedford.

No charges have been filed.

Arab Student Lauds U.S. Position On Mideast

By NANCY BENJAMIN
Star Staff Writer

"The United States gives an example for all the world because she is trying her best not to use force in solving international problems in order that peace can be preserved for humanity."

This was the thoughtful statement of Abdul Rakim, president of the Arab students organization at the University of Nebraska, after listening to President Eisenhower's statement on the Israeli-Egyptian crisis Wednesday night.

"At the same time I would like to give a word for all Americans that what England, France and and Israel are trying to do is against the laws of the United Nations," he said, "and is something against which all others will fight to the end.

"I do think that war will not, by any means sooner or later, solve any international problem when we have the United Nations, international laws, justice and peace. These are the only factors that solve such problems."

Rakim is a graduate student in civil engineering at the university. A native of Jerusalem, Jordan, he has been in this country for over a year.

He and nine other students from Arab nations formed the student organization at the U of N last year, and meet to discuss their experiences and the international situation.

Rakim warned that if war should break out in the Mideast, it will be to the disadvantage of England, France and Israel and generally for the free world.

'Negotiation, Understanding'

"We have seen from former experience in Korea, Indo-China and Eastern Europe that military domination could not solve what we could do through peaceful negotiations, understanding and friendship," he said.

The Arab student said he was worried about Americans' opinion of Arab-Russian ties, which he called "a superficial kind of relationship."

He commented that some critics think Arab-Russian ties will lead to loss of freedom to the Soviet Union.

"This will never happen," he said. "The Arabs, one by one, in all the Arab states, believe in one and only one thing — that they should be free from any foreign domination whether it comes from the East or from the West."

Leader Cheered

TOKYO, (Thursday) (AP) —Japanese Prime Minister Ichiro Hatoyama brought home a World War settlement with Russia to a flag-waving welcome by nearly 8,000 persons.

A cheer went up from a huge crowd perched all over Tokyo International Airport when the beaming prime minister waved his handkerchief.

'Students Demanding Liberty' Says Austrian High Schooler

By MARGARET DVORAK
Star Staff Writer

"It is the students of Communist suppressed countries who demand more liberty," thinks 16-year-old Heinz Kronberg, exchange student from Austria, and a senior at Northeast High School. "The masses don't feel as strongly, and the students, of course, are the intellectuals."

He related an interesting sidelight — only the children of farmers and laborers are encouraged to go to college in East Germany. The children of engineers and doctors can go only with special permission from the government. It is part of the Communist plan to keep those most likely to have liberal views and to lead revolts from gaining means of expression, Heinz believes.

Nevertheless, there is great general unrest, with many families escaping across the borders from Hungary to Austria and from East to West Germany.

Heinz' family has relatives or friends in Hungary, Czechoslovakia, and East Germany.

Heinz is enthusiastic about prospects for a more liberal government in Hungary. "Nagy has promised that a free election will be held, and I believe it will be done," he said. The coalition government will probably still be Communist dominated, but it will be more on the Tito style, Heinz believes, and will grant more independence.

Heinz also thinks Nagy may hold good on his former plan (before his purge) for division of the farms —a move away from collectivization.

"I believe there will be greater freedom for the Church in Hungary now. The Catholic Church is considered the great enemy of Communism." People who attend in Czechoslovakia, East Germany, and Hungary fear they will be persecuted or lose their jobs. "But the Hungarian people are very pious; the Communists can't get the Church out of their hearts," was the way he expressed it.

Friends of his mother who have traveled in Hungary report that living conditions there are very poor. A month's wages will buy a poor-quality coat. The Russians have emphasized heavy industrialization while neglecting agriculture in that fertile land. Hungary will probably welcome U. S. aid now, because the heavy industry must be maintained, but the Russians will try to woo them back with their own aid," Heinz predicts.

What is the sentiment toward America in Communist-controlled areas? "Of course, some would like to have direct U.S. aid in armaments and troops, but I know the U. S. cannot do that without the danger of getting into war with Russia," Heinz said.

Heinz was anxious to let us know his native Austria's feelings about Communism. "We have lived under Russian occupation, and we know that Communism is bad," he said emphatically.

INFORMER LIED IN SHEPPARD MURDER CASE

CLEVELAND (INS)—The new investigation into the Marilyn Sheppard murder case blew up Wednesday when a teen-aged "informant" said she had lied in her story to Chief Assistant Cuyahoga County Prosecutor Saul S. Danaceau.

Danaceau said Margaret Jackson of near Wheeling, W.Va., was questioned for almost an hour and a half Wednesday about her story that she, another girl and a man were near the Sheppard home early on July 4, 1954, when the Bay Village woman was slain.

"She finally conceded that what she said was not correct," Danaceau said. "She would not give any reason why she made the statements."

Dr. Sam Sheppard, the victim's husband, was convicted of the murder and is serving a life term in the Ohio Penitentiary.

Mindszenty 'May' Be New Premier

VIENNA (AP) — The Czechoslovak radio said that Josef Cardinal Mindszenty may become Hungary's new premier. Mindszenty was liberated by Hungarian troops Tuesday night and returned triumphantly to Budapest Wednesday. The brief broadcast did not state the source of its report.

Rev. Rabe, 93, Dies; Rites On Friday

Rev. Mr. Rabe

The Rev. Martin Schroeder will officiate. Burial will be in Lincoln Memorial Park.

The Rev. Mr. Rabe, who died Wednesday, had been a guest at Tabitha Home the past year.

A native of Germany, he came to Lincoln in 1914 as pastor of St. John's. From 1927 to 1934 he was a professor at Martin Luther Seminary here. It is now located at Fremont.

The Rev. Mr. Rabe, who had been statistician and historian of the synod from 1911 to 1913 and from 1915 to 1923, received a doctor of divinity degree from Midland College at Fremont, in 1930.

An Author

He was author of "Flowers of the Prairie," a book of poems.

Born at Wenden, Hannover, Germany, he attended Cathedral Gymnasium at Verden and studied theology and philosophy at the University of Goettingen, graduating in 1887.

He was ordained in Hannover in 1893 and came to Randolph and Bloomfield, Neb., in 1906. He served St. Mark's Church there until he came to Lincoln.

Two Sentenced For Fraudulent Checks

Philmon Immenschuh, 33, of 2821 A was sentenced to 18 months in the Penitentiary for issuing a no-account check Oct. 11.

Philip Litt Jr., 35, of 1415 P was sentenced to a one-year Reformatory term for an Oct. 6 no-account check.

Both had pleaded guilty to the charges when arraigned.

Arab Student Lauds U.S. Position On Mideast

By NANCY BENJAMIN
Star Staff Writer

"The United States gives an example for all the world because she is trying her best not to use force in solving international problems in order that peace can be preserved for humanity."

This was the thoughtful statement of Abdul Rakim, president of the Arab students organization at the University of Nebraska, after listening to President Eisenhower's statement on the Israeli-Egyptian crisis Wednesday night.

"At the same time I would like to give a word for all Americans that what England, France and and Israel are trying to do is against the laws of the United Nations," he said, "and is something against which all others will fight to the end.

"I do think that war will not, by any means sooner or later, solve any international problem when we have the United Nations international laws, justice and peace. These are the only factors that solve such problems."

Rakim is a graduate student in civil engineering at the university. A native of Jerusalem Jordan, he has been in this country for over a year.

He and nine other students in Arab nations formed the student organization at the U of N last year, and meet to discuss their experiences and the international situation.

Rakim warned that if war should break out in the Mideast it will be to the disadvantage of England, France and Israel and generally for the free world.

'Negotiation, Understanding'

"We have seen from former experience in Korea, Indo-China and Eastern Europe that military domination could not solve what we could do through peaceful negotiations, understanding and friendship," he said.

The Arab student said he was worried about Americans' opinion of Arab-Russian ties, which he called "a superficial kind of relationship."

He commented that some critics think Arab-Russian ties will lead to loss of freedom to the Soviet Union.

"This will never happen," he said. "The Arabs, one by one, in all the Arab states believe in one and only one thing — that they should be free from any foreign domination whether it comes from the East or from the West."

Leader Cheered

TOKYO (Thursday) (AP) —Japanese Prime Minister Ichiro Hatoyama brought home a World War settlement with Russia to a flag-waving welcome by nearly 8,000 persons.

A cheer went up from a huge crowd perched all over Tokyo International Airport when the beaming prime minister waved his handkerchief.

'Students Demanding Liberty' Says Austrian High Schooler

By MARGARET DVORAK
Star Staff Writer

"It is the students of Communist suppressed countries who demand more liberty," thinks 16-year-old Heinz Kronberg, exchange student from Austria, and a senior at Northeast High School. "The masses don't feel as strongly, and the students, of course, are the intellectuals."

He related an interesting sidelight — only the children of farmers and laborers are encouraged to go to college in East Germany. The children of engineers and doctors can go only with special permission from the government. It is part of the Communist plan to keep those most likely to have liberal views and to lead revolts from gaining means of expression, Heinz believes.

Nevertheless, there is great general unrest, with many families escaping across the borders from Hungary to Austria and from East to West Germany.

Heinz' family has relatives or friends in Hungary, Czechoslovakia, and East Germany.

Heinz is enthusiastic about prospects for a more liberal government in Hungary. "Nagy has promised that a free election will be held, and I believe it will be done," he said. The coalition government will probably still be Communist dominated, but it will be more on the Tito style, Heinz believes, and will grant more independence.

Heinz also thinks Nagy may hold good on his former plan (before his purge) for division of the farms —a move away from collectivization.

"I believe there will be greater freedom for the Church in Hungary now. The Catholic Church is considered the great enemy of Communism." People who attend in Czechoslovakia, East Germany and Hungary fear they will be persecuted or lose their jobs. "But the Hungarian people are very pious, the Communists can't get the Church out of their hearts," was the way he expressed it.

Friends of his mother who have traveled in Hungary report that living conditions there are very poor. A month's wages will buy a poor-quality coat. The Russians have emphasized heavy industrialization while neglecting agriculture in that fertile land. Hungary will probably welcome U. S. aid now, because the heavy industry must be maintained, but the Russians will try to woo them back with their own aid, Heinz predicts.

What is the sentiment toward America in Communist controlled areas? "Of course some would like to have direct U S aid in armaments and troops, but I know the U S cannot do that without the danger of getting into war with Russia," Heinz said.

Heinz was anxious to let us know his native Austria's feelings about Communism. "We have lived under Russian occupation, and we know that Communism is bad," he said emphatically.

INFORMER LIED IN SHEPPARD MURDER CASE

CLEVELAND (INS)—The new investigation into the Marilyn Sheppard murder case blew up Wednesday when a teen-aged "informant" said she had lied in her story to Chief Assistant Cuyahoga County Prosecutor Saul S. Danaceau.

Danaceau said Margaret Jackson of near Wheeling, W. Va., was questioned for almost an hour and a half Wednesday about her story that she, another girl and a man were near the Sheppard home early on July 4, 1951, when the Bay Village woman was slain.

She finally conceded that what she said was not correct, Danaceau said. "She would not give any reason why she made the statements."

Dr. Sam Sheppard, the victim's husband, was convicted of the murder and is serving a life term in the Ohio Penitentiary.

Mindszenty 'May' Be New Premier

VIENNA (AP) — The Czechoslovak radio said that Josef Cardinal Mindszenty may become Hungary's new premier. Mindszent was liberated by Hungarian troops Tuesday night and returned triumphantly to Budapest Wednesday. The brief broadcast did not state the source of its report.

THE TOWN'S IN GAY MOOD

WE'RE as a gay as a lark this morning—we now can tell the news we've been hoarding for lo, these many weeks, and nice news it is.

This morning Mr. and Mrs. Jean Rollins Kinder announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Anne, to William Laurie Porter of New York City.

The ceremony will be solemnized on Friday afternoon, Nov. 23, at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride-elect, who has been residing in Chicago, is a member of the Chicago Junior League, and is a Pi Beta Phi at the University of Nebraska.

* * *

THOUGH we consider the above announcement our piece de resistance, we do have other news that will be of more than casual interest—There is the party at the Lincoln Country Club this evening, for instance, when a dinner club, of which Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Walt are members, entertain in courtesy to Mr. and Mrs. Walt's daughter, Miss Mickey Walt, and her fiance, William Seiboldt.

In addition to the honorees and Miss Walt's parents the group will include Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dobson, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Carlson, Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Carveth, Mr. and Mrs. Max Roper and Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Olson.

* * *

THEN we learned that Dr. and Mrs. Harold Morgan are expecting guests for the week-end—all from Wyoming.

Arriving on Friday will be Dr. and Mrs. Russell Williams, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Penoyer, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Powers, Mr. and Mrs. Willis B. Hirsig, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Reiser, all of Cheyenne; and Mr. and Mrs. Mockler of Dubois, Wyo.

On Friday evening Dr. and Mrs. Morgan will entertain their guests at a picnic supper at their home, and the group will have a full day on Saturday. First there is the pre-game luncheon at the Lincoln Country Club from where Dr. and Mrs. Morgan and their guests will go to the game—The post-game activity is the LCC dinner dance when Dr. and Mrs. Morgan and the visitors from Wyoming will join Dr. and Mrs. Morgan's football group for dining and dancing.

* * *

HEAR that Mr. and Mrs. John Cook Jr., will be arriving from Scottsbluff on Friday morning to spend the week-end as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Weingarten.

Complimenting Mrs. Cook (the former Sally Busch) on Friday will be Mrs. John W. Stewart who will be hostess to a small group of guests at luncheon at the Lincoln Country Club. The guest list will include Kappa Kappa Gamma classmates of Mrs. Cook and her hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Cook will be kept busy with a round of affairs—and the game—on Saturday, and Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Cook and Mr. and Mrs. Weingarten will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Morrow and Mr. and Mrs. George Abel Jr., at the Monday Night Club dinner dance.

* * *

HEARD, also, that Mr. and Mrs. Russell Loerch will have out of town guests for Saturday's game—Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hasemeister of Seward. On Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Loerch will compliment their guests when they entertain at the Hillcrest Club post-game dinner dance. Completing the eightsome will be Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Waddle and Mr. and Mrs. John Hagerman.

* * *

ALSO on the list of post-game festivities for Saturday is the 6 o'clock to 8 o'clock party for which Mr. and Mrs. John Mason will be host and hostess at their home.

* * *

SPEAKING of parties—we know two very nice reasons for a Saturday evening affair — and they are Mrs. Donald W. Miller and Arthur S. Raymond whose birthday anniversaries are on Sunday. The celebration, however, will be Saturday evening when Mrs. Raymond pays courtesy to the celebrants with a dinner at her home.

* * *

MENTION of Mrs. Donald Miller reminds us that she was a dinner hostess at her home on Tuesday evening when she entertained in honor of Dr. and Mrs. J. E. M. Thomson who leave soon for a month abroad—We hear that Dr. and Mrs. Thomson will go first to Copenhagen —from Denmark to Finland—a shallow dip into Russia—then to Czecho-Slovakia and Poland. Dinner places were arranged for 12.

* * *

WE suspect that election night parties will be popular next Tuesday evening—We've found one, by the way, and the hostess will be Mrs. Ruth Raymond Gavin who has invited a guest eightsome for dinner and an evening of election returns.

* * *

IN and out of town on Tuesday was Lt. Charles Kaye who was the overnight guest of his aunt, Mrs. Richard Lilly, and Mr. Lilly. Lt. Kaye, who is stationed at Barksdale Field, Louisana, made a brief visit to Offutt Field, Omaha, and came to Lincoln from there.

* * *

IT pays to be clever—Take Mrs. E. F. Jenkins, for example—Mrs. Jenkins entered a contest which had to do with giving nicknames to a mythical family of five. Mrs. Jenkins won, and her prize was a $450.00 combination refrigerator and freezer.

The nicknames?

Les, Penny, Mora, Val and Lou. Put them together properly and you have less penny more value. As simple as that.

* * *

UNDERSTAND that the Baylors —Mr. and Mrs. F. B.—who have been in Europe the past several weeks, have a definite sailing date for home—They will board ship at Naples on Nov. 7.

Anniversary

Last Saturday, 29 members of Delta Phi, a local sorority formerly on the Nebraska Wesleyan University campus, met for luncheon to celebrate the 40th anniversary of the group's founding.

Especially honored were seven of the 15 charter members. During the luncheon, the group reminisced over college days during the administration of Chancellor Clark Fulmer and Chancellor I. B. Schreckengust.

Tentative plans were made for another reunion in 1961.

Model Civil Defense Uniforms

Members of the Nebraska State Women's Advisory Committee on Civil Defense modeled the new uniforms authorized for women volunteers in civil defense activities held at the state Capitol.

From the left are Mrs. John R. Scott, Lincoln, state public relations chairman, modeling the shirt and slacks costume; Mrs. W. Gregg Smith of Denver, Colo., regional director of women's activities in civil defense; Mrs. Rudolph Seivers, Blair, civil defense representative for the Nebraska State Medical Auxiliary, who wears the uniform dress; Mrs. Charles W. Hill, Omaha, representative and state president of the VFW Auxiliary; Mrs. W. P. Venable, Columbus, representing the Nebraska Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, who is modeling the tailored suit; and Mrs. John G. Bauer, Beatrice, state chairman of defense and safety of the Nebraska Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. J. E. Yost of Milford, deputy director for women's civil defense activities, presided at the all-day meeting

Entertains Camp Fire Group

Too busy for tricks and treats on Wednesday evening were these members of a Lincoln Camp Fire Girls group who met at the home of Bonnie Bond for an evening of fun. The party began with a pot-luck supper and the evening hours included a variety of Hallowe'en stunts and, of course, prizes for the best costumes.

Mrs. George Heizenrader is leader of the group, and the girls are classmates at Merle Beattie School.

SUBURBIA

With the coming of the dawn, we seem to find that all of last night's ghosts and goblins have returned to their haunts for another year, but we still have lots of news to recount concerning their activities this past week. Along with the multitude of Halloween parties, we find a baby shower in the offing, some news of returning vacationers, and a birthday.

Our round of Halloween parties began last Friday evening when Miss Pamela Powers, Miss Barbara Fritchie, and Miss Marsha Fritchie entertained at the Powers home. The young ladies attending invited their escorts and made the sum total of six couples.

On Tuesday evening Mrs. Robert Elliott was hostess when the Cub Scouts of Den 2, Pack 59 held their seasonal festivities. The group, which included Steve Elliott, Mike White, David Umphries, Randy Luttrell, John Brown, Phillip Brown, and Jimmy Likes, made up a list of young ladies who were to be included in on the evening's fun. The big event of the party was a scavenger hunt.

Another Tuesday evening party was given by Barbara and Kathy Ritter when they entertained a group of grade girls from Meadow Lane school. The guests, Sue Sweeny, Carrie Kulla, Marilyn Kelle, Kay Seaward, Sue Brinkman, and Jane Keckeisen, were all in costume, and had a wonderful time running the gamut of Halloween games.

Entertaining Halloween revelers yesterday was Mrs. Lewis Likes. This group of fifth grade Campfire Girls invited their young brothers and sisters to join in the Halloween merriment.

We bid goodbye to the bewitching hour, and turn to a much less seasonal social event. This afternoon Mrs. Robert G. Robinson will be the honoree at a baby shower and dessert luncheon given by Mrs. Lyle Knight, Mrs. Ogden C. Eggleston, and Mrs. N. M. Lynch at the home of Mrs. Knight. The guests are close friends of the honoree, will include Mrs. William Black, Mrs. Eugene Frye, Mrs. Jack Hamilton, Mrs. Herb Morine, Mrs. George Stempe, Mrs. Norman Paul, Mrs. Dwight Carnahan, Mrs. William Hansberry, Mrs. Rodger McKinzie, Mrs. Donald Shilling, Mrs. Edward Dierks, Mrs. Walter Peterson, and Mrs. Chesley Lightfoot.

Last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Likes, and their two children, Jim and Janice, returned home from a two weeks vacation at Grand Junction, Colo., where they visited the parents of both Mr. and Mrs. Likes. During the vacation, the family gathered their camping equipment together, and went on a deer hunt. As a result they were caught in a snow storm, and were hemmed in for two days. They report that it was really quite a bit of fun.

This should be a doubly happy day for little Nancy James for she will be coming home from St. Elizabeth Hospital in time to celebrate her second birthday.

THE TOWN'S IN GAY MOOD

WE'RE as a gay as a lark this morning—we now can tell the news we've been hoarding for lo, these many weeks, and nice news it is.

This morning Mr. and Mrs. Jean Rollins Kinder announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Anne, to William Laurie Porter of New York City.

The ceremony will be solemnized on Friday afternoon, Nov. 23, at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride-elect, who has been residing in Chicago, is a member of the Chicago Junior League, and is a Pi Beta Phi at the University of Nebraska.

* * *

THOUGH we consider the above announcement our piece de resistance, we do have other news that will be of more than casual interest—There is the party at the Lincoln Country Club this evening, for instance, when a dinner club, of which Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Walt are members, entertain in courtesy to Mr. and Mrs. Walt's daughter, Miss Mickey Walt, and her fiance, William Seiboldt.

In addition to the honorees and Miss Walt's parents the group will include Mr. and Mrs Robert Dobson, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Wilson, Dr and Mrs. Norman Carlson, Dr and Mrs W. W. Carveth, Mr. and Mrs. Max Roper and Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Olson.

* * *

THEN we learned that Dr. and Mrs. Harold Morgan are expecting guests for the week-end—all from Wyoming

Arriving on Friday will be Dr. and Mrs. Russell Williams, Dr. and Mrs. W H. Penoyer, Mr. and Mrs Thomas W. Powers, Mr and Mrs Willis B Hirsig, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Reiser, all of Cheyenne: and Mr and Mrs Mockler of Dubois, Wyo

On Friday evening Dr and Mrs. Morgan will entertain their guests at a picnic supper at their home, and the group will have a full day on Saturday First there is the pre-game luncheon at the Lincoln Country Club from where Dr and Mrs Morgan and their guests will go to the game—The post-game activity is the LCC dinner dance when Dr. and Mrs. Morgan and the visitors from Wyoming will join Dr. and Mrs. Morgan's football group for dining and dancing

* * *

HEAR that Mr. and Mrs. John Cook Jr will be arriving from Scottsbluff on Friday morning to spend the week-end as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Weingarten.

Complimenting Mrs. Cook (the former Sally Busch) on Friday will be Mrs John W. Stewart who will be hostess to a small group of guests at luncheon at the Lincoln Country Club The guest list will include Kappa Kappa Gamma classmates of Mrs. Cook and her hostess

Mr. and Mrs. Cook will be kept busy with a round of affairs—and the game—on Saturday, and Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Cook and Mr. and Mrs. Weingarten will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Morrow and Mr and Mrs George Abel Jr, at the Monday Night Club dinner dance.

* * *

HEARD, also, that Mr and Mrs. Russell Loerch will have out of town guests for Saturday's game—Mr and Mrs Paul Hasemeister of Seward On Saturday evening Mr and Mrs Loerch will compliment their guests when they entertain at the Hillcrest Club post-game dinner dance Completing the eightsome will be Mr. and Mrs Boyd Waddle and Mr. and Mrs. John Hagerman.

* * *

ALSO on the list of post-game festivities for Saturday is the 6 o'clock to 8 o'clock party for which Mr. and Mrs John Mason will be host and hostess at their home

* * *

SPEAKING of parties—we know two very nice reasons for a Saturday evening affair — and they are Mrs. Donald W Miller and Arthur S Raymond whose birthday anniversaries are on Sunday The celebration, however, will be Saturday evening when Mrs Raymond pays courtesy to the celebrants with a dinner at her home

MENTION of Mrs Donald Miller reminds us that she was a dinner hostess at her home on Tuesday evening when she entertained in honor of Dr and Mrs. J E M. Thomson who leave soon for a month abroad—We hear that Dr. and Mrs. Thomson will go first to Copenhagen—from Denmark to Finland—a shallow dip into Russia—then to Czecho-Slovakia and Poland. Dinner places were arranged for 12.

* * *

WE suspect that election night parties will be popular next Tuesday evening—We've found one by the way, and the hostess will be Mrs. Ruth Raymond Gavin who has invited a guest eightsome for dinner and an evening of election returns

IN and out of town on Tuesday was Lt Charles Kaye who was the overnight guest of his aunt, Mrs. Richard Lilly, and Mr Lilly. Lt. Kaye, who is stationed at Barksdale Field, Louisana, made a brief visit to Offutt Field, Omaha, and came to Lincoln from there.

* * *

IT pays to be clever—Take Mrs E F. Jenkins, for example—Mrs Jenkins entered a contest which had to do with giving nicknames to a mythical family of five Mrs. Jenkins won, and her prize was a $450.00 combination refrigerator and freezer.

The nicknames?

Les, Penny, Mora, Val and Lou. Put them together properly and you have less penny more value. As simple as that

* * *

UNDERSTAND that the Baylors —Mr. and Mrs F. B —who have been in Europe the past several weeks, have a definite sailing date for home—They will board ship at Naples on Nov. 7

Anniversary

Last Saturday, 29 members of Delta Phi, a local sorority formerly on the Nebraska Wesleyan University campus, met for luncheon to celebrate the 40th anniversary of the group's founding.

Especially honored were seven of the 15 charter members. During the luncheon, the group reminisced over college days during the administration of Chancellor Clark Fulmer and Chancellor I B. Schreckengost

Tentative plans were made for another reunion in 1961.

Model Civil Defense Uniforms

Members of the Nebraska State Women's Advisory Committee on Civil Defense modeled the new uniforms authorized for women volunteers in civil defense activities held at the state Capitol.

From the left are Mrs. John R Scott, Lincoln, state public relations chairman, modeling the shirt and slacks costume; Mrs. W Gregg Smith of Denver, Colo., regional director of women's activities in civil defense; Mrs Rudolph Seivers, Blair, civil defense representative for the Nebraska State Medical Auxiliary, who wears the uniform dress, Mrs Charles W Hill, Omaha, representative and state president of the VFW Auxiliary; Mrs W P Venable, Columbus, representing the Nebraska Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, who is modeling the tailored suit, and Mrs John G. Bauer, Beatrice, state chairman of defense and safety of the Nebraska Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. J. E. Yost of Milford, deputy director for women's civil defense activities, presided at the all-day meeting

Entertains Camp Fire Group

Too busy for tricks and treats on Wednesday evening were these members of a Lincoln Camp Fire Girls group who met at the home of Bonnie Bond for an evening of fun. The party began with a pot-luck supper and the evening hours included a variety of Hallowe'en stunts and, of course, prizes for the best costumes.

Mrs. George Heizenrader is leader of the group, and the girls are classmates at Merle Beattie School

SUBURBIA

With the coming of the dawn we seem to find that all of last night's ghosts and goblins have returned to their haunts to another year, but we still have lots of news to recount concerning their activities this past week. Along with the multitude of Halloween parties, we find a baby shower in the offing, some news of returning vacationers, and a birthday

Our round of Halloween parties began last Friday evening when Miss Pamela Powers, Miss Barbara Fritchie, and Miss Marsha Fritchie entertained at the Powers home The young ladies attending invited their escorts and made the sum total of six couples.

On Tuesday evening Mrs. Robert Elliott was hostess when the Cub Scouts of Den 2, Pack 59 held their seasonal festivities The group, which included Steve Elliott, Mike White, David Umphries, Randy Luttrell, John Brown, Phillip Brown, and Jimmy Likes, made up a list of young ladies who were to be included in on the evening's fun. The big event of the party was a scavenger hunt.

Another Tuesday evening party was given by Barbara and Kathy Ritter when they entertained a group of grade girls from Meadow Lane school. The guests, Sue Sweeny, Carrie Kulla, Marilyn Kelle, Kay Seaward, Sue Brinkman, and Jane Keckeisen, were all in costume, and had a wonderful time running the gamut of Halloween games.

Demo Says President Must Bear Heavy Responsibility For Crisis

By ARTHUR EDSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Adlai Stevenson said Wednesday that President Eisenhower's foreign policy has "misled us and our friends alike" and must "bear a heavy responsibility for the crisis in the Middle East."

The Democratic presidential candidate said:

"In its conduct in the Middle East the Eisenhower-Dulles administration has been consistent in one respect only — it has not told us the truth."

And in the strongest statement he's made since the start of the Israeli-Egyptian conflict, Stevenson said:

"Unhappily, the vacillations, the uncertainties, appeasements and provocations of the Eisenhower-Dulles policy bear a heavy responsibility for the crisis in the Middle East."

Stevenson talked of Israel in his speech at Manhattan Center in the heart of the garment district, an area where Jewish influence is strong.

"By every consideration of law, of moral and spiritual obligation and faith" he said, "this nation is bound to support this integrity of Israel."

Unprovoked

But he said:

"Surely the United States can never condone an unprovoked attack by any nation on another.

"But let us pray, not be too quick to judge whether there has been provocation, or what Israel has done or what the British and French are doing.

"We know little, as I say. But we do know that the British and the French have commitments to preserve the peace in that area and so have we. We know also their dependence on the Suez Canal.

"And most of us know, I think, that this country has denied arms to Israel while her hostile neighbors to the south and also the north have been supplied by Russia."

Sharpened

In his prepared text, he said "United States policy." But when he made his speech he sharpened up this remark to lay it directly on the President and his Secretary of State, John Foster Dulles.

This was another busy day for Stevenson, in a furious drive to pull the election his way. He had four speeches scheduled in New York where 45 big electoral votes are at stake.

Crowds Light

Stevenson got a bad break from the weather in New York. Outdoor rallies were forced indoors by rain and the crowds on the streets were light as he traveled about the city.

In a gray raincoat and sodden hat, Stevenson rode in a convertible with its top up. He expressed disappointment at the weather, contending it cut down his audiences sharply.

But he managed a quip about what he termed the rising tide in his favor, adding: "In New York for a few minutes I was not sure if this tide was voters or waters."

Stevenson contended Eisenhower is wrong on almost all points of his Middle East foreign policy.

BONN, Germany (AP)—Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther was awarded West Germany's highest decoration for his service in "the defense of the free world." President Thedor Heuss presented the "Grand Cross of the Service Order" to the retiring Supreme Commander of Allied Powers in Europe.

VIC TELLS WHY HE TAKES NO STAND

OMAHA (AP) — Gov. Victor Anderson said Wednesday he has taken no stand on the ton-mile tax proposal because he would have no hand in its administration.

Collection of the tax and its use would be entirely in the hands of the State Highway Department.

The proposal comes to a vote Nov. 6 and Gov. Anderson said "if the ton mile tax does not pass, I think the Legislature would add another half cent to the gasoline tax to pay for the expanding highway program."

The current gas tax is six cents a gallon.

Cops Jail Man On Kidnaping Charge In Florida Case

WILDWOOD, Fla. (AP) — Investigators jailed a white man on a kidnapping charge Wednesday night in connection with the disappearance of a Negro.

George Altman's arrest followed by only a few hours disclosure of the isolated spot where the 39-year-old Negro, Jesse Woods, was allegedly flogged by a group of white men. The Negro was accused of calling a white woman "baby."

Woods has been missing four days since he was taken from jail. He sought the safety of the jail Saturday night when a group of white men allegedly followed him after speaking to the white woman.

Investigators have heard reports that he was taken to a lakeside, beaten and left there alive.

Altman was placed in the Pinellas County jail at St. Petersburg after being brought there for "protective custody." He is to be held until further order of Sumter County Judge P. B. Howell.

Altman, 25, is known in Wildwood as Georgia Boy. He is a former meat salesman.

It's A Hectic Week For NU Homecoming Queen Finalists

The presentation of the University of Nebraska homecoming queen at the Missouri football game here Saturday will be the climax of a busy, hectic week for all five finalists.

So it won't be surprising if Her Highness looks a bit tired.

The finalists each have a specific responsibility in homecoming plans, since all are members of Tassels, women's pep organization which co-sponsors the event.

Two Rallies

Janis Davidson of Minden is a member of the University rally committee, and homecoming has not one but two rallies to be organized. The first one was Wednesday and the second will be Friday night.

Sandra Kadlecek of Omaha is co-chairman for publicity, which involves everything from putting up window displays in downtown stores to making posters for distribution on campus.

Donna Sawvell may have writer's cramp by Saturday. The Sioux City coed is responsible for all the homecoming dance invitations, making out the door list and obtaining chaperones.

As Tassels treasurer, Janice Shrader of South Siux City is co-chairman of ticket sales for the dance. She also is in charge of decorating the Coliseum stage where the queen will reign.

Morning Parade

Nancy Tucker of Omaha, co-chairman for the Saturday morning parade, is busy securing judges, checking float entries and planning the parade route.

The girls' tasks don't end with these specific duties. Friday afternoon they will rehearse with the band for the queen's presentation at the football game. Friday night they will help decorate the Coliseum, taking time out to rehearse the presentation ceremony for the dance.

Early Saturday morning they must be ready to appear in the homecoming parade.

Name Told

The five finalists and their parents will learn who the queen is to be at a special luncheon Saturday noon.

The public won't know until the half-time ceremonies when her name will be announced and she will be escorted onto the field by Yell King Don Beck of Fremont, accompanied by the other finalists and officers of Corn Cobs, men's pep organization.

She will be crowned by Carol Link of Ainsworth, 1955 queen, and be presented a bouquet of roses by Chancellor Hardin.

Nixon Says Adlai Tries To 'Inflame Passions Here And Abroad'

EN ROUTE EAST WITH NIXON (AP) — Vice President Nixon Wednesday accused Adlai Stevenson of seeking to "inflame passions at home and abroad" in the Near East crisis and of gloating over international events which are costing lives.

But, the vice president insisted in a speech at Detroit, the developments in Poland and Hungary and the Near East "will inevitably increase the support for President Eisenhower."

That will be the case, he said, because the "American people realize that this is a time when we need a strong statesman in the White House rather than the weak and expedient type of politician Mr. Stevenson has proved himself to be in this campaign."

'Shabby'

Nixon's speech was a reply to one made Tuesday night by the Democratic presidential nominee in Philadelphia, which Nixon labeled a "shabby episode in American political history."

Nixon flew east overnight from California for a midday rally in Detroit, then went on to New York for three night speeches including one in Harlem in the heart of the city's big Negro section.

In addition to hammering at Stevenson on the Suez issue, Nixon said that election of a Democratic administration would jeopardize the liberation of satellites from Russian domination, threaten U.S. property and kill hopes for civil rights legislation.

As he did in San Diego, Calif., Tuesday night, Nixon called on Stevenson to say whether he has "something better to offer" in the way of a policy to meet the present foreign crisis.

"Does he think that we should not work through the United Nations for peace in the Near East?" Nixon asked.

"Does he think we should join with the British and French and send American boys to Suez?"

Nixon had only moderate crowds to see him as he drove down Detroit's principal business district street, Woodward avenue, enroute to the Ford Auditorium for his Detroit speech, with Mayor Albert E. Cobo, GOP candidate for governor of Michigan. There were some boos but generally the crowd was friendly.

The auditorium had a capacity crowd of about 3,000. Upon leaving the auditorium, Nixon spoke briefly to an overflow crowd of about 1,000 outside.

Soph End 'Probably Won't Play' Against Mizzou

HUSKERS' M'VAY SIDELINED

Elliott Expecting Missouri Spread

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

Nebraska's end corps will very likely be without the services of Howard McVay when the Huskers take on Missouri Saturday at Memorial Stadium.

Coach Pete Elliott said Wednesday that McVay "probably won't be able to play."

McVay is suffering from an inflamed elbow condition according to the NU medical staff. The Ogallala sophomore has been working at the No. 2 right end spot and got first call in a couple of games.

Elliott said that either Stuart Howerter of Omaha or Mike Lee of Grand Island will start at right end for the Huskers Saturday. Lee has been the usual right flank starter, but Howerter has been improving in practice.

With McVay out of action, one or the other will get the top assignment and the other will gallop with the laternate unit.

There's another position battle shaping up on the Husker front this week also. Don Kampe, Red Oak, Ia., junior who has started every game at left tackle, is being pushed heavily by Jerry Petersen, Cambridge junior who was a member of the 1954 Orange Bowl squad.

Elliott said both boys "are real close" and 'they're fighting for the starting job."

Rhoda May Play

Don Rhoda, veteran lineman who suffered an injured leg against Indiana and missed the Colorado game may be able to play Saturday.

It had been thought he would miss the contest, but his injury is responding well and he may yet be available for at least occasional duty.

Wary Of Spread

Wednesday afternoon the Huskers engaged in a light offensive and defensive scrimmage.

One of the Missouri tricks the Big Red is preparing for is the famed Don Faurot spread formation.

"We're preparing for Missouri's normal running game and they're always a good passing team," Elliott said. "But we've also got to be ready for their spread formation and we hope we will be."

Englert No. 1

Senior Gordon Englert has been working at quarterback on the No. 1 unit and will probably get the starting call against the Tigers.

Junior George Harshman and Soph Roy Sintett are running with the second unit.

Co-Captains Named

Freshman Coach Gene Stauber Wednesday named co-captains for the game with the Iowa State Frosh at Ames Friday.

End Glen Hepburn, former Boys Town star, and Quarterback Harry Tolly, ex-North Platte standout, will lead the Husker yearlings.

TCU Foes Find Pass Poor Risk

. . . NU Third

NEW YORK (AP) — When an opponent passes against Texas Christian, the odds are 5-1 the play will be broken up. The Texans have compiled a .191 pass defense record by allowing only nine completions on 47 attempts in five games.

Despite this gaudy record, Texas Christian isn't the pass defense leader in records compiled for major colleges by the NCAA Service Bureau. The ratings are based on average number of yards allowed by Mississippi's 21.8 air defense average is better than Texas Christian's 27.6 mark.

Rushing defense has not been outstanding. With a month to go, Navy leads with a whomping 111.2 yards a game allowance. The highest average ever to lead in rushing defense was the 83.9-yard figure hung up by Michigan State in 1952 and Maryland in 1953.

In total defense the leader is Mississippi, although it has lost twice and gave up 265 yards to Arkansas last week. Mississippi's average yield is only 149.5 yards. The next team, Oklahoma, has permitted 185.6 yards a game. In fact, every major team except Mississippi has been shoved around more than the 1953 Cincinnati club which led in total defense with 184.3, highest ever for a leader.

The statistics, however, don't show the entire story. Yards and yards can be gained but the big thing is the scoreboard. In that department, Oklahoma is out front all by itself. In five games, Oklahoma has given up only 12 points—2.4 a game. Next best is Tulsa at 4.5.

Oklahoma's quick kicks against Notre Dame left the Sooners No. 1 in punting. In five games, Oklahoma's ~~22~~ punts average 42.5 yards. Houston is next with 41.7 and Colorado, last week's leader, is third at 41.1 yards.

The leaders:

Horseplay For Sooner 'Horses'

Indulging in a little horseplay are Oklahoma backs (left to right) Tommy McDonald, Billy Pricer and Clendon Thomas whose combined running has been a major factor in the Sooners' string of 35 straight football games without defeat. McDonald and Thomas are the regular starting Sooner halfbacks while Pricer operates at the number one fullback slot. (AP Wirephoto).

'Handy Man' Honored

Perry Gehring, University of Minnesota "handy man," Wednesday was named lineman of the week by The Associated Press for his oustanding play in Minnesota's 20-7 victory over Michigan. Gehring spent his first season with the Gophers last year shuttling beween fullback, guard and center with the reserves. Shifted to end this season, he came into his own. Earlier in the week, Abe Woodson of Illinois was named back of the week. (AP Wirephoto).

Loppylugs Good Buy

NEWMARKET, England (AP) — Loppylugs, a British-owned bay gelding, swept under the wire a half-length in front of Larry MacPhail's Hafiz II Wednesday to win the Cambridgeshire Handicap, one of the last big betting races of the British flat season.

Epaulette was third. Originally, Nixon had been announced third, but Judge John Hancock admitted he had become confused because jockeys of both Nixon and Epaulette wore white caps and he had named the wrong horse.

The victory of Loppylugs, a 4-year-old by Royal Tara out of Lady Jitters, gave British farmer John Beary a fine return of 3,782 pounds ($10,589) for his original investment of only 150 pounds ($420).

Hafiz II reportedly cost MacPhail, former part owner of the New York Yankees, 70,000 pounds ($196,000).

Loppylugs, ridden by Eph Smith, shot to the front as the field of 34 raced into Newmarket's famous Dip, 2 furlongs from the end of the mile and a furlong race. Hafiz II, carrying top weight of 133 pounds and ridden by Australian Rae Johnstone, challenged strongly.

IOC Head 'Can't Recall' War Ban

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP)—Avery Brundage said Wednesday, "I see nothing at the moment that would interfere with the Olympic Games," scheduled to start Nov. 22 in Melbourne, Australia.

The president of the International Olympic Committee commented on a question raised in Melbourne as to the status of Great Britain and France because of their war-like situation in the Israeli-Egyptian crisis.

"I can not recall any Olympic Games regulation which says participating nations must be at peace," Brundage said. "But what is more important, the games are, and always have been, contests between individuals, not nations.

"Teams are designated as 'U.S. team' or 'British team' unofficially, by sportswriters and the public, but not by the Olympic organization. A group of individuals approved by a nation's Olympic committee makes up that nation's 'team' but actually they are individual competitors. The nation-by-nation point scoring system is unofficial, too."

Brundage recalled that in 1940, for example, preparations were well advanced by the United States and many other countries to participate in the Olympic Games in Finland until the World War II situation became such that it was impossible to conduct the games at all. The games also were cancelled in 1944.

In Melbourne, where the question of British, French and Israeli participation was of prime importance, strangely, nobody was talking about it. Melbourne was confident the games would go on as scheduled.

Egypt withdrew a few weeks ago but Britain has 239 athletes and officials coming, France has 185 and Israel has 22.

Otto Mayer, chancellor of the International Olympic Committee, said Wednesday in Lausanne, Switzerland, that countries in a state of war would be permitted to compete at Melbourne despite the traditions of peace.

"There is no question of preventing any nation from competing because it finds itself in a state of war," Mayer said. "On the contrary, we hope the Olympic Games can give an example of peace by uniting the athletes of the entire world, whatever their personal beliefs and national loyalties."

Lt. Gen. Sir William Bridgeford, chief executive officer of the games, told The Associated Press: "Mr. Avery Brundage and his International Olympic Committee will decide the issue."

While hot news was popping in the Suez, a 72-strong Rumanian team arrived in Melbourne. It was the first complete Olympic team to arrive from an Iron Curtain country.

Price Quits Texas; 'No Pressure'

. . . Lost Five Games

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Head Coach Ed Price, whose University of Texas football team is in the midst of its worst season since 1938, voluntarily resigned Wednesday.

"It is unfair to the team for us to have a house divided," said Price, 47, whose team has lost five of its six games this year.

"When dissatisfaction and bitterness develop because of a losing season, no one profits. These boys are entitled to the full support of the alumni. I don't want to stand in the way of that undivided support."

During the past 10 days Price has been hanged in effigy on the campus three times. Some alumni had called for his scalp, saying the university should hire a football coach who would also be the athletic director.

Athletic Director Dana X. Bible will step down to "modified service" in September, 1957.

Tom Sealy, chairman of the board of regents of the university, said Price's resignation was entirely voluntary. He stressed that no deal had been made whereby Price would resign as coach and become athletic director or take some other job with the university.

Sealy added he personally favored keeping Price at the university either in the physical education department or some other department.

He said the search for a new coach would begin Saturday after the board meets with the athletic council. He said that Texas would not necessarily seek a big name coach, but may hire a young coach just making his mark.

Price's complete record to date ranked him as the winningest coach in Southwest Conference competition during his years as head coach. Taking over in 1951, he has a record of 33 wins, 23 losses and 1 tie.

Rookie Sparkles, Dodgers Win 4-0

SHIMONOSEKI, Japan, (AP) — Rookie southpaw Fred Kipp pitched a tight two-hitter Wednesday as the Brooklyn Dodgers defeated the Japanese All-Stars 4-0, Rookies Don Demeter and Jim Gentile hit homeruns for the Brooks, who now have won six of eight decisions on the tour.

The Dodgers scored once in the first on a line smash by Gino Cimoli that struck pitcher Takae Kajimoto on the shoulder, forcing the all-star hurler out of the game. Cimoli went to third on the play and scored on a single by Jackie Robinson off relief Noboru Akiyama.

It is the third quarter of the Clemson-Virginia Tech game and Clemson leads, 13-7.

You are the Clemson quarterback. Your left end has told you twice the first half and again on the preceding play that he can get behind the Virginia Tech right half.

Now you have the ball, second down and two on your own 37, the ball 18 yards from your left sideline. Rate these plays 1, 2, 3 and 4.

Long pass behind the defensive right half.
Hook pass in front of the right half (end turns and faces passer).
Quick opener through the line.
Off tackle slant to wide side of field.

Rockets Face Strong S.C. 11

Coach Bun Galloway's winless Northeast Rockets will get this week's local prep action started tonight when they journey to Sioux City, Ia., for an engagement with a strong Sioux City East club there.

The Rockets will still be after their first success of the season following seven straight defeats.

It will be the final game of the season for the Black Raiders from Soo town, who just last week polished off the Sioux City Public Schools championship.

A year ago, the Raiders employed a multiple offense to walk off with a 34-6 decision over the home-standing Rockets.

Courtney Could Win 800 Meters, But—

U.S. Olympic Distance Hopes Slight

EDITORS: This is the third of a series picking favorites for honors in men's track and field events of the Olympic Games starting Nov. 22 at Melbourne.

By MILTON MARMOR

LONDON (AP) — Once past the short distances on the running track at the Melbourne Olympics, American hopes for a gold medal became almost non-existent—except in the 800-meters.

The distance events have been dominated in past Olympic Games by European athletes. This time runners from the Iron Curtain lands should fill the majority of the places in the finals.

The 800-meters may witness a victory for America's Tom Courtney, a powerful runner with successful tours of Europe behind him.

Roger Moens of Belgium, world record-holder with a sparkling time of 1:45.7 would have been the favorite but he suffered a groin injury and a few days ago had to withdraw from the Olympics.

Future Look

So here's a future look at the 800 final: Courtney, Arnie Sowell of America, Lajos Szentgali of Hungary, Dan Waern of Sweden, Brian Hewson of Britain and Lon Spurrier of America.

Audun Boysen of Norway who shares the year's best 800 time of 1:46.4 with Courtney says he will not run at Melbourne. He'd be a real threat for first place, if he did.

The 1,500-meters, as always, is wide open. Entries include a flock of four-minute milers and a mass of stellar middle distance men all ready to break Istvan Rozsavolgyi's world mark of 3:40.6.

Guess At Finish

Without much ado, here's a guess at the finish:

Rozsavolgyi of Hungary, Siegfried Hermann of Germany; Bailey of Australia; Ken Wood of Britain; John Landy, world record-holder of the mile at 3:58 for Australia; and Waern of Sweden.

The 5,000-meters may well shape up as the classic event of the games. Gordon Pirie of Britain has broken Iharos' world mark with a breathtaking mark of 13:36.8, but he's a problem boy who may have reached his peak too soon.

Thus, here's a choice for the finish: Iharos, Pirie, Vladimir Kuts of Russia, Derek Ibbotson of Britain, Jerzy Chromik of Poland and Chris Chataway, that wonderful fighter for Britain.

Some other threats: Miklos Szabo of Hungary, Velisa Mugosa of Yugoslavia, Ivan Chernyavsky of Russia, Laszlo Tabori of Hungary, Dave Stephens of Australia, Hermann, the redoubtable East German, and Zszislaw Krizyskowiak of Poland.

The 10,000 will be another struggle among Iharos, Pirie and Kuts.

A pick of the finishing six: Iharos, Kuts, Pirie, and then Stephens, Jozef Kovacs of Hungary and Ken Norris of Britain.

Win If Serious

The 3,000-meter steeplechase is a race wherein a great 3,000-meter man should win if he takes it up seriously. The world mark of 8:39.8 was set this year by Russia's Semyon Rzhishchin but, somehow, the feeling is that Jerzy Chromik of Poland could win if he enters—and he may. He hasn't run a steeplechase in competition this year but anyway here goes:

Chromik, Rzhishchin, John Disley of Britain, Ernst Larsen of Norway, Sandor Rosznyoi of Hungary and Sandor Jeszensky of Hungary.

Picking a marathon winner is an almost impossible task. Many would be happy if the Czech wonder, the aging and ailing Emil Zatopek, could repeat his 1952 triumph. If he were in condition there would appear to be no reason why this master campaigner who has made a legend of his magnificent career shouldn't win this last big one.

But Zatopek recently had a hernia operation and he reportedly has come back too quickly into training. So, one fears, Zatopek may go through his third Olympic Games without a gold medal. He won the 10,000 in 1948 and the 5,000, the 10,000 and the marathon in 1952.

4. Hook pass. Worst call. A short gain at best and it probably won't work.

3. Quick opener. You could get a first down but second and two is a good spot to go for the long gain especially with the odds working.

2. Off tackle. Would gain more than the quick opener.

1. Long pass. Best call. It's set up and now's the time.

Soph End 'Probably Won't Play' Against Mizzou

HUSKERS' M'VAY SIDELINED

Elliott Expecting Missouri Spread

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

Nebraska's end corps will very likely be without the services of Howard McVay when the Huskers take on Missouri Saturday at Memorial Stadium.

Coach Pete Elliott said Wednesday that McVay "probably won't be able to play."

McVay is suffering from an inflamed elbow condition according to the NU medical staff. The Ogallala sophomore has been working at the No. 2 right end spot and got first call in a couple of games.

Elliott said that either Stuart Howerter of Omaha or Mike Lee of Grand Island will start at right end for the Huskers Saturday. Lee has been the usual right flank starter, but Howerter has been improving in practice.

With McVay out of action, one or the other will get the top assignment and the other will gallop with the laternate unit.

There's another position battle shaping up on the Husker front this week also. Don Kampe, Red Oak, Ia., junior who has started every game at left tackle, is being pushed heavily by Jerrry Petersen, Cambridge junior who was a member of the 1954 Orange Bowl squad.

Elliott said both boys "are real close" and "they're fighting for the starting job."

Rhoda May Play

Don Rhoda, veteran lineman who suffered an injured leg against Indiana and missed the Colorado game may be able to play Saturday.

It had been thought he would miss the contest, but his injury is responding well and he may yet be available for at least occasional duty.

Wary Of Spread

Wednesday afternoon the Huskers engaged in a light offensive and defensive scrimmage.

One of the Missouri tricks the Big Red is preparing for is the famed Don Faurot spread formation.

"We're preparing for Missouri's normal running game and they're always a good passing team," Elliott said. "But we've also got to be ready for their spread formation and we hope we will be."

Englert No. 1

Senior Gordon Englert has been working at quarterback on the No. 1 unit and will probably get the starting call against the Tigers.

Junior George Harshman and Soph Roy Sintett are running with the second unit.

Co-Captains Named

Freshman Coach Gene Stauber Wednesday named co-captains for the game with the Iowa State Frosh at Ames Friday.

End Glen Hepburn, former Boys Town star, and Quarterback Harry Tolly, ex-North Platte standout, will lead the Husker yearlings.

TCU Foes Find Pass Poor Risk

. . . NU Third

NEW YORK (AP) — When an opponent passes against Texas Christian, the odds are 5-1 the play will be broken up. The Texans have compiled a .191 pass defense record by allowing only nine completions on 47 attempts in five games.

Despite this gaudy record, Texas Christian isn't the pass defense leader in records compiled for major colleges by the NCAA Service Bureau. The ratings are based on average number of yards allowed by Mississippi's 21.8 air defense average is better than Texas Christian's 27.6 mark.

Rushing defense has not been outstanding. With a month to go, Navy leads with a whomping 111.2 yards a game allowance. The highest average ever to lead in rushing defense was the 83.9-yard figure hung up by Michigan State in 1952 and Maryland in 1953.

In total defense the leader is Mississippi, although it has lost twice and gave up 265 yards to Arkansas last week. Mississippi's average yield is only 149.5 yards. The next team, Oklahoma, has permitted 185.6 yards a game. In fact, every major team except Mississippi has been shoved around more than the 1953 Cincinnati club which led in total defense with 184.3, highest ever for a leader.

The statistics, however, don't show the entire story. Yards and yards can be gained but the big thing is the scoreboard. In that department, Oklahoma is out front all by itself. In five games, Oklahoma has given up only 12 points—2.4 a game. Next best is Tulsa at 4.5.

Oklahoma's quick kicks against Notre Dame left the Sooners No. 1 in punting. In five games, Oklahoma's punts average 42.5 yards. Houston is next with 41.7 and Colorado, last week's leader, is third at 41.1 yards.

NL Crowds Up In 1956

CINCINNATI (AP)—A whopping total of 8,649,567 persons paid to see baseball games in the National League this year, Dave Grote, manager of the Service Bureau, announced Wednesday.

The league attracted 975,155 more spectators than it did in 1955. The 1956 total was the highest since 1949, when 9,484,718 fans turned the turnstiles.

Four National Lague clubs—Brooklyn, Cincinnati, Milwaukee and St. Louis—played to more than a million fans on their home grounds. The Milwaukee Braves outdrew all other teams, with 2,046,331.

The official attendance records for 1956 are as follows:

Brooklyn, at home, 1,213,562; on road, 1,566,535.
Chicago, at home 720,118; on road, 849,495.
Cincinnati, at home, 1,125,928; on road, 1,103,875.

'Handy Man' Honored

Perry Gehring, University of Minnesota "handy man," Wednesday was named lineman of the week by The Associated Press for his oustanding play in Minnesota's 20-7 victory over Michigan. Gehring spent his first season with the Gophers last year shuttling beween fullback, guard and center with the reserves. Shifted to end this season, he came into his own. Earlier in the week, Abe Woodson of Illinois was named back of the week. (AP Wirephoto).

Loppylugs Good Buy

NEWMARKET, England (AP) — Loppylugs, a British-owned bay gelding, swept under the wire a half-length in front of Larry MacPhail's Hafiz II Wednesday to win the Cambridgeshire Handicap, one of the last big betting races of the British flat season.

Epaulette was third. Originally, Nixon had been announced third, but Judge John Hancock admitted he had become confused because jockeys of both Nixon and Epaulette wore white caps and he had named the wrong horse.

The victory of Loppylugs, a 4-year-old by Royal Tara out of Lady Jitters, gave British farmer John Beary a fine return of 3,782 pounds ($10,589) for his original investment of only 150 pounds ($420).

Hafiz II reportedly cost MacPhail, former part owner of the New York Yankees, 70,000 pounds ($196,000).

Loppylugs, ridden by Eph Smith, shot to the front as the field of 34 raced into Newmarket's famous Dip, 2 furlongs from the end of the mile and a furlong race. Hafiz II, carrying top weight of 133 pounds and ridden by Australian Rae Johnstone, challenged strongly.

IOC Head 'Can't Recall' War Ban

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP)—Avery Brundage said Wednesday, "I see nothing at the moment that would interfere with the Olympic Games," scheduled to start Nov. 22 in Melbourne, Australia.

The president of the International Olympic Committee commented on a question raised in Melbourne as to the status of Great Britain and France because of their war-like situation in the Israeli-Egyptian crisis.

"I can not recall any Olympic Games regulation which says participating nations must be at peace," Brundage said. "But what is more important, the games are, and always have been, contests between individuals, not nations.

"Teams are designated as 'U.S. team' or 'British team' unofficially, by sportswriters and the public, but not by the Olympic organization. A group of individuals approved by a nation's Olympic committee makes up that nation's 'team' but actually they are individual competitors. The nation-by-nation point scoring system is unofficial, too."

Brundage recalled that in 1940, for example, preparations were well advanced by the United States and many other countries to participate in the Olympic Games in Finland until the World War II situation became such that it was impossible to conduct the games at all. The games also were cancelled in 1944.

In Melbourne, where the question of British, French and Israeli participation was of prime importance, strangely, nobody was talking about it. Melbourne was confident the games would go on as scheduled.

Egypt withdrew a few weeks ago but Britain has 239 athletes and officials coming, France has 185 and Israel has 22.

Otto Mayer, chancellor of the International Olympic Committee, said Wednesday in Lausanne, Switzerland, that countries in a state of war would be permitted to compete at Melbourne despite the traditions of peace.

Ol' Barbers Never Die: Maglie's Comeback Tops

Sal Was Vital Man In Stretch

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK — Sal Maglie of the Brooklyn Dodgers, who pitched a no-hitter and won a World Series game in his 19th season of professional baseball, made the National League comeback - of - the Year in the opinion of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America.

Maglie

Maglie received 159 of the 199 votes cast in the annual Associated Press poll. Brooks Lawrence, a surprise 19-game winner for Cincinnati, was second with 13 votes.

Maglie's value to the Dodgers following his acquisition on waivers from Cleveland last May 15 probably was best summed up by Pee Wee Reese.

"Without Maglie we wouldn't have a ghost of chance of winning the pennant," said the Brooklyn captain in the last week of the torrid National League race.

"So What?"

A star for the hated New York Giants, Maglie's transfer to the Brooks was greeted with a "So what?" by the Flatbush faithful. He was 39 years old and had been unable to win a game for the Indians, who were strong on pitching but needed replacements for the slumping Mike Garcia and the faded Bob Feller.

Although he did not start his first game with Brooklyn until May 30 and did not pick up a victory until June 4, Maglie won 13 games and lost only five. He had an earned-run average of 2.87, fourth best in the circuit, struck out 109 batters and walked only 53.

On Sept. 25 against Philadelphia, Sal pitched the first no-hit, no-run game of his career. He won six games and lost one in Brooklyn's September drive which overhauled the Milwaukee Braves.

Beats Yankees

Then, in the first game of the World Series, he beat the Yankees 6-3 for his initial triumph in the classic. He had made two unsuccessful starts in previous series with the Giants.

Sal also started the fifth game of this year's series and gave only five hits—but he was beaten by Don Larsen's perfect performance.

Maglie began his pro career with Buffalo of the International League in 1938. He joined the Giants in 1943, took off for the Mexican League in '46 and came back to the Polo Grounds in 1950. Sal won 23 games in 1951, the season of the Giants' miracle drive.

Sold To Indians

In July, 1955, Maglie was sold to the Indians after compiling a 9-5 National League record. He was 0-2 in American League competition.

Others to receive votes for comeback honors were Don Newcombe of Brooklyn, Johnny Antonelli of the Giants, Warren Spahn of Milwaukee and Curt Simmons of Philadelphia. They had three apiece.

Players with one vote each were Joe Adcock and Ed Mathews of Milwaukee, Bill Virdon of Pittsburgh, Jim Gilliam of Brooklyn, Ray Jablonski of Cincinnati, Red Schoendienst of the Giants, Jackie Robinson of the Dodgers, Murry Dickson of St. Louis and Elmer Valo of Philadelphia.

Miceli Hammers Green Opponent

CHICAGO (AP) — Veteran welterweight Joe Miceli of New York Wednesday night hacked out a 10-round unanimous decision over unseasoned and bloodied Carlo Sarlo, who fought like a guard on a football team trying to cross the line of scrimmage.

Miceli, 10th ranked contender of his division, left-hooked the wild-swinging, stampeding Chicago truck driver, into a gory mess from the fifth round on in the nationally televised brawl at Chicago Stadium.

Miceli weighed 145½ and Carlo, making his first main event appearance on TV, came in at 148.

Judge John Bray favored Miceli 49-43 under the five-point must system. Judge Jim McManus had it 49-39 and Referee Barnard Weissman 49-42. The Associated Press had Miceli in top 49-42.

Morabito: Albert Will Coach 49ers In 1957

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — Tony Morabito, co-owner of the San Francisco 49ers, declared flatly Wednesday that Frank Albert will be retained as head coach of the professional football team next year.

In a statement designed to squelch reports that Albert might be ousted because the team lost four of its five National Football League games thus far this season, Morabito said unequivocally:

"Frankie Albert will be the head coach of the San Francisco 49ers in 1957."

MOMS, DADS, DEMOS, GOP— ALL HONORED BY NW BAND

The Nebraska Wesleyan University 100-piece band will keep its politics straight Friday night in a special program for Parents' Weekend at the Doane-Wesleyan football game.

The Pride of the Plainsmen band will honor both the Republicans and Democrats as a part of its half-time show. Another part of the band show will be a presentation especially for "moms" and "pops" of Wesleyan students.

Professor Robert Marshall, director of the band, said the group will "split down the middle" into Republican and Democratic camps as a part of the presentation.

The band will reveal its own "darkhorse" candidate for the presidency, Marshall said, in a humorous comment on the upcoming national election. The presentation will include a speech by the student "darkhorse," Marshall said.

Durocher Out As Possible Tribe Pilot

CLEVELAND (INS) — Leo Durocher was ruled out Wednesday as the possible next manager of the Cleveland Indians.

Dale Lemon, Nebraska Wesleyan University senior end, is a jack of all trades and master of many for the Plainsmen squad.

The six-foot, 180-pounder not only plays a rugged defensive wing spot, but carries the load of two men on offense. So far this season he has:

1.—Booted 34 of Wesleyan's 41 punts. And he has kicked 1243 yards for an average of 36.5 yards per kick. He had a 65-yard boot against Hastings.

2.—Made 10 out of 14 extra point attempts. Nine of them came on placements and the tenth on a run when he was trapped against Midland.

3.—Scored one touchdown and helped set up more, and managed to rank third in Wesleyan scoring with 16 points.

Lemon will be at left end when Wesleyan and Doane tangle Friday in the Wesleyan Parents' Night game.

Henrich To Coach

NEW YORK (AP)—Tommy Henrich, former New York Yankee right fielder, Wednesday was named a coach with the New York Giants. Henrich will coach third base, giving Manager Billy Rigney a chance to do his strategic work from the bench.

Henrich, 43, finished his active career with the Yankees in 1950, bowing out of the lineup before the World Series with Philadelphia because of a leg injury.

Henrich Signs Redleg Bonus Agreement

CINCINNATI (AP) — Gabe Paul, general manager of the Cincinnati Redlegs, Wednesday announced the signing of Bob Henrich, 18, Compton, Calif., outfielder and shortstop, as a bonus player.

SAC Planes Drop Tanks, Land Safely

TWO FIGHTERS LACKED FUEL

OMAHA (AP)—Two F84F Strategic Air Command fighter planes competing in SAC's first annual fighter competition dropped their wing tanks near Waco, Neb., Wednesday and made normal emergency landings at the old Fairmont, Neb., Air Base.

A SAC spokesman said the two planes, part of the Bergstrom Air force Base, (Texas) 12th Fighter Wing, were unable to make their refueling contact near Grand Island, Neb., and had insufficient fuel to continue to the Camp Phillips Bombing Range near Salina, Kan., for their practice bomb runs.

Sheriff Lewis Ekart of York County reported that the four tanks fell in an area of about three and a half to four square miles north of Waco.

First reports came when a 450-gallon wing tank fell on the Clifford Gruber farm six miles north of Waco. Richard Gruber saw another falling object disintegrate in mid-air some distance away and notified the sheriff's office.

Expolding Wing Tank

Investigation showed the object Gruber had seen was an exploding wing tank. The tank on the Gruber farm measuring 18 feet by two and a half feet, landed near the hog barn but did no damage.

Another tank was said to have been discovered on the Melvin Ehlers farm.

Whistling

Norman Dinkleman heard a whistling sound and saw a torpedo-like object fall into a cornfield on the A. C. Stream farm, about one mile north of the Gruber farm. Dinkleman said the object was buried about 2½ feet in the ground and that it boiled out smoke.

The area in which the object fell was roped off until it was determined whether it was an explosive.

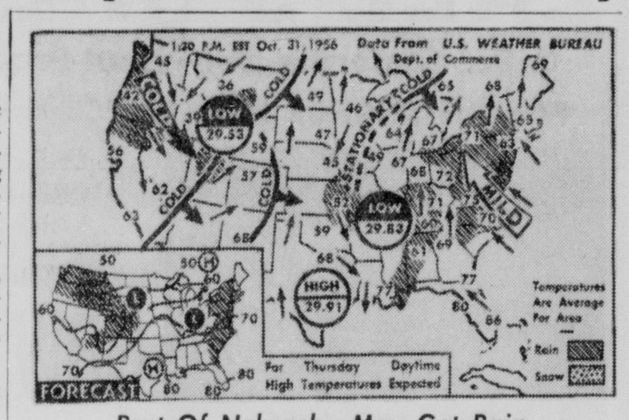
The SAC spokesmen reported fighters in the competition do not carry live ammunition, but that they do carry 35 pound practice bombs.

Small Charge

He said the only explosive in the practice bombs is a small powder charge in the nose of the bombs, used merely for marking purposes.

SAC said the two planes that landed at Fairmont were to fly back to Offutt Air Force Base as soon as a new supply of fuel reached them by truck from Lincoln Air Force base.

SAC said it would not be possible to determine just what made it impossible for the two fighters to make their in-flight refueling contact until they returned to Offutt and were inspected.



Part Of Nebraska May Get Rain

Occasional rain or showers are due Thursday afternoon along the eastern seaboard between northern New England and northern Florida. Scattered snow or rain will fall throughout the Rockies and parts of central Plains. Rain also will fall along the north Pacific Coast region. Little change will occur elsewhere. (AP Wirephoto Map).

Lowe Differs With Governor On Park Improvement Funds

. . . Denying Money Called 'False Economy'

SIDNEY, Neb. (AP) — Former Game Commission member Jack H. Lowe of Sidney said Wednesday denying money to the game commission for park improvement is false economy.

Lowe said he had written to Gov. Victor Anderson asserting the Legislature should agree to spend more money on the improvement and exploitation of the state's parks, recreation grounds and other scenic attractions. He said he sent the letter, after reading a news report that Anderson has frowned on the Game Commission budget which includes $60,000 for a long range park improvement plan.

"We are in the position at this time of speeding tourists through our state at 60 miles per hour on roads which get them out of Nebraska just as fast as possible," Lowe wrote. "We are talking about spending millions to build an interstate system which will take visitors through the state even faster. What's wrong with spending a fraction of that amount on our state parks, our recreation grounds and our other scenic points of interest?"

Lowe, who is editor of the Sidney Telegraph, said he has "been preaching this same sermon for 15 years and nothing ever comes of it."

EX-NEBRASKAN MURDER VICTIM

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP)—A man found dead in a well near here last week was identified by the FBI through fingerprints as Verl Edgar Parsons, 46, who was born at Arnold, Neb., and once had lived at Cheyenne, Wyo.

Investigators said the man was an apparent murder victim, struck over the head with a heavy instrument. His body was discovered late Saturday.

Except for identification, the case remained a mystery.

JAYCEES NAME LOWE 'BOSS OF THE YEAR'

SIDNEY, Neb. (AP) — Jack Lowe, editor and co-publisher of the Sidney Telegraph, Wednesday was named Sidney's "Boss of the Year" by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, which also named Dean Wilson, lumber dealer, to receive its Distinguished Service Plaque for his direction of Sidney's "Ft. Sidney Days" last summer.

FBI PROBING ANONYMOUS BACKERS OF CANDIDATES

OMAHA (AP) — The Federal Bureau of Investigation Wednesday started investigating the anonymous "Citizens Committee for Better Government."

U. S. Attorney William C. Spire said the investigation was part of a broad Department of Justice program to investigate such cases promptly "to insure a fair election."

Cards were printed earlier this week backing candidates ranging from Congressman to the Board of Education. They bore no names or indication of sponsorship other than the "Citizens Committee for Better Government." The manager of the shop which printed them said he had no record of the purchaser's name.

'To Confuse'

Victor L. Toft, chairman of the Citizens Committee for Law Enforcement, claimed this new committee is " an effort to confuse the voting public."

The committee headed by Toft published a list of its members and has come out for a slate of candidates for municipal and district judgeships. This committee is opposing re-election of District Judges W. A. Day and James T. English and Municipal Judge Patrick W. O'Connor. The cards of "Citizens Committee for Better Government" support these three men.

Spire said federal law makes it a crime to "publish or distribute" literature endorsing a candidate for federal office without listing the names of the persons, corporations or associations issuing the literature, Spire said.

Oklahoma Gas Supply Is Plentiful–K-N

WASHINGTON (AP) — Kansas-Nebraska Natural Gas Co., Hastings, Neb., sought to show at a power commission hearing Wednesday that it would be able to deliver sufficient gas from Oklahoma fields to carry out a proposed sales agreement with Northern Natural Gas Co., Omaha.

Kansas-Nebraska has asked the commission for authority to sell 30 million cubic feet of gas daily to Northern Natural for three years and a minimum of 10 million cubic feet daily thereafter.

K-N counsel spent the morning cross-examining Harry Stevens, a commission engineer. At a hearing here two weeks ago Stevens produced exhibits which questioned that K-N could deliver the gas to Northern and at the same time satisfy the needs of K-N's other customers.

Stevens conceded Wednesday that the regulatory agencies in Oklahoma and Kansas would approve withdrawals of gas annually sufficient to meet market needs. But he maintained K-N would need all its gas for its present customers.

Services Held For Mrs. Marshall, 83

ARLINGTON, Neb. — Funeral services were held in Omaha for Mrs. Alice Marshall, 83, widow of one of the founders of the Marshall Nurseries in Arlington.

Her husband was Harvey W. Marshall. They lived in Arlington for many years, and moved to Omaha 20 years ago to establish a second nursery there.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. William Sloan of Eugene, Ore.; two grandchildren and a great grandchild.

Native Of Lincoln Candidate In U.S. Presidential Race

NEW YORK (AP)—Eric Haas, 51, running for president of the U.S. as a nominee of the Socialist Labor Party, is a native of Lincoln, Neb.

Haas, whose slogan is "capitalism is no bargain," was born in Lincoln of German and Danish immigrant parents.

He attended the University of Nebraska and worked at various jobs before he became active in the Socialist Labor party—a small but seemingly perennial institution of American politics.

Haas, editor of the party's "Weekly People," has graying hair and an athletic build. He is 5 feet 9 inches and weighs about 170.

The Socialist Labor Party has put up a presidential candidate in the last 17 consecutive elections—a record it says no other minority party can match.

Under the banner of the "Arm and Hammer," it professes to be the original American party of socialism.

One More Missouri River Bridge In Interstate Plans

Present construction plans for the interstate highway call for only one definite addition to the Missouri River bridges on Nebraska's border at this time, State Engineer L. N. Ress said Wednesday, although the possibility still exists for at least one other new bridge in Omaha and one at Sioux City, Iowa.

The one definite addition will be just north of the South Omaha bridge, Ress said, the connecting point with Iowa's portion of the interstate highway.

A second new Omaha bridge near the present Douglas Street crossing has been talked about, Ress said, but is far from definite. He indicated the reasons for an additional bridge in downtown Omaha are well known: The present one is becoming more over-loaded all the time, and there will be a point in the downtown section of the city where only about a half-mile separates the proposed southwest radial from the Iowa interstate.

But whether or not an agreement can be reached with Iowa remains to be seen, Ress said.

A third new bridge has been frequently mentioned, this one at Sioux Cty, as part of a spur off the main interstate. But Ress says there are many things in its way, and no immediate plans are likely.

In the first place, according to Ress, the Sioux City bridge idea was suggested to Iowa about a year-and-a-half ago and turned down, although Iowa has since asked Nebraska's cooperation in the venture.

But in the second place, he said, "I've heard there are at least 12,000 miles of requested additions to the interstate already from various parts of the country, and Congress made room in the original highway act for only 1,000 miles of additions.

"This means that anyone wanting a 'spur' road will have to have a pretty good reason for it in order to be very far up the list for consideration."

Anglo-French Commander Knows Egypt

LONDON (INS) — The over-all commander of the Anglo-French operation against Egypt is a 55-year-old British general who handed over the Suez Canal base to Egyptian control last year.

He is General Sir Charles Keightley, a ruddy-faced ex-cavalryman with a close personal knowledge of Egypt who has been commander-in-chief of British land forces in the Middle East since 1953.

Keightley's headquarters had been in Suez until London and Cairo agreed on the evacuation of British troops from the multi-million dollar installation. Since then his command has operated out of Cyprus.

Since the end of World War II, Sir Charles has held the three most important British army commands —Germany, the Far East and the Middle East. His wartime commands included the famous VI and XI Armored Divisions and later the Fifth Army Corps in Italy.

Keightley was commissioned at 21 into the elite Fifth Royal Inniskilling Dragoon Guards. It took him 17 years to reach the rank of major, but at 40 he was the youngest major general in the army.

Anglo-French Commander Knows Egypt

LONDON (INS) — The over-all commander of the Anglo-French operation against Egypt is a 55-year-old British general who handed over the Suez Canal base to Egyptian control last year.

He is General Sir Charles Keightley, a ruddy-faced ex-cavalryman with a close personal knowledge of Egypt who has been commander-in-chief of British land forces in the Middle East since 1953.

Keightley's headquarters had been in Suez until London and Cairo agreed on the evacuation of British troops from the multi-million dollar installation. Since then his command has operated out of Cyprus.

Since the end of World War II, Sir Charles has held the three most important British army commands—Germany, the Far East and the Middle East. His wartime commands included the famous VI and XI Armored Divisions and later the Fifth Army Corps in Italy.

Keightley was commissioned at 21 into the elite Fifth Royal Inniskilling Dragoon Guards. It took him 17 years to reach the rank of major, but at 40 he was the youngest major general in the army.

Dulles 'Left Eden On Limb Twice,' Briton Declares Here

By DEL HARDING
Star Staff Writer

Prime Minister Eden of England has "been left out on a limb" twice by U. S. Secretary of State Dulles and this probably was why England and France took action in Egypt without notifying the U.S. in advance.

This view was expressed Wednesday by Colin Jackson, British author, lecturer and news commentator. Jackson is in Lincoln to address University of Nebraska classes and a convocation Thursday at 11 a.m. at Love Library Auditorium.

Terming Dulles the "most unpopular American Secretary of State in a long while" among the English, Jackson said Dulles gave Eden the impression earlier this year that America favored operation of the Suez Canal by an international body and also that the proposed Users' Association would have a strong voice in governing the canal.

Changed Stand

Jackson said Dulles later modified his stand after Eden had publicly announced such plans would be followed.

Jackson said he believes the use of force by his country and France against Egypt was a mistake. But he declared the Suez Canal is "too important to be left in the hands of one nation." Jackson predicted that if English and French forces gain control of the canal they will not relinquish it unless the waterway is put under international control.

The purpose of Israel's attack on Egypt, he thinks, was to destroy and occupy Egyptian commando bases southwest of Israel. He termed it another of Israel's "defensive-punitive" actions. He doubts greatly that Israel sought an all-out conflict.

Jackson said Eden probably felt circumstances in Egypt, Russia and the U. S. made it an opportune time for a drive on the Suez. Jackson declared Egypt is "hamstrung" by Israeli troops, Russia is busy with satellite troubles and the U.S. is preoccupied with its election.

COLIN JACKSON

Jackson, who served as a visiting political science professor at the University of Nebraska from February to June of 1955, said the attack on Egypt will make England "very unpopular" among the Arab nations. France, he said, couldn't be more unpopular than it already is. Egypt might "tolerate" Englishmen in the canal, he said, but would never stand for French forces there.

East Germany, Too

Concerning Russia's present difficulty with its satellites, Jackson said he did not see how Russia can keep control of East Germany if it withdraws its troops from Hungary and Poland as it has promised. Although he anticipates such withdrawl, he said it will cut Russia's supply lines to its East German troops.

Dulles 'Left Eden On Limb Twice,' Briton Declares Here

By DEL HARDING
Star Staff Writer

Prime Minister Eden of England has "been left out on a limb" twice by U. S. Secretary of State Dulles and this probably was why England and France took action in Egypt without notifying the U.S. in advance.

This view was expressed Wednesday by Colin Jackson, British author, lecturer and news commentator. Jackson is in Lincoln to address University of Nebraska classes and a convocation Thursday at 11 a.m. at Love Library Auditorium.

Terming Dulles the "most unpopular American Secretary of State in a long while" among the English, Jackson said Dulles gave Eden the impression earlier this year that America favored operation of the Suez Canal by an international body and also that the proposed Users' Association would have a strong voice in governing the canal.

Changed Stand

Jackson said Dulles later modified his stand after Eden had publicly announced such plans would be followed.

Jackson said he believes the use of force by his country and France against Egypt was a mistake. But he declared the Suez Canal is "too important to be left in the hands of one nation." Jackson predicted that if English and French forces gain control of the canal they will not relinquish it unless the waterway is put under international control.

The purpose of Israel's attack on Egypt, he thinks, was to destroy and occupy Egyptian commando bases southwest of Israel. He termed it another of Israel's "defensive-punitive" actions. He doubts greatly that Israel sought an all-out conflict.

Jackson said Eden probably felt circumstances in Egypt, Russia and the U. S. made it an opportune time for a drive on the Suez. Jackson declared Egypt is "hamstrung" by Israeli troops. Russia is busy with satellite troubles and the U.S. is preoccupied with its election.

COLIN JACKSON

Jackson, who served as a visiting political science professor at the University of Nebraska from February to June of 1955, said the attack on Egypt will make England "very unpopular" among the Arab nations. France, he said, couldn't be more unpopular than it already is. Egypt might "tolerate" Englishmen in the canal, he said, but would never stand for French forces there.

East Germany, Too

Concerning Russia's present difficulty with its satellites, Jackson said he did not see how Russia can keep control of East Germany if it withdraws its troops from Hungary and Poland as it has promised. Although he anticipates such withdrawl, he said it will cut Russia's supply lines to its East German troops.

FEDERAL JUDGE SENTENCES TWO ON MANN ACT

COUNCIL BLUFFS (AP)—Walter M. Jenkins, 41, Humboldt, Neb., and James E. Goff, 24, Des Moines, Wednesday were sentenced by Federal Judge John W. Delehant of Lincoln to three years in prison for violation of the Mann Act.

Jenkins, formerly of Council Bluffs, was convicted last Friday to three counts of illegal transportation of an Indian woman from Council Bluffs to Omaha for immoral purposes and one count of conspiracy. Goff was convicted of two counts of illegal transportation and one of conspiracy.

The two are completing Iowa prison terms, Goff on a state charge of soliciting for prostitution and Jenkins on charges of operating a house of ill fame and boot-legging. Both of these convictions have been appealed to the Iowa Supreme Court.

Judge Delehant is hearing Iowa cases because of the illness of the judge there.

Polio Shots Urged For 3-Month-Olds

OMAHA (AP) — A University of Michigan professor said Wednesday that babies of three months should receive a polio shot at the same time they get their combined injections for diptheria, tetanus and whooping cough.

Dr. James L. Wilson, professor of pediatrics, told the Mid-West Clinical Society that research is underway to determine if the polio vaccine can be combined with the other three serums into one shot.

Ike Says Russ Assured U.S. Not After East Allies

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said Wednesday night "there is the dawning of a new day" in eastern Europe.

This was his appraisal, in his radio-TV speech, of the revolts in Hungary and Poland against Soviet domination.

Eisenhower made the flat statement in delivering his speech, substituting it for language contained in a prepared-in-advance text. The earlier text had said, more restrainedly: "There seems to appear the dawn of a new day."

'Friends'

While acclaiming the Hungarian and Polish revolts, Eisenhower offered public reassurance to Russia that the United States does not seek "military allies" in Eastern Europe.

He said "we see these people as friends, and we wish simply that they be friends who are free."

He affirmed United States "readiness" to give economic assistance to the "new and independent governments" of Poland and Hungary.

He announced that in fact the American government has already "been in contact with the new government of Poland on this matter."

NU Young Republican Club Hits Snag Just Before Election Time Arrives

The University of Nebraska Young Republican organization is faced with limited action on the eve of the approaching national election because of legal snags.

The GOP group, ordered to stop its recruiting and collecting of membership fees, began action Wednesday to become legally recognized as a campus organization The Student Council judiciary committee reported the GOP club was "operating without legal recognition" and "soliciting money without proper University supervision."

Lou Schultz, president of the Young Republican group, said that administration officials had given permission for the group to hold a meeting Thursday evening, but that no new members could be added until Council and administrative sanction was given.

J. Philip Colbert, dean of student affairs, commented that the GOP group had "no doubt been acting in good faith" in recruiting members, and pointed out that the Young Republican group of four years ago had been automatically classified as defunct because of inactivity.

To comply with university rules governing student clubs, the group must clarify its finances and receive approval of its constitution from a Student Council committee, the entire Student Council, and a Faculty sub-committee on Student Organizations.

Schultz reported that the club has submitted a proposed constitution to the Council committee.

"This situation will not interfere with our plans," the club president said.

FEDERAL JUDGE SENTENCES TWO ON MANN ACT

COUNCIL BLUFFS (AP)—Walter M. Jenkins, 41, Humboldt, Neb., and James E. Goff, 24, Des Moines, Wednesday were sentenced by Federal Judge John W. Delehant of Lincoln to three years in prison for violation of the Mann Act.

Jenkins, formerly of Council Bluffs, was convicted last Friday to three counts of illegal transportation of an Indian woman from Council Bluffs to Omaha for immoral purposes and one count of conspiracy. Goff was convicted of two counts of illegal transportation and one of conspiracy.

The two are completing Iowa prison terms, Goff on a state charge of soliciting for prostitution and Jenkins on charges of operating a house of ill fame and boot-legging. Both of these convictions have been appealed to the Iowa Supreme Court.

Judge Delehant is hearing Iowa cases because of the illness of the judge there.

Polio Shots Urged For 3-Month-Olds

OMAHA (AP) — A University of Michigan professor said Wednesday that babies of three months should receive a polio shot at the same time they get their combined injections for diptheria, tetanus and whooping cough.

Dr. James L. Wilson, professor of pediatrics, told the Mid-West Clinical Society that research is underway to determine if the polio vaccine can be combined with the other three serums into one shot.

Ike Says Russ Assured U.S. Not After East Allies

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said Wednesday night "there is the dawning of a new day" in eastern Europe.

This was his appraisal, in his radio-TV speech, of the revolts in Hungary and Poland against Soviet domination.

Eisenhower made the flat statement in delivering his speech, substituting it for language contained in a prepared-in-advance text. The earlier text had said, more restrainedly: "There seems to appear the dawn of a new day."

'Friends'

While acclaiming the Hungarian and Polish revolts, Eisenhower offered public reassurance to Russia that the United States does not seek "military allies" in Eastern Europe.

He said "we see these people as friends, and we wish simply that they be friends who are free."

He affirmed United States "readiness" to give economic assistance to the "new and independent governments" of Poland and Hungary.

He announced that in fact the American government has already "been in contact with the new government of Poland on this matter."

NU Young Republican Club Hits Snag Just Before Election Time Arrives

The University of Nebraska Young Republican organization is faced with limited action on the eve of the approaching national election because of legal snags.

The GOP group, ordered to stop its recruiting and collecting of membership fees, began action Wednesday to become legally recognized as a campus organization. The Student Council judiciary committee reported the GOP club was "operating without legal recognition" and "soliciting money without proper University supervision."

Lou Schultz, president of the Young Republican group, said that administration officials had given permission for the group to hold a meeting Thursday evening, but that no new members could be added until Council and administrative sanction was given.

J. Philip Colbert, dean of student affairs, commented that the GOP group had "no doubt been acting in good faith" in recruiting members, and pointed out that the Young Republican group of four years ago had been automatically classified as defunct because of inactivity.

To comply with university rules governing student clubs, the group must clarify its finances and receive approval of its constitution from a Student Council committee, the entire Student Council, and a Faculty sub-committee on Student Organizations.

Schultz reported that the club has submitted a proposed constitution to the Council committee.

"This situation will not interfere with our plans," the club president said.

US Set To Supply Western Europe Oil

WASHINGTON (INS) — Government officials said Wednesday plans are formed to supply Western Europe with oil if the Suez Canal is closed — and to ask Congress for economic controls if the U.S. becomes involved in war.

However, they added that there is nothing on the horizon now to indicate U. S. involvement. They said the only possibile eventuality at this time is that the oil program will swing into action, and this depends on developments.

Right now, government leaders are simply watching the situation, and there will be no action of any kind unless the White House and the State Department give the green light. That goes for the oil program as well as any other move.

Officials declared that plans were buttoned up at a meeting Tuesday to supply Western Europe with about 500,000 barrels a day of vitally needed oil if the Suez Canal is closed to shipping.

They said the Middle East emergency committee, created a few weeks ago and consisting of U. S. oil company representatives, has made plans for shipping this oil across the Atlantic. This was the big problem in providing the oil, since stepping up production presented no great difficulty.

The plan involves the pooling of tankers and the diversion of tankers from some present operations.

U. S. oil production is to be stepped up from 7,100,000 to 7,900,000 barrels a day under the plan. Of the added 800,000 barrels of daily production, 500,000 would go to Western Europe and 300,000 to the U. S. east coast to replace an equal amount of Middle East oil now reaching that area.

No Rationing

Officials declared emphatically that the closing of the Suez Canal would not result in gasoline rationing in the U.S., although Western European consumption probably would have to be cut 20 per cent. That, they said, might necessitate rationing in some of the countries affected.

As for controls in the U.S., they said this would necessitate action by Congress. That would mean a special session to pass legislation dealing with an emergency situation.

However, officials do not see the need for controls unless the U.S. should become involved in a conflict of considerable proportions, such as the Korean War. Assurances have been given by the Eisenhower administration leaders that the U.S. will not become involved.

US Set To Supply Western Europe Oil

WASHINGTON (INS) — Government officials said Wednesday plans are formed to supply Western Europe with oil if the Suez Canal is closed — and to ask Congress for economic controls if the U.S. becomes involved in war.

However, they added that there is nothing on the horizon now to indicate U. S. involvement. They said the only possibile eventuality at this time is that the oil program will swing into action, and this depends on developments.

Right now, government leaders are simply watching the situation, and there will be no action of any kind unless the White House and the State Department give the green light. That goes for the oil program as well as any other move.

Officials declared that plans were buttoned up at a meeting Tuesday to supply Western Europe with about 500,000 barrels a day of vitally needed oil if the Suez Canal is closed to shipping.

They said the Middle East emergency committee, created a few weeks ago and consisting of U. S. oil company representatives, has made plans for shipping this oil across the Atlantic. This was the big problem in providing the oil, since stepping up production presented no great difficulty.

The plan involves the pooling of tankers and the diversion of tankers from some present operations.

U. S. oil production is to be stepped up from 7,100,000 to 7,900,000 barrels a day under the plan. Of the added 800,000 barrels of daily production, 500,000 would go to Western Europe and 300,000 to the U. S. east coast to replace an equal amount of Middle East oil now reaching that area.

No Rationing

Officials declared emphatically that the closing of the Suez Canal would not result in gasoline rationing in the U.S., although Western European consumption probably would have to be cut 20 per cent. That, they said, might necessitate rationing in some of the countries affected.

As for controls in the U.S., they said this would necessitate action by Congress. That would mean a special session to pass legislation dealing with an emergency situation.

However, officials do not see the need for controls unless the U.S. should become involved in a conflict of considerable proportions, such as the Korean War. Assurances have been given by the Eisenhower administration leaders that the U.S. will not become involved.

Ike Goes On Stump Tonight

. . . In Philadelphia

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower will resume his campaigning Thursday night with a major speech in Philadelphia.

James C. Hagerty, the President's press secretary, said the address would be "a serious discussion" of the American position in the Middle East crisis and this country's "role of responsibility in the world today."

Asked by reporters whether the Philadelphia address will be political in nature, Hagerty shot back:

"It's on a political platform—certainly."

One More Trip

Hagerty also disclosed Eisenhower is considering making one other campaign trip before the election next Tuesday—a journey to Boston. There have been persistent reports that the President would wind up his bid for re-election with a Boston speech Monday night.

The Philadelphia speech was set up about a week ago, but it was uncertain whether Eisenhower would leave the White House in view of the events that began with Israel's invasion of Egypt.

The President was to have made a flying trip through the Southwest Wednesday, with speeches at Dallas, Oklahoma City and Memphis, but this tour was canceled.

In Philadelphia the President will appear at a Republican rally. His speech will be broadcast and televised on NBC at 8:30 p.m. CST.

'BET TAX WOULD BENEFIT MORE THAN TON-MILE'

. . . Sorrell Says

HEBRON, Neb. (AP)— Democratic Gubernatorial nominee Frank Sorrell said Wednesday taxing pari-mutuel betting in Nebraska would benefit Nebraskans more than a ton-mile tax.

Sorrell opposes the proposed ton-mile tax but recommends a 6 per cent tax on horse betting, which he said would net $1,650,000 per year in taxes and would be "all velvet" because there would be no administrative costs for collecting the tax through the established racing commission.

"There is no provision in the ton-mile amendment for collecting the tax, so a new bureau would have to be set up," Sorrell said.

Sorrell said former Gov. Crosby estimates the ton-mile tax would bring about $8 million in taxes, of which $2,500,000 would go to cities and counties, the balance to the state highway department.

"I figure the cost of the collection at 25 per cent," Sorrell said. "But this would be only one factor. Many trucks would bypass Nebraska to avoid paying the tax."

Joint U.S.-India Move Expected Against Fighting

WASHINGTON (AP)—Indian sources said they expect a joint U.S.-Indian move will develop shortly in efforts to halt hostilities in the Middle East.

A communication from Prime Minister Nehru to President Eisenhower along this line is due from New Delhi, the sources added.

Nehru was said to feel that even "at this last hour" aggression should be halted and foreign troops withdrawn from Egyptian territory.

Deep Snow Strands Hunters

. . . In Idaho

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — The second October storm in a week spread a deep blanket of snow across mountain areas of the intermountain region Wednesday, stranding more than a score of hunters.

In most cases the hunters were believed well-equipped but could suffer from hunger in the event of a prolonged storm.

Marv Hornback, owner-operator of a flying strip 80 air miles northeast of Boise, said snow Wednesday was "belly-deep on a horse."

Operators of flying services which carry hunters into the primitive central Idaho area said at least 25 men had been flown in this week. Landing strips must be cleared of snow before they can be brought out again.

Ike Goes On Stump Tonight

. . . In Philadelphia

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower will resume his campaigning Thursday night with a major speech in Philadelphia.

James C. Hagerty, the President's press secretary, said the address would be "a serious discussion" of the American position in the Middle East crisis and this country's "role of responsibility in the world today."

Asked by reporters whether the Philadelphia address will be political in nature, Hagerty shot back:

"It's on a political platform—certainly."

One More Trip

Hagerty also disclosed Eisenhower is considering making one other campaign trip before the election next Tuesday—a journey to Boston. There have been persistent reports that the President would wind up his bid for re-election with a Boston speech Monday night.

The Philadelphia speech was set up about a week ago, but it was uncertain whether Eisenhower would leave the White House in view of the events that began with Israel's invasion of Egypt.

The President was to have made a flying trip through the Southwest Wednesday, with speeches at Dallas, Oklahoma City and Memphis, but this tour was canceled.

In Philadelphia the President will appear at a Republican rally. His speech will be broadcast and televised on NBC at 8:30 p.m. CST.

'BET TAX WOULD BENEFIT MORE THAN TON-MILE'

. . . Sorrell Says

HEBRON, Neb. (AP)— Democratic Gubernatorial nominee Frank Sorrell said Wednesday taxing pari-mutuel betting in Nebraska would benefit Nebraskans more than a ton-mile tax.

Sorrell opposes the proposed ton-mile tax but recommends a 6 per cent tax on horse betting, which he said would net $1,650,000 per year in taxes and would be "all velvet" because there would be no administrative costs for collecting the tax through the established racing commission.

"There is no provision in the ton-mile amendment for collecting the tax, so a new bureau would have to be set up," Sorrell said.

Sorrell said former Gov. Crosby estimates the ton-mile tax would bring about $3 million in taxes, of which $2,500,000 would go to cities and counties, the balance to the state highway department.

"I figure the cost of the collection at 25 per cent," Sorrell said. "But this would be only one factor. Many trucks would bypass Nebraska to avoid paying the tax."

Joint U.S.-India Move Expected Against Fighting

WASHINGTON (AP)—Indian sources said they expect a joint U.S.-Indian move will develop shortly in efforts to halt hostilities in the Middle East.

A communication from Prime Minister Nehru to President Eisenhower along this line is due from New Delhi, the sources added.

Nehru was said to feel that even "at this last hour" aggression should be halted and foreign troops withdrawn from Egyptian territory.

Deep Snow Strands Hunters

. . . In Idaho

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — The second October storm in a week spread a deep blanket of snow across mountain areas of the intermountain region Wednesday, stranding more than a score of hunters.

In most cases the hunters were believed well-equipped but could suffer from hunger in the event of a prolonged storm.

Marv Hornback, owner-operator of a flying strip 30 air miles northeast of Boise, said snow Wednesday was "belly-deep on a horse."

Operators of flying services which carry hunters into the primitive central Idaho area said at least 25 men had been flown in this week. Landing strips must be cleared of snow before they can be brought out again.

Wild Buying Prompted By Egypt Crisis

CHICAGO (AP) — Anglo-French bombing of military targets in Egypt touched off a wild buying splurge in grains on the Board of Trade Wednesday.

All grains closed with substantial gains, although somewhat below their best levels. All wheat and rye futures smashed out new seasonal highs, as did several oats and soybean futures.

Wheat closed 2¼-3¼ higher, corn 1⅜-2⅛ higher, oats ⅜-1⅛ higher, rye 2 to 3⅛ higher, soybeans 3½-5¼ higher and lard unchanged to 20 cents a hundred pound higher.

At the opening prices were up in all pits, as was the case Tuesday. Immediately after the opening the market dipped, again following the pattern of the previous session. Some futures slipped under the previous close but quickly rallied.

From that point on the market maintained a firm tone in more or less routine dealings—until news of the Anglo-French bombardment arrived. That touched off a wild scramble and prices boomed in very active dealings.

At the peak soybeans had gains extending to 7 cents, wheat to 4¼ cents and rye to 4 cents. An expansion in selling in the last few minutes shaved the extreme advances.

Much of the buying apparently came from those who had sold grains short and were unnerved by the Middle East developments, particularly over the possibility the fighting would become more widespread.

There has been no increase in export demand for any cereals thus far as a result of the Middle East uproar, and no indication there will be. Nevertheless, wars create an inflationary psychology, a fact which scared the shorts.

BOND MARKET

NEW YORK (AP) — Corporate convertibles took a beating in a generally lower bond market Wednesday as investors reacted to news of spreading hostilities in the Middle East. Losses among convertibles ranged out to almost $3.

U.S. government bonds were firm in quiet transactions over-the-counter. Treasury obligations registered small gains during the morning but slipped back during late afternoon.

Corporate trading volume advanced to $3,540,000 par value from $3,460,000 Tuesday.

Stocks Break On News Of Bombing

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market broke sharply in heavy trading Wednesday on news of the Egyptian conflict but recouped part of its losses in quiet dealings before the close.

Prime Minister Eden's statement that Britain must protect her Middle East interests with or without prior agreement of the United States was what brought the heaviest selling burst. But the selloff lasted only half an hour.

When news came of actual bombing of Egypt later in the session prices worsened but turnover was calm. Then followed a gradual betterment of prices which, in general, cut the exisiting range of losses which ran $1 to $3 or more to a spread of around $1 to $2.

Brokers were more encouraged than otherwise that the market could absorb such highly dangerous international news without going into a tailspin. They noted that the market was in an oversold condition as this week began and was at a support level where offers to sell could be expected to be taken readily.

The Associated Press average fell $2.30 to $176.70 with the industrials down $3.50, the rails down $2.50 and the utilities down 40 cents.

The fall in the AP average represented an estimated drop of around $2,800,000,000 in the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

The break was the sharpest since Oct. 1 when the market almost hit its lowest point of the year in climactic selling of a technical nature following a long series of declines.

Volume totaled 2,280,000 shares, not much more than the year's daily average, compared with 1,830,000 Tuesday.

The American Stock Exchange was lower on volume of 830,000 shares compared with 690,000 Tuesday.

Wild Buying Prompted By Egypt Crisis

CHICAGO (AP) — Anglo-French bombing of military targets in Egypt touched off a wild buying splurge in grains on the Board of Trade Wednesday.

All grains closed with substantial gains, although somewhat below their best levels. All wheat and rye futures smashed out new seasonal highs, as did several oats and soybean futures.

Wheat closed 2¼-3¼ higher, corn 1¾ higher, oats 1¾-1⅞ higher, rye 1¾-2¾ higher and soybeans 10-20¾ higher and unchanged to 20 cents a hundred pounds higher.

At the opening prices were up in all cases as the close Tuesday. Immediately after the opening the market dipped again in a pattern of the previous session. Small lots shipped under the pressure of the moment, but quickly rallied.

From that point on the market maintained a firm tone in more or less active trading—until news of the Anglo-French bombardment flashed. Then prices broke off in wild scramble, and prices went up in equally active fashion.

Soybeans led the grains to extend their rise when it became evident that Egypt's invasion by Israel in the Sinai area within minutes shifted the entire war picture.

Much of the buying apparently came from shorts who had sold grains short and were forced by the Middle East developments, particularly over the possibilities Russia would become more involved.

There has been no increase in export demand for grains thus far as a result of the Middle East situation and no indication of such a development, a fact that scared the shorts.

Estes Says GOP Anti-Co-Op; Cites Rankin's Nebraska Activities

By EDMUND LE BRETON

BAY CITY, Mich. (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver said Wednesday co-operatives will get "the Socialist smear" and be put on "the chopping block" if the Republican administration is returned to office.

Kefauver's prepared talk was aimed at farm and small - town Michigan voters interested in marketing and electrical co-ops. It clamaxed a hard day's campaigning among both farm and industrial groups for Michigan's vital 20 electoral votes.

Kefauver said Gerald D. Morgan, "currently special counsel to the President with offices in the White House," has been a registered lobbyist for what the Democratic vice-presidential candidate called an "anti - co - operative group." He identified it as the National Tax Equality Assn.

Kefauver said U.S. Solicitor Gen. J. Lee Rankin, formerly was secretary-treasurer of the Nebraska Tax Equality Committee.

The association, Kefauver said, "has recently revived its drive to levy stiff taxes against co-operatives. They undoubtedly believe the atmosphere and conditions in Washington are right for soaking the co-ops."

Kefauver said Secretary of Agriculture Benson has called co-operative leaders Socialists. He said that if President Eisenhower is re-elected, "the co-operatives are going to get the Socialist smear and their heads will be put on the chopping block for big business friends of the administration just as TVA and REA are being hacked at for the administration's power trust cronies."

Middle East

Kefauver started his swing through Michigan by telling a Battle Creek crowd estimated by police at 500 to 600 he does not think there would be war in the Middle East if the State Department had followed "a policy of looking after the welfare of people" instead of what he termed Secretary of State Dulles' "zig-zag policy."

He said the Democratic administration would put in charge of foreign affairs "people who think in terms of what is right and moral and of the Golden Rule and not just in terms of oil and power politics and massive retaliation and the H-bomb."

Pork Purchase

Kefauver denounced what he called "the complete political nature of Tuesday's announcement of a federal pork purchase program."

And he said farm prices have dropped for the fourth successive month.

Kefauver donned a green and white polka dot bow tie for a tour of automotive plants to shake hands with workmen changing shifts. The tie is the trademark of Michigan's Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams. Williams sent word, however, that earlier campaign committments kept him from joining Kefauver in person.

An interested spectator at Nebraska Wesleyan University's dormitory consecration services Friday will be Lincolnite Walter C. Smith (right) who is viewing a map of the campus with Chancellor A. The association, Kefauver said, "has recently revived its drive to levy stiff taxes against co-operatives They undoubtedly believe the atmosphere and conditions in Washington are right for soaking the co-ops."

Kefauver said Secretary of Agriculture Benson has called co-operative leaders Socialists. He said that if President Eisenhower is re-elected, "the co-operatives are going to get the Socialist smear and their heads will be put on the chopping block for big business friends of the administration just as TVA and REA are being hacked at for the administration's power trust cronies."

Middle East

Kefauver started his swing through Michigan by telling a Battle Creek crowd estimated by police at 500 to 600 he does not think there would be war in the Middle East if the State Department had followed "a policy of looking after the welfare of people" instead of what he termed Secretary of State Dulles' "zig-zag policy."

He said the Democratic administration would put in charge of foreign affairs "people who think in terms of what is right and moral and of the Golden Rule and not just in terms of oil and power politics and massive retaliation and the H-bomb."

Pork Purchase

Kefauver denounced what he called "the complete political nature of Tuesday's announcement of a federal pork purchase program."

And he said farm prices have dropped for the fourth successive month.

Kefauver donned a green and white polka dot bow tie for a tour of automotive plants to shake hands with workmen changing shifts. The tie is the trademark of Michigan's Democratic Gov. G Mennen Williams. Williams sent word, however, that earlier campaign committments kept him from joining Kefauver in person.

Veteran Of Wesleyan Dedications

An interested spectator at Nebraska Wesleyan University's dormitory consecration services Friday will be Lincolnite Walter C. Smith (right) who is viewing a map of the campus with Chancellor A. Leland Forrest. Smith, an 85-year-old alumnus, has attended services for every building on the campus except Old Main. "I've known Wesleyan for all but three of its years," Smith remarked, "and it seems to me Wesleyan is in for its greatest period of growth and progress."
